CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S INTRODUCTION

Dear candidate,

I am delighted that you are considering applying for the role of Head of Institutional Strengthening with Education.org.

Operational since 2020, we are a young, independent non-profit Foundation whose sole purpose is to make existing evidence easier for education leaders to access and use. Supported by a visionary co-investor collective, we're already seeing clear and concrete results from governments using our evidence and tools.

Our new 'Strategy 2023-2028 – Ready for Lift Off!' sets out ambitious targets for in the next phase of our growth, in which we aim to build on the lessons we have learnt, further systematise our work, and invest in scaling up our activities to expand our impact. This means we need to expand our existing, dynamic team who are working together but based in Europe, Africa and North America. Our Strategic Goal 2 aims to 'Catalyse a transformation in the way education leaders work with evidence', which makes Education.org's institutional strengthening work central to its impact and usefulness for policymakers within Ministries of Education and national and international education organisations.

Maturing our institutional strengthening and individual capacity-building approaches and implementation effectiveness will therefore be a cornerstone of Education.org's progress. We are growing partnerships with Ministries of Education and international organisations to elevate evidence in decision making. The successful candidate will find this challenge exciting and is expected to bring passion, dedication, creativity, and innovation to this role. I hope you will want to join us on what promises to be a stimulating and deeply satisfying journey that will make a difference to the educational outcomes and life chances of millions of children. If this opportunity appeals to you, I very much look forward to hearing from you!

Improving evidence

Transforming lives

Our Mission is: ‘To improve the learning of every child and young person by helping leaders access and use the best evidence to guide their national policies and plans’.

We believe it is not a lack of new evidence, but the inability to use what we know, that lies at the heart of the global education crisis.

Our novel Education Evidence Pathway bridges this ‘knowing-doing’ gap, by synthesising existing research and distilling actionable insights for leaders.

EDUCATION.ORG'S RESPONSE TO THE CHALLENGE

We've developed and tested a novel approach – our 'Education Evidence Pathway' creates great value for leaders from existing, unused evidence.

Our prototypes have earned the validation of education decision-makers and media leaders worldwide.

Our independent, unbiased analysis has influenced education policies in an estimated 90 countries and international organisations.

Based in Africa, Europe & North America, our growing team has deep expertise in education policy, evidence synthesis, knowledge translation, and executive decision making.

We've achieved tangible results with our pioneer country partners in Kenya & Sierra Leone and now plan to expand our work to many more countries.

Despite numerous support activities offered by other organisations, Education.org receives consistently positive feedback from leaders that our work distinctively meets a critical need.

EDUCATION.ORG'S RESPONSE TO THE CHALLENGE

Some of our publications and achievements so far include:

- Our White Paper on 'Calling for an Education Evidence Bridge' in September 2021
- Our first evidence synthesis and accompanying High-Level Policy Brief on Accelerated Evidence Programmes in 2022.
- We garnered widespread international media attention for the Synthesis and Brief across the world
- We launched our International Working Group in Nairobi, Kenya, in June 2023 dedicated to developing new guidance on how researchers and policy-makers can classify, identify and appraise evidence that is usually ignored or under-used, particularly that generated in Low- and Middle-Income Countries.
- We published our new Strategy 2023-2028, setting out our ambitious organisational goals for the next five years in July 2023.

HOW OUR 'EDUCATION EVIDENCE PATHWAY' WORKS

Source widely: We work with education leaders to define their priorities, then source the most relevant evidence globally, including locally-generated, previously-underused & unpublished 'grey' literature.

Synthesise rigorously: Create a coherent picture from the mass of evidence and findings, appraising sources for quality, relevance & context, distilling key conclusions.

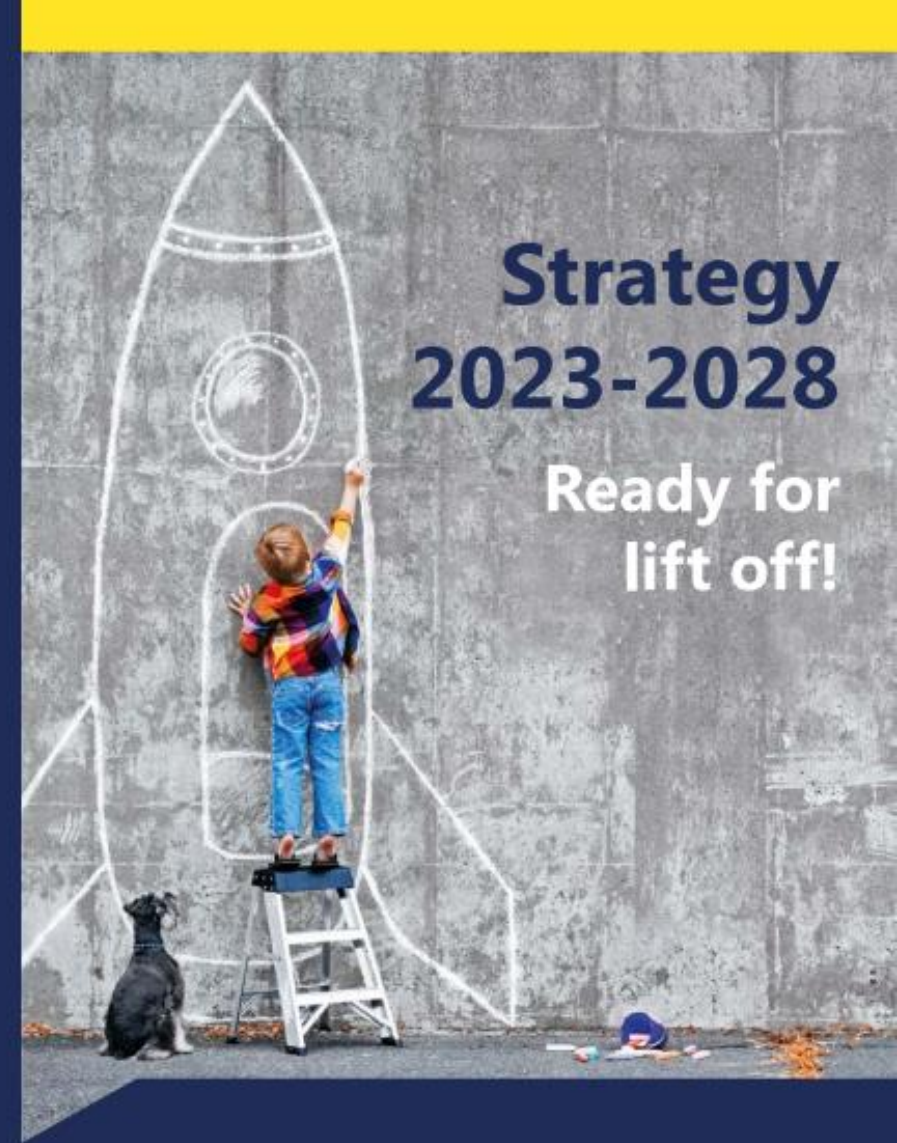

Generate insights: Translate findings into plain-language actionable insights for leaders to use in national, regional and global education policies, plans and investments.

Enable uptake: Share guidance with decision makers, including in-person at ministerial level. Support governments to strengthen professional skills and institutional systems, ensuring effective, sustainable evidence use.

WHAT'S NEXT: EDUCATION.ORG'S NEW STRATEGY

- In our first three years, we have validated our concept and approaches and achieved concrete impact.
- We want to continue to be a 'constructive disruptor', shaking up the status quo for the world's children by offering innovative approaches and solutions, and living up to our Guiding Principles of Independence, Transparency, Collaboration, Inclusion, Agility and Impact Focus.
- In the next three years, we aim to build on the lessons we have learnt, further systematise our work, and invest in scaling up our activities and impact.
- We have established a new Strategy 2023-2028, with three Strategic Goals to guide our growth and focus our impact.

OUR STRATEGY FOCUSES ON THREE AMBITIOUS GOALS

PHASE 1

Proof of Concept &
Constructive Disruption

2020- 2023

PHASE 2: JULY 2023 - 2026

Transformative Movement & Pioneering Culture

By pioneering and promoting a new method specifically for leaders shaping decisions about education systems around the world; and providing syntheses and policy papers addressing the most important issues they face.

Through deep partnerships and targeted professional development within Ministries of Education, we will foster stronger institutional commitment and capacity to put evidence at the centre of decision making.

Goal 3: Lead a Global Movement to Build an Education Knowledge Bridge

By forging a network of individuals and partnering with organisations who share our commitment to evidence-informed policymaking.
