Travel ID

Federal Travel ID deadline is less than a year away

Beginning May 3, 2023, you will need a federally-compliant credential -- like the Arizona Travel ID -- to get past TSA checkpoints at airports for domestic flights. Without the Arizona Travel ID or other form of federally-compliant identification such as a valid U.S. Passport, fliers risk missing an airline flight because the non-travel driver license will not be accepted at TSA checkpoints.

This credential is distinguished by a gold star in the upper right corner and is available to Arizona residents as a driver license or identification card.

You can walk-in to an office for this service, but we suggest scheduling an appointment and that can be done online at azmvdnow.gov. Even if you haven't activated your AZ MVD NOW account, you can still schedule a Travel ID appointment.

Because the Arizona Travel ID is compliant with the federal standards, you will need to provide extra documentation. This includes:

- Proof of identity: a birth certificate or US passport
- Social Security Number: just the number, not the card
- Two documents proving Arizona residency: rental or bank statements, credit card or cell phone bills in your name with your current Arizona address, etc.
- More information, and a full list of qualifying documents are available at azdot.gov/TravelID

Number of AZ MVD Now accounts now exceeds 3 million

More than 3 million Arizonans have discovered that AZ MVD Now is the safest, fastest and most convenient way to complete services with the Arizona Department of Transportation Motor Vehicle Division.

Since launching in April 2020, more than 3 million Arizonans have activated their free

Arizona ID in Apple Wallet

We're excited to be the first state to allow drivers to add their license or state ID card to Apple Wallet. The choice may ease the sometimes arduous nature of getting onto a flight. This puts our residents at the leading edge of convenient, private and secure technology.

Using this feature in Apple Wallet is voluntary. If anyone prefers to use a physical credential at airport security, they may.

Once added to Apple Wallet, Arizona residents can present their driver license or state ID to the Transportation Security Administration at participating airport security checkpoints by simply tapping their device at the identity reader. Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport is the first airport in America where passengers can use this technology. We're proud that this started here and will spread.

Credentials in Apple Wallet are private and secure. Users are able to choose what information they share. Biometric authentication ensures that only the person who added the ID to the device can view or present their information. If a resident loses their device, they can use the "Find My" app to easily lock, locate, or remotely erase it. Apple Wallet data is encrypted and protected against tampering and theft. Security features allow the MVD to securely verify identity.

The Arizona Game and Fish Department (AZGFD) is accepting applications for 2022 hunt permit-tags issued through the draw process for deer, fall turkey, fall javelina, big-horn sheep, fall bison and sandhill crane.

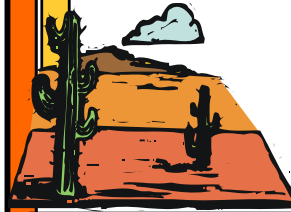

To apply, visit www.azgfd.gov and click on "Apply For The Draw." For an overview of the application service, including license requirements, applying for bonus points and payment information, see Page 26 of the "2022-2023 Arizona Hunting Regulations." Printed versions soon will be available at all license dealers statewide.

HOLLYWOOD WALK OF FAME

James Thurston Nabors (June 12, 1930 – November 30, 2017) was an American actor, singer, and comedian, widely known for his signature character, Gomer Pyle.

Nabors was discovered by Andy Griffith while working at a Santa Monica nightclub, and he later joined The Andy Griffith Show, where he played the good-natured, unsophisticated Gomer Pyle. The character proved so popular that Nabors was given his own successful spin-off show, Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C.

Nabors also became a popular guest on variety shows that showcased his rich baritone singing voice in the 1960s and 1970s, including frequent appearances on the Carol Burnett Show and two specials of his own in 1969 and 1974. He signed a recording contract with Columbia Records in 1965 and subsequently recorded numerous albums and singles, most of them containing romantic ballads. He recorded for Ranwood Records during the late 1970s.

Nabors was also known for singing "Back Home Again in Indiana" before the start of the Indianapolis 500, held annually on the Memorial Day weekend. He sang the unofficial Indiana anthem almost every year from 1972 to 2014, except for occasional absences due to illness or scheduling conflicts.

Nabors was born in Sylacauga, Alabama, on June 12, 1930, to Fred Nabors, a police officer, and Mavis Pearl (née Newman). He had two older sisters, Freddie and Annie Ruth. He sang for his high school and church. Later, he attended the University of Alabama, where he began acting in skits. While at Alabama, he became a member of Delta Tau Delta International Fraternity. After graduating, he moved to New York City, where he worked as a typist for the United Nations; after a year, he moved to Chattanooga, Tennessee, where he got his first job in television as a film cutter at NBC affiliate WRGP-TV (now WRCB-TV) and was also a substitute co-host on the show Holiday for Housewives.

Because of his asthma, Nabors moved to Los Angeles and continued his work as a film cutter, this time for NBC. He also worked at a Santa Monica tavern, The Horn, singing and acting in cabaret theater. His act featured him as a character similar to the later Gomer Pyle. He sang in a baritone and sometimes spoke and sang in his higher-pitched comedic voice. At the club, comedian Bill Dana saw Nabors' act and invited him to appear on The Steve Allen Show. Nabors signed on to the show, but it was soon canceled.

Nabors made his television debut as "Jimmy Nabors" on the Today in Dixie show on WJBF in Augusta, Georgia. He was active in the choir at Grace United Methodist Church in North Augusta.

Andy Griffith discovered Nabors at The Horn and hired him to play a one-shot role of Gomer Pyle, a dimwitted gas station attendant on The Andy Griffith Show (Season 3, episode 13, "The Bank Job"). Nabors' character was based on his act at The Horn, and it became so popular that he was made a regular on the show and was later given the spin-off show Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C., in which his character joined the Marines. The show placed Nabors' bungling, naive character opposite Gunnery Sergeant Vince Carter (Frank Sutton).

Gomer Pyle remained popular despite the concurrence of the Vietnam War because the show avoided war-related themes and instead focused on the character's rural roots and the relationship between Pyle and Carter. Nabors resigned from Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C. after five seasons because he desired to move to something else, "reach for another rung on the ladder, either up or down."

Nabors first revealed his fine singing voice on the February 24, 1964, "The Song Festers" episode of The Andy Griffith Show and on April 8, 1964, on The Danny Kaye Show, and subsequently capitalized on it with numerous successful recordings and live performances. Most of the songs were romantic ballads, though he sang pop, gospel, and country songs as well.

The climactic vocal performance on Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C. came in an episode titled "The Show Must Go On", aired November 3, 1967, in which Pyle sang "The Impossible Dream (The Quest)" in Washington, D.C., at a U.S. Navy relief show, accompanied by the Marine Corps Band. A clip from the show, in which Pyle says the tag-line "Surprise, surprise, surprise!" appears in the Pink Floyd album The Wall in the song "Nobody Home". He hosted a variety show, The Jim Nabors Hour (1969-1971), which featured his Gomer Pyle co-stars Ronnie Schell and Frank Sutton. Despite a poor critical reception, the show was popular and earned an Emmy nomination. After the cancellation of The Jim Nabors Hour, Nabors embarked on a nationwide roadshow.

Typcast from his role as Gomer Pyle, Nabors found his subsequent roles mostly comedic. In the 1970s, he appeared in the children's television programs The Krofft Supershow and Buford and the Galloping Ghost. He appeared in every season premiere of The Carol Burnett Show, because Burnett considered him a "good-luck charm". They were so close that he became the godfather to her daughter Jody.

In a 1973 episode of The Rookies, he played his first dramatic role, a man called on to be an assassin after the death of his sister. Also in 1973, Nabors sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" before Game One of the Major League Baseball World Series. From 1977 to 1978, Nabors hosted another variety show, The Jim Nabors Show. Though the show lasted only one season, Nabors was nominated for a Day-time Emmy Award for Outstanding Host or Hostess in a Talk, Service or Variety Series.

Nabors eventually grew tired of the "prime-time TV grind" and abandoned television jobs for nightclub and concert engagements and a role in a touring production of Man of La Mancha. However, Sid and Marty Krofft persuaded Nabors to star in the Saturday-morning children's television show The Lost Saucer, about two bumbling androids, Fi (Ruth Buzzi) and Fum (Nabors), who travel through time with two children. Nabors, whose character was described as a "Gomer Pyle in outer space", sang in a few of the episodes. Nabors also guest starred on episode 6 of season 1 of The Muppet Show.

In the 1980s, Nabors appeared in three feature-length films starring his friend Burt Reynolds, at the latter's request. In The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas (1982), about a sheriff (Reynolds) who falls in love with a brothel madam (Dolly Parton), Nabors played Deputy Fred, a character similar to Gomer Pyle. Though the film was given mostly unfavorable reviews, Nabors garnered some positive comments for his performance.

In 1983, Nabors played an auto mechanic in Stroker Ace, starring Burt Reynolds who is a NASCAR race car driver who has a contentious relationship with his team owner, a fried-chicken fast-food chain entrepreneur. The film was panned, and Nabors earned a Golden Raspberry Award for his performance. In Reynolds' star-studded Cannonball Run II (1984), about a cross-country car chase, Nabors made a cameo appearance alongside such celebrities as Dom DeLuise, Jackie Chan, Shirley MacLaine, Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra, and Andy Griffith Show co-stars Don Knotts and George Lindsey. Like the two previous Reynolds films Nabors appeared in, Cannonball received mostly negative reviews.

In 1986, Nabors returned to television, reprising his role as Gomer Pyle in the television movie Return to Mayberry, in which the cast of The Andy Griffith Show reunited. Also in 1986, Nabors starred in the half-hour comedy pilot Sylvan in Paradise as the title character, Sylvan Sprayberry, an accident-prone bell captain at a Hawaiian hotel. The series was not picked up by NBC.

For over 40 years, he sang "Back Home Again in Indiana" before the start of the race. After moving to Hawaii from Bel Air, California, with his partner Stan Cadwallader in 1976, he launched a show, The Jim Nabors Polynesian Extravaganza at the Hilton Hawaiian Village, which ran for two years. Nabors eventually experienced "bright-light burnout" and disappeared from the stage, save for an occasional performance. In 1984, after a five-year hiatus, Nabors returned to performing, starring in the "Moulin Rouge" show at the Las Vegas Hilton and other shows in Reno and Las Vegas. In 1982, he made his theatrical debut as Harold Hill in The Music Man with Florence Henderson at the Burt Reynolds Dinner Theatre in Jupiter, Florida.

In 1994, Nabors suffered from a near-fatal case of hepatitis B. According to Nabors, he contracted the disease while traveling in India; he shaved with a straight razor and "whacked his face all up." The disease caused liver failure, and Nabors was given a dim prognosis; however, his friend Carol Burnett made contact with the head of the liver transplant division of University of California, Los Angeles, and gave Nabors the information. Nabors later became involved with the American Liver Foundation as a result of his experience.

Shortly after recovering from his transplant, Nabors embarked on another tour, with stops in Phoenix, St. Louis, and Washington. From 1997 to 2006, Nabors starred in the Burton White-produced A Merry Christmas with Friends and Nabors, a live performance at the Hawaii Theatre Center in Honolulu. The production, featuring local and national artists, ran for 40 performances and was directed by Tom Hansen until Hansen's death in 2006. The final performance run was directed by John Rampage and dedicated to Hansen.

Retirement

From 1972 to 2014, Nabors sang "Back Home Again in Indiana" with the Purdue All-American Marching Band before each Indianapolis 500 race. In March 2014, Nabors announced that the 2014 Indianapolis 500 would be his final appearance, because health issues were limiting his ability to travel. Since his retirement from this role, the singing of "Back Home Again in Indiana" was now done on a rotating basis (as it had been before Nabors became the regular performer), before a permanent replacement was named in Chicago Blackhawks anthem singer Jim Cornelison.

Personal life

Nabors began vacationing in Hawaii in the 1960s, and in 1976, moved from Bel Air, California, to Honolulu, Hawaii. For 25 years, he owned a macadamia plantation on Maui before selling it to the National Tropical Botanical Garden, a conservationist organization, though he still retained farming rights to the land and owned a second home on the property. Nabors also owned a home and spent some summers in Whitefish, Montana, during the 1990s.

On January 15, 2013, Nabors married his partner of 38 years, Stan Cadwallader, at the Fairmont Olympic Hotel in Seattle, Washington, a month after same-sex marriage became legal in Washington. They had met in the 1970s, when Cadwallader was a fireman in Honolulu, and began dating in 1975. Although Nabors's homosexuality was not widely known before this, it was also not completely secret. For instance, Nabors brought his then-partner Cadwallader along to his Indy 500 performance in 1978.

A longstanding rumor maintains that Nabors married actor Rock Hudson in the early 1970s, shortly before Nabors began his relationship with Cadwallader. Not only was same-sex marriage not yet legal anywhere in the United States at the time, but the two closeted gay actors were, according to each other, never more than casual friends. According to Hudson, the story originated with a group of "middle-aged homosexuals who live in Huntington Beach", who sent out joke invitations for their annual get-together. One year, the group invited its members to witness "the marriage of Rock Hudson and Jim Nabors", at which Hudson would take the surname of Nabors' most famous character, Gomer Pyle, becoming "Rock Pyle". The rumors spread, and because of this the two made sure they were never seen in public together.

Death

Nabors died at his Honolulu, Hawaii, home on November 30, 2017, aged 87.

The United States Marine Corps released a statement on Nabors: "Semper Fi, Gomer Pyle. Rest in peace Jim Nabors, one of the few to ever be named an Honorary Marine." Second Lady of the United States and former First Lady of Indiana Karen Pence wrote a statement on Twitter: "So sad to hear about the passing of Jim Nabors. We heard him sing 'Back Home Again in Indiana' at the Indianapolis 500 countless times. We will miss his beautiful voice."

In an interview with The Hollywood Reporter, Carol Burnett paid tribute to Nabors saying they were "close friends for 52 years. ... My heart is heavy. I'm grateful he was a large part of my life. I miss him. I love him." INDYCAR driver Tony Kanaan praised Nabors's performance of "Back Home Again in Indiana". Journalist Larry King praised Nabors as a "gentle man with immense talent" while sending condolences to his family.

2. In medium bowl, mix beef, 1 can green chiles, chili powder, 1 teaspoon of the cumin, 3/4 teaspoon of the salt and 1 cup of the cheese until blended. Form into 4 patties about 1/2-inch thick. In small bowl, mix corn, remaining can of green chiles, remaining 1/2 teaspoon cumin and remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt.
3. Place beef patty on center of each sheet of foil. Scoop about 1/3 cup of corn mixture on top of each patty.
4. Bring up 2 sides of foil so edges meet. Seal edges, making tight 1/2-inch fold; fold again, allowing space for heat circulation and expansion. Fold other sides to seal.
5. Place packs on grill over medium heat. Cover grill; cook 8 minutes. Rotate packs 1/2 turn; cook 7 to 9 minutes longer or until patties are no longer pink in center and meat thermometer inserted in center of patties reads 160°F. Remove packs from grill. Cut large X across top of each pack. Carefully fold back foil. Top each patty with 2 tablespoons cheese; garnish with cilantro and a lime wedge.

Grilled Taco Burger and Potato Foil Packs
Prep 40 MIN
Total 40 MIN
Servings 4

Ingredients

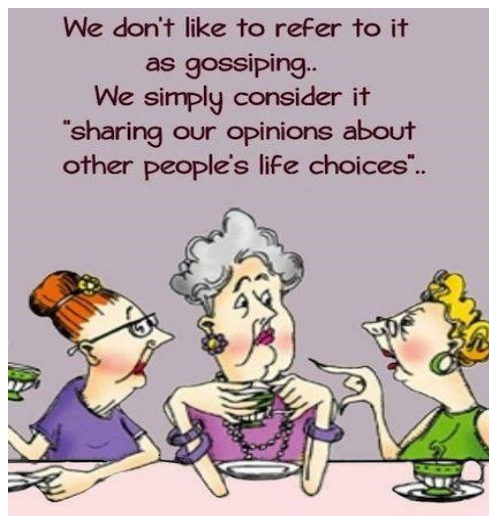

- 1 lb lean (at least 80%) ground beef
- 1/2 cup Progresso™ plain bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons Old El Paso™ taco seasoning mix (from 1 oz package)
- 1/4 cup milk
- 3 cups frozen diced hash-brown potatoes (from 32-oz bag)
- 1 cup salsa con queso dip (from 15-oz jar)

Steps

1. Heat gas or charcoal grill. In medium bowl, mix ground beef, bread crumbs, taco seasoning mix and milk until well blended. Shape mixture into 4 (4-inch) patties. In another medium bowl, mix frozen potatoes and dip.
2. Cut 4 (18x12-inch) sheets of heavy-duty foil; spray with cooking spray. Place 1 patty on each; top with 1/4 of potato mixture. Wrap each pack securely using double-fold seals, allowing room for heat expansion.

3. When grill is heated, place packs, seam side up, on grill over medium heat; cover grill. Cook 15 to 25 minutes, rearranging packs several times, until patties are thoroughly cooked.
4. To make in oven, place packs on cookie sheet. Bake at 375°F 40 to 45 minutes or until potatoes are tender and burgers are cooked through (at least 165°F in center).

INTERNET HUMOR

The local news station was interviewing an 80-year-old lady because she had just gotten married for the fourth time. The interviewer asked her questions about her life, about what it felt like to be marrying again at 80, and then about her new husband's occupation. "He's a funeral director," she answered. "Interesting," the newsman thought...

He then asked her if she wouldn't mind telling him a little about her first three husbands and what they did for a living. She paused for a few moments, needing time to reflect on all those years. After a short time, a smile came to her face and she answered proudly, explaining that she had first married a banker when she was in her 20's, then a circus ringmaster when in her 40's, and a preacher when in her 60's, and now - in her 80's - a funeral director.

The interviewer looked at her, quite astonished, and asked why she had married four men with such diverse careers. (Wait for it)

Makes sense to me.

1947-1948...

The year was 1947. Some of you will recall that on July 8, 1947, a little more than 74 years ago, numerous witnesses claim that an Unidentified Flying Object (UFO) with five aliens aboard crashed onto a sheep and mule ranch just outside Roswell, New Mexico.

This is a well-known incident that many say has long been covered up by the U.S Air Force, as well as other Federal Agencies and Organizations.

However, what you may NOT know is that in the month of April, the year 1948, nine months after the historic day, the following people were born.

- Barrack Obama Sr.
- Albert A. Gore, Jr.
- Hillary Rodham
- William J. Clinton
- John F. Kerry
- Howard Dean
- Nancy Pelosi
- Dianne Feinstein
- Charles E. Schumer
- Barbara Boxer
- Joe Biden

This is the obvious consequence of aliens breeding with sheep and jack-asses.

I truly hope this bit of information clears up a lot of things for you. It certainly did for me...

He had never heard of the word jalopy! She knew she was old .. But not that old.

TRIVIA ANSWERS

- 1. Answer: You will never find a polar bear, a walrus, and a penguin hanging out together. Why? Because penguins do not live in the arctic! Unlike polar bears and walruses, which live in the Arctic region near the North Pole, penguins are only found in the southern hemisphere. It is nearly impossible for penguins to migrate to the northern hemisphere, and attempting to do so would prove disastrous. Due to their inability to fly, penguins have remained in roughly the same area, primarily around the South Pole, for the past 40 million years.
- 2. Answer: While Juan Valdez might sound like the name of a Colombian coffee grower, however his name is completely fictitious. He was invented by the Doyle Dane Bernbach ad agency in 1959, to appear in advertisements for the National Federation of the Coffee Growers of Colombia. Their goal was to help distinguish Colombian coffee from coffee grown in other countries. Valdez frequently ap- pears on-screen alongside his trusty mule, Conchita, carrying sacks of coffee beans. Over the years, Valdez has been portrayed by actors José F. Duval, Carlos Sánchez, and, currently, a real coffee grower named Carlos Castañeda.

- 3. Answer: The T-Birds and Pink Ladies are cliques at Rydell High School in the 1978 movie musical "Grease." In the film, Danny Zuko (John Travolta) leads the T-Birds, a greaser gang known for their love of cars and drag racing. Other members of the T-Birds include Kenickie, Doody, Sonny, and Putzie. Their female counterparts are the Pink Ladies, led by Rizzo (Stockard Channing). Other members of the Pink Ladies include Frenchy, Jan, Marty, and Sandy. The high school in the film is named after Philadelphia rock legend Bobby Rydell.
- 4. Answer: Addis Ababa is the capital and largest city of Ethiopia. Addis Ababa has only been the capital of Ethiopia since the late nineteenth century. Its immediate predecessor, Entoto, was situated on a high tableland and was deemed to be unsuitable due to extreme cold weather and an acute shortage of firewood. The empress Taitu, wife of Emperor Menilek II, encouraged the emperor to build a house near the hot springs at the foot of the tableland and to gift nobility members land in the area. The city was thus founded in 1887 and was named Addis Ababa ("New Flower") by the empress.

5. Answer: The Kelly Bag is named after the Hollywood starlet and Princess of Monaco, Grace Kelly. Thanks to the costume designer Edith Head, Grace Kelly first fell in love with the bag on the set of Alfred Hitchcock's To Catch a Thief. Known for her Hollywood glamour and elegance, the star quickly popularized the trapezoid-shaped bag in the 1950s after she was photographed holding the handbag to cover her baby bump from the paparazzi. That photograph was featured in Life magazine, and the handbag instantly became known as the Kelly bag. It was not, however, formally renamed The Kelly until 1977.

6. Answer: *M*A*S*H* is a 1970 comedy war film, based on Richard Hooker's 1968 novel MASH: A Novel About Three Army Doctors. The picture is the only theatrically released feature film in the *M*A*S*H* franchise, and it became one of the biggest films of the early 1970s for 20th Century Fox. The film went on to receive five Academy Award nominations, including Best Picture, and won for Best Adapted Screenplay. The film inspired the television series *M*A*S*H*, which ran from 1972 to 1983. Gary Burghoff, who played Radar O'Reilly, was the only actor playing a major character who was retained for the series.

7. Answer: Jackson is the capital and the most populated city of the state of Mississippi. Founded in 1821, the city is named after General Andrew Jackson, who was honored for his role in the Battle of New Orleans during the War of 1812. Jackson would go on to become the 7th president of the United States, serving from 1829 to 1837. Known as the "people's president," Jackson destroyed the Second Bank of the United States, founded the Democratic Party, supported individual liberty and instituted policies that resulted in the forced migration of Native Americans.

8. Answer: Whole milk isn't made wholly of fat, or largely of fat, or even substantially of fat. In fact, it doesn't contain much fat all. Whole milk is actually only about 3.5 percent fat, and it's the closest to the way it comes out of the cow. There also are other options for those who have different health needs or taste preferences, including reduced-fat (2 percent), low-fat (1 percent) and fat-free milk. Whole milk sales have dropped more than 61 percent since 1975 according to data from the USDA. Over that same period, 2 percent milk sales have more than doubled, and 1 percent and nonfat milk sales have nearly tripled.

9. Answer: When the Magic Kingdom opened its gates on October 1, 1971, there weren't many attractions yet, but new rides were already in the works. The concept and planning for Space Mountain began almost immediately. Rather than foot the entire bill themselves, Disney convinced RCA chairman Robert Sarnoff to sponsor the new attraction. RCA agreed to contribute $10 million to help fund the project. In return, RCA was prominently featured throughout the attraction. A towering sign with RCA's logo was displayed above the attraction's entrance, and guests exited Space Mountain through a post-show display featuring RCA's Colortrak television sets.

10. Answer: Edgar Allan Poe is most renowned for his horror stories, but he is also credited with creating the first detective story. Poe's story "The Murders in the Rue Morgue," first published in 1841, follows main character C. Auguste Dupin as he solves the mysterious deaths of two women. Dupin would appear in two more Poe stories, "The Mystery of Marie Roget" and "The Purloined Letter." Nearly forty-five years after Poe's death, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle popularized the detective story when he created Sherlock Holmes, a character with peculiarities similar to Poe's Dupin. Like Holmes, Dupin also smoked a pipe, and had a somewhat dim-witted sidekick.
