First A Little History

On October 24, 1901, a 63-year-old schoolteacher named Annie Edson Taylor becomes the first person to successfully take the plunge over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

Annie Taylor chose to take the ride on her birthday, October 24. (She claimed she was in her 40s, but genealogical records later showed she was 63.) With the help of two assistants, Taylor strapped herself into a leather harness inside a custom wooden pickle barrel five feet high and three feet in diameter. With cushions lining the barrel to break her fall, and a 200 pound anvil strapped to the bottom for ballast, on October 24th at 4pm, Taylor was towed by a small boat into the middle of the fast-flowing Niagara River and cut loose. A few thousand onlookers watched as she was let off into the current. The barrel seemed to bob harmlessly as it was pulled towards Horseshoe Falls, on the Canadian side of the raging rapids. Then the strong pull of the falls took hold of the barrel and accelerated it towards its fateful drop. The barrel was lost from view in the mists of the falls, falling over at some point. Within minutes, the barrel was spit back out, wholly intact, and began drifting further downstream at the bottom of the falls. The barrel finally came to rest against a rock in the river and Taylor’s handlers rushed out to the barrel. After a bit of difficulty, they were able to remove Taylor, whose first words out of the barrel were, “I prayed every second I was in the barrel except for a few seconds after the fall when I went unconscious.” She died in 1921 at the age of 82, and was buried in a section of a Niagara Falls

Thus the story of the true “Maid Of The Mist”

What makes this story so intriguing is Annie Edson Taylor was a school teacher from the South End of our fair town, Bay City, and the barrel that she rode over the falls was made in a cooperage that is now “Meats and Moore(sic) Meat Market” in Bay City, and that is where we had our meeting today, the first meeting of this Optimist Year, led by Vice President Alicia Wallace. Alicia stood in for President Sandy while she is recovering from surgery. For those that are not familiar with the word “Cooperage”, it is the art of making wooden barrels with steel bands, now considered a lost art.

The Optimist Creed

*To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
 To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.
 To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
 To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.
 To think only of the best, to work only for the best and to expect only the best.*

*To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own
 To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
 To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.
 To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
 To be to large for worry, to noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble*
