Maud's story

Maud visited Kenya in May 2024, and interviewed students and alumni.

(see Ruth's and Leah's stories on the next page)

'Visiting the slums feels like a sensory overload. Never ending piles of temporary shacks cloud the horizon. The pungent smell from hundreds of thousands living in the most dire circumstances is overwhelming. The sound of motorbikes speeding through narrow paths, interrupting the conversations of casual labourers lined up doing laundry, floods your ears. Your heart breaks seeing young children collecting rubbish, their lack of school uniform indicating lack of money and education.'

The Giraffe Project has succeeded in creating a family amongst the chaos of the slums. Founded on kindness and transparency, the opportunity the Giraffe Project offers students is life changing. It was overwhelming hearing the gratitude and love alumni students have for the project and all those involved. More than providing financial support to students, the Project looks out for the students in every aspect of their lives. Many I spoke to admitted that they could not imagine where they would be today without this support. They said that their sponsorship not only gave them an education, but an emotional support system, a sense of belonging, a caring community and a sense of hope that there was a bright future for them.'

Some of Maud's interviews

Enna High School 2007-2010 Kenyan Medical Training College Diploma in Physiotherapy, 2011-2015

Ruth was 14 when she had to drop out of school, and she took a job as a house girl. The sponsorship enabled her to finish school and go on to college to qualify as a Physiotherapist. She then worked and funded herself through a degree. She describes Giraffe Project as "the most wonderful thing that has ever happened" and she named her son after her sponsor.

Enna High School 2007-2010 Unity College: 2011-2015 Diploma in Tours and Travel

Leah After qualifying, Leah worked and put herself through a second diploma in catering. Leah is married with one daughter, and founded 'Neurokids Warriors', an organisation to support children with difficulties. To sponsor is to give 'a candle of hope' to a child, she says. 'Giraffe Project taught me the true meaning of community'.

The Green Pastures Story

Small beginnings ....

We met Japheth and Margaret and visited their school in 2005. There were about 250 students, but many could not pay, and many went hungry at lunch. A lunch programme was initially funded by children at St John's International School in Belgium, who also donated a lot of T-shirts...

Giraffe has partnered with Green Pastures for clean water, textbooks, a library, computers, classrooms and a science lab. The latest project is a 4-storey block which houses the new Junior Secondary section. Over 500 students have been at the school on sponsorship. Today there are over 800 students in the school.

Giraffe Project owned and managed the Giraffe Education Centre from 2012 to 2020. We then merged with ByGrace High School. By 2023, improvements and subsidies in the government secondary schools and rising costs in the private sector lead us to the decision to place our students in government schools. So far this has been successful, but we continue to monitor it.

The Tumaini Story

When we first visited Tumaini Primary School in 2005 there were 45 students and 3 volunteer teachers meeting in a temporary structure with no books and no lunches.

Between 2009 and 2012 the 4-storey Giraffe-funded building pictured below was built and equipped with classrooms, offices, computers and a library. Since 2005, over 400 Tumaini students have benefitted from sponsorship. Today there are over 400 students in the school.

And the next 20 years?

Around the huge city rubbish dump lies the vast slum of Dandora, toxic and dangerous, especially for young girls. When Ashley finished primary school, she had no hope of continuing her education, so she joined her mother collecting plastic waste to sell. Now Ashley is one of the girls pictured below, sponsored at boarding school and working hard to fulfil her dreams.

Please spread the word! We are looking for a new generation of Giraffe sponsors and supporters who will rescue more of these young people and give them a chance to build their future.

Students currently sponsored at Enaiposha Girls High School.
Most of these girls come from Dandora slum.
