Overview

Meadow Creek Farm caters to all levels of aspiring riders with its Hunt Seat Equitation horsemanship academy. From beginners to seasoned riders Meadow Creek Farm has something for everyone, most importantly FUN.

Owner and instructor Helaina Ricciardi ensures a positive experience for each equestrian camper. Meadow Creek provides a variety of trained horses and ponies to suit any level. Horse owners may also choose to bring their own mount.

Students spend their days in an all-encompassing equitation experience. Before jumping into the saddle for individually tailored daily riding lessons, students learn and perform the basics of routine horse care and stall management.

Afternoon hands-on horsemanship lectures and demonstrations range from basic grooming and tacking, to the identification and management of common horse ailments. As available there will be guest visits from horse care specialists such as farriers and vets. On Fun Friday's students celebrate their accomplishments with horse-related games and an end of session jeopardy game.
