

Did you know

Google partners with internet archive's, Wayback Machine. 🕵️

The Wayback Machine provides a glimpse into how webpages
appeared in the past,
allowing us to look back at the history of the internet. 🧭

“As the web ages, countless URLs lead to digital ghosts. Enter the Wayback Machine: a digital time capsule
preserving our internet history. Now, it's just a click away from Google search results.”

— Mark Graham, Director, Wayback Machine 📄

This new update will be integrated into Google Search,
appearing as a 'see previous versions'. 📖

How it works

- 1. Conduct a search on Google as usual
- 2. Click on the three dots next to a search result
- 3. In the “About this Result” panel, select “More About This Page”
- 4. Click the link to view the archived page on the Wayback Machine

Not all websites will have links to archived pages. Links won't appear if:

- The rights holder has opted out of archiving
- The webpage violates content policies

Imagine Better.
