CELEBRATING WOMEN - PAST, PRESENT, FUTURE

Women in Longview invite your organization to participate in the Women in Longview Day, Thursday, March 26, 2020, at the Holiday Inn in Longview. This celebration of women will provide opportunities to learn, network, shop, fellowship and be inspired. The event includes vendors, lunch, keynote speaker and scholarship presentations to local high school women and to an adult woman pursuing their dreams of higher education.

This year we will have a local vocalist, Amanda Thompson, presenting a special narrative to highlight the women of Longview from the past, present and highlight our future. This year's theme is Celebrating Women Past, Present, Future. We are sure you don't want to miss this opportunity to hear and be enlightened with the information and presentations provided!

Event organizers expect approximately four hundred participants of diverse ages, backgrounds and interests to attend March 26th "Women in Longview Day." Many are career-oriented women in fields such as education, counseling, sales, medicine, administration, communication and finance. Others are homemakers, stay-at-home moms and retirees. We welcome all to attend the luncheon, as well as the WILD Marketplace. We promise an event worthy of everyone's support and participation. Although seating is not assigned, we are happy to reserve a table for each block of eight tickets purchased. Tickets purchased in groups less than eight will find open seating for their dining pleasure.

Women in Longview Day offers a variety of marketing and sponsorship opportunities. The WILD Marketplace will be open to shoppers from 9:00 until 11:00. The vendor fee is $150 for commercial organizations and $100 for non-profit organizations. Several levels of sponsorship are available for your consideration. Enclosed you will find forms to designate your area of interest: Table Sponsorship, Door Prize Donor and Scholarship Application and Vendor Information.

For sponsorship contact Cynthia Gates at cmgates53@gmail.com. We also invite you to visit our website: www.womeninlongview.org or "Like" us on Facebook.

We look forward to hearing from you!

Sincerely,
