After a two-year, Covid induced hiatus we are finally ready to get together in Atlantic City. A lot has changed in the industry, as well as the world, in the last two years. Uncertain markets, sporadic and limited supplies, and increasing costs for ingredients and labor make it more important than ever to stay abreast of changing conditions. Come to Atlantic City and meet the vendors who can serve your bakery's needs now, and in the future. Use promo code NYNJBAKERS22 when you register. If you are interested in Exhibiting at the show, click on Vendor Information. Click the link below for more information on Education at the show.
