Success Skills for Students Empowered to Succeed in High School, College, and Career

Do you want to empower your student to excel in high school? Do you want to prepare your student for a successful college experience? Do you want to equip your student with soft skills that employers seek? If you are looking for help reaching these important goals, look no further. The skills needed for success in the classroom and on the job can be honed with deliberate effort and the right resources.

In this engaging and inspiring presentation, best-selling author Cary J. Green, PhD, empowers middle school, high school, and college students to:

- Develop key academic success skills for high school and college
- Develop leadership and soft skills
- Make a smooth transition to college and career
- Achieve educational and career goals aligned with their strengths and values
- Build skills that employers seek: communication, collaboration, goal setting, time management, critical thinking, problem-solving, professionalism, and accountability
- Document and articulate skills on applications for scholarships, awards, college, and jobs

“Dr. Green has a humorous yet insightful way to meet youth at a level where they can understand and relate to his message. His message was amazing and spot-on with what students need to be hearing at the high school level. His analogies, stories and message hit home to me as a teacher; his message is one I want every one of the high school students in our district to hear.”

—Connie J., mathematics teacher.

Whether you are looking for an inspirational speaker to kick-off the new school year, a student leadership and success expert to lead an educational workshop, a motivational speaker for your graduation ceremony, or anything in between, Dr. Green will tailor a program for your audience and goals.

A Parent's Guide to Equipping Teens with Life Skills Insights and Actions

As parents, we want our children to succeed. We encourage our youngsters to do their best and teach them to be honest. We emphasize the need to “play nice” with others, and to be courteous. As our children advance to junior high and high school, we can foster their success by facilitating development of additional skills. We also can help our teenage children create a realistic mindset for achieving success.

In this entertaining and informational presentation, best-selling author Cary J. Green, PhD, helps parents understand how to empower their teen to:

- ✓ Develop life skills essential for success
- ✓ Develop a success mindset
- ✓ Identify, leverage, and manage their strengths and weaknesses
- ✓ Understand their values

“As a professional counselor, I value how Dr. Green has young adults take inventory of strengths and weaknesses, as well as values and life balance. His work is impressive and useful. Dr. Green has developed a comprehensive road map for young adults to follow as they head into high school, college, and career. This is a wonderful resource to inspire, enable, and enhance the academic performance and success skills of young adults.”

—Jami Kirkbride Licensed Professional Counselor, Author of The You Zoo.

A Parent's Guide to Equipping Teens with Life Skills is an excellent resource for parents, teachers, community leaders, mentors, coaches, and anyone else who wants to help a young person develop life skills.

Testimonials

“Dr. Green has a humorous yet insightful way to meet youth at a level where they can understand and relate to his message. His message was amazing and spot-on with what students need to be hearing at the high school level. His analogies, stories and message hit home to me as a teacher; his message is one I want every one of the high school students in our district to hear.”

—Connie J., High School Leadership and Mathematics Teacher

“My students and I had the pleasure to welcome Dr. Green into our virtual classroom and partner with him as he introduced students to professional skills. Dr. Green helped students understand the necessity of professional skills in all aspects of their academic and professional careers. He delivered the content in relatable ways - it was nice to see connections being made and engagement on the part of the students!”

—Barbara K., High School Advisor

“As a franchise owner, I have had the opportunity to hear lots – and I mean LOTS – of talks and seminars on Leadership. So when I attended Young Lions and Leos Retreat and saw 2 hours of Leadership Development on the agenda, I cringed and fully expected to watch the teens’ and young adults’ eyes glaze over. Boy, did I ever miss the mark! Cary’s presentation was dynamic, interesting, and perfectly crafted for this (and any other) audience. His message of “Show up, Speak up, and Step up” was right on point for this demographic, and I have never before seen an audience as engaged as these young folks. As a speaker, Cary is personable, relate-able, dynamic, and engaging. His session was easily the crowd favorite for the weekend. I highly recommend Cary for any speaking engagement. His style is perfect for youth and young adults, but he can more than hold his own even with veteran audiences.”

—Rick Nemett, Owner, R.P. Nemett Pharmacy Services, Ltd.

“Dr. Green’s engaging presentation on soft skills needed for success in all careers was so extremely valuable for our students. It was an excellent opportunity for students to hear from an expert and not just their teacher talking.”

—Gayle T., High School Business Teacher

“As a nationally sought-after speaker and member of the National Speakers Association, I know an excellent speaker when I hear one. Having heard Dr. Green speak, I can attest that he is an excellent speaker. Dr. Green motivates and inspires his audience with expert advice on student success, career readiness, and leadership development. His well-informed presentations are interspersed with practical examples, and his dry sense of humor makes him quite entertaining. If you are looking for a motivational speaker to provide insight into success skills needed for school, career, and life, I highly recommend Dr. Green.”

—Linda Hollander, Sponsor expert, member of the National Speakers Association

“Dr. Green has a unique approach of integrating leadership, soft skills, and academic success skills which is precisely what makes him an invaluable resource and go-to person for schools, parents, and teachers who want to build success skills in their students.”

—Pat Wyman, Founder and CEO, HowToLearn.com
