OUR EVENTS

Our pop-up events combine traditional embroidery and print with modern design and technology to create a one-of-a-kind experience for consumers.

We recognise the importance of exclusivity to our customers and are dedicated to providing an interactive and entertaining experience that allows them to see their purchases personalised.

In addition to being fun and engaging, embroidery and print pop-ups have been shown to generate more press coverage, boost sales, and improve customer relationships.

WHAT WE OFFER

DIGITAL MACHINE EMBROIDERY

Digital machine embroidery offers creative personalisation services for garments and accessories that you provide. Ideal items for embroidery include durable materials like cotton, linen, canvas, wool, and denim fabrics. If you're unsure which products are suitable, you can send us a photo or sample for testing. We can also provide items such as tote bags, scarves, hats, etc. for promotional use. We welcome all customers to discuss design concepts and developments before the event. We use leading software, machinery and consumables so you can trust us to deliver stunning personalisation services that will leave your customers with cherished items.

DTF PRINTING

DTF printing, or Direct-to-Film printing, is a modern printing technique that transfers vibrant designs onto various fabrics using a specialised process. It begins with printing a design onto a film using high-quality inks, followed by applying a heat-activated adhesive. Once the film has been prepared, it is placed onto the desired fabric and subjected to heat and pressure, allowing the ink to bond seamlessly with the material. This method is highly versatile, making it suitable for various fabric types, including cotton, polyester, and blends. DTF printing is known for its ability to produce intricate designs with excellent color accuracy and durability, making it a popular choice for custom apparel and promotional items.

VINYL PRINTING

Vinyl printing is a versatile and popular method for creating vibrant designs on a variety of surfaces. This process involves cutting out shapes or letters from sheets of coloured vinyl and then heat-pressing them onto the desired material. The result is a durable, eye-catching design that can withstand wear and tear, making it ideal for custom apparel and promotional items. With vinyl printing, you can achieve intricate details and bold colours, allowing for a high level of customisation that can reflect your brand's identity. Whether you're looking for classic monogramming or personalised designs, vinyl printing offers a reliable solution for making your vision come to life.
