My child, give these words to the world:

My children, stay close to me for I am Jesus. It is only through prayer that you will render the graces necessary for the upheaval that is soon to spread from one nation to the next. Nations that are will no longer be, for parts of Europe will come to pass. Pray, my children, pray for peace, pray for hearts to soften, for there are many men who hunger for war because they have starved themselves from living in truth. There is no confusion in the truth, for what you deny as truth in this life cannot be denied in the next.

Pray as you have not prayed before, for the hour is at hand. Call upon the legion of Angels to guide and protect you. Ask the Holy Spirit to aid you in discerning My Will in order for you to live out your mission in this life. Recite the Rosary daily, for it is through My Mother that she will bring you closer to her son, for I am Jesus. This world is going to begin to rock and tremble for a wave of mourning will come and catch many off guard. I have warned my people that the innocence of my little ones is being stripped away and the sacrifice of these innocent souls is why My Father can no longer restrain his just anger. The precipice in which mankind has brought himself to will bring forth the time of warning. It is time to gather your blessed candles and pray, for there is nothing too great for My Mercy. Now go forth for I am Jesus and be at peace, for my mercy and justice will prevail.

My child,

I warn my children not to become complacent. Do not remain idle. Pray, pray with love, pray with trust, pray with confidence that you are on this earth for a mission that brings glory and honor to your Heavenly Father. Pray the Rosary and heed the calling of your heavenly mother. She is summoning her children to come back to her son, for I am Jesus. The more you pray, the greater the fruits of my love will manifest in your life.

Come to me in humility with gratitude for all that you have been given, even your suffering. When you offer your suffering in humility and without complaint, you are united to my passion, death, and resurrection. Do not weep for the loss of treasures in this life, for your greatest treasure is in eternity. Come live in the light of my love. Come and prostrate yourself before Me in Adoration. Come to the feet of the cross and immerse yourself in the rays of my Divine Mercy, for I am the king of mercy. Now go forth for I am Jesus and be at peace, for my mercy and justice will prevail.

(Vision given to Jennifer from Jesus)

I see a haze covering the ground almost like fog but I could feel the heat. Jesus then tells me, "That a great heat will come and many will be searching for water. The heat will come before summer is due."

Jesus speaks to me again and says, "Many lakes will dry up because the earth will respond according to the depth of man's sin. When my children seek to rebel against my church, my commandments, my creation, my plan, and refuse to accept my mercy, there is no longer harmony between heaven and earth. It is time for my children to open their eyes because the temptation is great. There is a bounty for your soul but I have paid your ransom through my passion, death, and resurrection. My children, you have nothing to fear if you are walking in my light and praying for those who are not. Now go forth, for I am Jesus and be at peace, for my mercy and justice will prevail."

My Child,

I tell my children you are witnessing a time where the dividing line is being drawn. You are either seeking to live in my light or live in the ways of the world. You are living in a time where history is seeking to be repeated. There are those who desire to erase history and those who have learned what history has taught them. I tell my children, do not fear, for the graces flowing from heaven down upon my faithful are multiplying more each hour than any other time since the beginning of creation. Yet I warn my children that you must also be vigilant, for the devil and his companions seek your soul. Be on guard and pray for discernment. This is the hour where many live in what they have disguised as truth and a remnant who live in the realm of truth. Pray, my children, pray and remain close to me, for I am Jesus, and my mercy and justice will prevail.

My child,

It is through my mother that she will embrace each one of her children and light the way for mankind to return to her son. She carried the Divine light within her womb and shared in the sorrows of my passion. Go to your heavenly mother, my children, for she is the vessel that will prepare you for your journey home to heaven, for I am Jesus and my mercy and justice will prevail.

My Child,

I tell my children that faith does not act in fear rather it is through prayer that brings everything into the light of truth. My children, have eyes of faith, hope, and endless trust in my mercy because it is the greatest act of love given to mankind. My mercy is endless and many do not see what is happening behind closed doors. Stay close to me, my children, and through prayer and fasting you will begin to heal. Stay close to me, for as this earth begins to rock and tremble, the first of these things will begin within the walls of my church and filter throughout the world. The love of my Father would not be if he did not permit such a time up until now for his children to repent.

My children, evil is accelerating and your time on this earth is just a blink of an eye. Be attentive, for the enemy is seeking out what I paid your ransom for. When you let down your guard and surrender to a foolish world, is where he begins to take custody of your soul. When mankind seeks to manipulate the sun, moon, and stars and redesign the intricacies of my creation, he becomes a false prophet unto himself. Woe to those who find joy in the destruction of life. Woe to those who allow themselves to be the architects of evil. Time is passing and the hour of mercy is near. I call my children to enter into this time of Holy Week striving for true holiness. Holiness is sharing in my suffering and being instruments of love and mercy. Go forth my children and nourish your soul and body through penance and the Eucharist. A new hour has been given to you to make reparation and strive for Heaven. Now go forth, for I am Jesus, and be at peace for my mercy and justice will prevail.

Footnotes from Fr. David (Jennifer's Spiritual Advisor)

Our Lord Jesus speaks of the intricacies of His creation which points to the creation account in the Book of Genesis.*

And God said, “Let there be lights in the firmament of the heavens to separate the day from the night; and let them be for signs and for seasons and for days and years, and let them be lights in the firmament of the heavens to give light upon the earth.” And it was so. And God made the two great lights, the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night; he made the stars also. (Genesis 1:14–16)

The sun, the moon, and the stars are a time piece to establish a calendar, marking out the change of the seasons. Weather patterns followed the seasons until recently. Mankind is interfering with the intricacies of God’s design altering the weather to fulfill false prophecies regarding climate change. The time piece of the sun, the moon, and the stars are no longer reliable “signs for the seasons.”

My child,

I tell my children that I am not the conductor of fear rather I am the vessel of hope and love, the artery of mercy for the whole world. My children, I have warned mankind in great repetition that the time has come to turn away from sin and seek out my mercy. Do not delay out of fear or slumber from removing the filth that has consumed your soul. My children, you cannot grow in holiness if you are not tending to the soil in which seeds are to be planted.

My children, there is a great pursuit for your soul and you must recognize that Satan's lies and deception are unrelenting. I warn my people that the veil of protection upon America is soon to be lifted if it does not repent. My Mother has kept this nation under her mantle but if her children fail to atone then the veil will be removed for a time. The injustice brought upon my little ones has provoked the just anger of My Father. The world is soon to be brought to Calvary when the hour of warning comes. Take heed, my children, for you are being given this time of grace to repent and live your life in conformity to the will of your Heavenly Father. Now go forth for I am Jesus, and be at peace, for my mercy and justice will prevail.

(Message from the Blessed Mother)

My daughter,

The offenses against my son are grave and the world is in much danger. My children, do not turn away from my son, for I have come to draw you into the light of truth. My son through His passion, death, and resurrection suffered a great price for each and every one of you. Your soul is precious for He carries the wounds of the world in His hands and feet and His wounds are bleeding profusely.

My children, begin to recite the rosary often for too many have become paralyzed in their complacency. This world will begin to rock and tremble unless hearts begin to change and accepts the truth, accepts my son as the King of Mercy. When you open your hearts to prayer and recitation of the rosary, I as your mother will show you how to turn away from sin and to live in humility. I will assist you in making a contrite confession so that healing can come. Remember, my children, what began in Israel will end in America. The hour has come, the hour has come. I plead as your Heavenly mother to listen and heed to the warnings of Heaven for the world has never been in such a grave state. May the peace of my son Jesus be with you.

(Message from the Blessed Mother)

My daughter,

Many today are failing to heed this time of grace that my son has extended to humanity. I say to my children, do not wander into a world that is guiding so many souls into hell. Do not look for the world to bring you peace. Come, my children, to the foot of the cross and unite your prayers to mine for the salvation of souls. There are many souls who do not truly know my son because they seek to retain their own will and not surrender to the Heavenly Father. It is time to get on your knees in prayer, and through greater humility, you will grow in love and holiness. Each bead of the rosary is my hand being extended to you to draw you closer to my son. I come as your heavenly mother to shower each one of you with my immeasurable love. I am calling each of you to teach the rosary to those around you. With patience and love, you will begin to see the Holy Spirit transform each and every soul you bring under my mantle. Seek heaven by seeking my son Jesus, and may the peace of his divine love be upon each one of you.

11:30 am

My Child,

Victory does not come through lies. True victory comes from the truth. My children, I am giving mankind this time to shower humanity with the grace of heaven to turn away from sin and come live in my light. The world has been inundated with evil that has infiltrated so many hearts, so many families.

My children, you must pray in order to recognize the change that needs to begin with you. You cannot truly love if you are at war with your neighbor. You cannot have peace in your home if I am not welcome to enter. You must look beyond the promises of this life and strive for eternal life. I weep, my children, because life is no longer recognized in its value. My little ones are being executed by those who seek to be the Herods' of this time. Innocence is no longer protected. Prayer and repentance are what is needed to bring peace.

Come, my children, and enter into the depths of My Most Sacred Heart. Do not fear what is going on in this world, trust in me, for I am Jesus. Victory is in the truth. Do not allow yourselves to be deceived. You must discern what is presented before you and that comes through the Holy Spirit. Now go forth, for I am Jesus and be at peace, for my mercy and justice will prevail.

(Message from the Blessed Mother)

My daughter,

I come with the peace of heaven. I have been permitted this time to unite the world. Through the power of the Holy Spirit, I brought my Son to the world and now I am here to bring the world to my Son. My children, who do you follow? Is your soul being guided by those who live in the truth of my Son, Jesus? Or by those who the devil uses to destroy by living the ways of the world? Seek humility, my children, and that is by surrendering to the Divine plan, by giving all trust to your Heavenly Father and the mission he has given you to fulfill on this earth. Your time on this earth is precious and not to be wasted. Follow my Son. Embrace your calvary through acts of penance. Through prayer and fasting, you will begin to desire less of the world and more of the will of the Father. Each bead of the rosary, you are uniting yourself the Trinity. Each bead of the rosary, each Hail Mary is enfolding you under my mantle of protection. I, as a tender mother, am extending my hand to guide you home to heaven. May the peace of my son Jesus remain in your heart.

My child,

When evil can no longer hide itself, mankind can no longer be blind to the truth. For that is the gravest danger to one's soul—is to see truth, know truth and deny truth. Come, come to the light of my love, come to the light of truth, my children, for I am Jesus, the way, the truth and the life. Be at peace and know that victory is coming to those who accept truth, for my mercy and justice will prevail.

4:30pm

My child,

I am summoning my children to form an army of prayer. Unite your families, unite your neighbors and pray, meditate on the Gospel Message and recite the rosary. This is a call to my children that you must trust in order to discern, and through the guidance of the Holy Spirit, you will grow in holiness and you will have the strength to turn away from the world.

My children, the world has consumed so many hearts with pride and few souls left with humility. Do not allow the world to give you a false peace. I am asking my children all around the world to fill an ocean with prayer so that you will restrain the sea of my justice. It is through prayer that I will penetrate through the walls of pride and bring forth hearts that are charitable and living in truth. Come and be my disciples, be my witnesses in this world. Do not always seek healing of the body. First, you must seek healing of the soul. Suffering is your greatest asset to obtain your seat at the banquet table. Now go forth in prayer, humility, and in acts of love, for I am Jesus and my mercy and justice will prevail.

My child,

I ask my children who commands your heart? Who commands your thoughts, your words? Be on guard, my children, for many are surrendering their whole being over to the ways of the world. Too many are listening to the voice of deception and not the voice of truth. It is time, my children to listen, listen in silence. My heart weeps because too many speak at me and not to me. Too many speak words but they are not speaking to me with their hearts.

My children, the world has entered into the stages of my passion, and I ask you which one of you will console my mother? Will you be as John and Mary Magdalene or will you run in fear, seeking refuge in the world that cannot give you shelter? It is time to awaken, my children, because the dividing line is being drawn. Evil is no longer concealing itself. Deception is pouring forth from every corner of the earth and too many are being caught off guard. You cannot look forward if you are looking behind. Stay focused on me. Stay focused on the cross. Prostrate yourself before me, and through adoration, you will draw yourself into the refuge of my Most Sacred Heart. Through receiving me in the Eucharist, your soul will transmit my light to those who have lost their way. It is through the light that their eyes will be open by your witnessing and example.

My children, it is time for you to silence yourselves in order to hear my voice, to listen to the summoning of your shepherd in order for you to live the mission you were sent to do. In silence you will begin to recognize the voice of truth speaking to your heart. Now go forth, for I am Jesus and be at peace, for my mercy and justice will prevail.

My child,

I tell my children time does not stop, it continues. There is a time and a sequence in which your life on this earth was created. Your time is a treasure to be valued in order for your soul to rest in the kingdom of Heaven. What is meant to be executed for your life will come in the time and sequence in which my Father ordains. My children, it is time to surrender to the plans that my Father in Heaven has for you. When you pray, say these words,

"Jesus, I surrender to you all the designs for my life that the Father in Heaven has for me".

Remember, my children, you must have faith the size of a mustard seed, and when you lack even this small amount, you have no faith, no hope, no trust in my love for you. Be humble in your wisdom, for pride has no place in my kingdom. Go forth and live, live the Gospel message. Come live in my light. Do not spend your time looking at what evil does, rather allow my light to shine through you so that others will be drawn to me, for I am Jesus, the light of the world.

My children, be at peace and know that even when evil seems to be enveloping every corner of the earth, that victory is coming, the triumph is coming, for your ransom has been paid. Now go forth, for I am Jesus and be at peace, for my mercy and justice will prevail.

My child,

I say to my children it is not an act of love when you compromise the truth. When the commandments and the teachings of my church are altered to the fulfillment of man's desire, this is not love, this is evil seeking to manifest as truth. My children, the darkness that has infiltrated the hearts of mankind is no longer concealed, for the doors of deception have been opened and the floodgates of truth can no longer be contained.

My children, the greatest fall of man is pride. Satan fell because he could not humble himself before the divine throne. When you allow sin to overcome your hearts and minds and refuse to come to reconciliation, you have become the source in which Satan prides himself. Do not give him custody of your soul. Do not look for revenge upon those who have brought you injustice, for evil will stumble upon its own consequences. You cannot truly walk in my light without walking the road to Calvary. The world has entered into the stages of my passion. You, my children, must prepare in a greater way, for the hour will come when your faith, your love and devotion to me will be tested. Will you renounce your faith like Judas in order to eat in order to enter the gate that leads your soul to ruin? Narrow is the path to Heaven because few have responded to my call to pray and live your life in simplicity. Call upon the Holy Spirit, my children, and pray for the light of truth to guide you at a time when the confusion will only multiply.

My children, you are soon to witness a great unraveling of the truth when you see just how deceived you have been by wolves who have clothed themselves as sheep. The time of awakening is near, for mankind has been slumbering for too long. I call my children to an hour of prayer before me in adoration. When you pray, pray in humility, surrendering your life over to the designs of my Father in Heaven. Now go forth, for I am Jesus and be at peace, for my mercy and justice will prevail.

11/5/2024

8:00am

My child,

I say to my children do not fear, for that which has been stolen will be returned. The truth will be made known for the hand of justice is coming to those who have brought great deception upon my people. Pray, my children, and ask the Holy Spirit to open your eyes and hearts to the truth that is soon to unravel. Pray in a greater way and never lose hope, for your greatest victory comes when you trust in me. Now go forth, for I am Jesus, and my mercy and justice will prevail.
