| PASS | Contractor has passed all of the required items and meets the industry standard we investigated for this section. Please check job references yourself for quality of work, reliability, etc as we cannot verify those aspects of a Contractor's performance. |
| CAUTION | While a perceived negative, this only means a minor issue was detected as shown in the section. Chances are it is something very minor like a missed insurance renewal (within 30 days) or a missed state filing or recently lapsed license. These ARE easy to lose track of & easily corrected. Please ask the contractor to make the appropriate correction & contact us to update the report. An unverifiable court record will also trigger this caution. |
| FAIL | We have found something within the section indicated that should disqualify the contractor from your project. Seriously lapsed insurance, state registration, license, or non-existent; Lien Recovery activity; Verified court action as defendant. All of these are a Contractor's red flag for your project. Please proceed with caution! |

Personal court records are limited to lawsuits pertaining to the construction industry. Other Personal records, though Public Record, are typically not checked due to their private nature. Keep in mind personal CIVIL court records are much more difficult to verify the true identity of the defendant. The usual identifiers such as dates of birth, SSN, etc, are typically NOT part of that record to tie it to a specific individual with certainty. If there IS a question about the veracity of a finding, please discuss with your contractor. We will use as much due diligence as possible to verify if a record actually belongs to your contractor, but ultimately, it's your decision to accept or reject those findings.
