Dancers come dressed to move in either dance attire, sweats or T-shirt and shorts.

Only carried in footwear may be worn on the dance floor: ballet shoes or tennis shoes.

Your child will be attending this active, stimulating class by themselves. Each class may include musical interpretation, gross motor skill exploration, problem solving, and cognitive awareness such as color or body part identification, tumbling for flexibility and upper body strength and the use of many imaginative props.

Parents will be invited into the last ten minutes of the last class each session.
