

HOLIDAY OF HOPE BENEFIT

OCTOBER 2, 2020
BALL CONFERENCE CENTER

Dear Johnson County Christmas Bureau Supporter,

Have you thought about the personal meanings between quality of life and quantity of friends? Your collection of friends are the network that most of us relate to when supporting a nonprofit. When we build out the network, the workload is easier to manage. Before COVID we all had busy lives balancing priorities. Afterwards our worlds have dramatically shifted and our community is forced to accommodate new ways. Personally, I have thought a lot about the changes for loved ones missing important moments they can't ever get back.

As adults we don't ever have the holidays we remember as a kid. Our successes in life never replace the nostalgia we feel for our childhood experiences. We look for that feeling in our daily life. We celebrate through the eyes of our children, our grandchildren and great-grandchildren, trying to give them the sparkle and magic that it meant for us.

The joy you have brings us home. We are reminded of a warm delicious meal, a hearty laugh, that makes you feel warm and happy. That desire is universal. It is the desire we all have to be loved and to be seen by our loved ones. As we grow up, life takes a toll on us as adults with duty and obligations. We can become cynical, and forget the joys as a child. I want you to take a journey with JCCB this season. To remember the Joy of your childhood, and to help the families in our community build that same experience again. When you donate your items this year, or buy your tickets, or purchase a table, think about what brought you joy as a child. Write to us and tell us your story!

We need those childhood stories that make you smile and your eyes sparkle. The next generation needs to know they too will be okay and they are seen.
