Centric Alloys Bids Farewell to Chris and Meg Announce departure of Chris Strok and Meg Niblock Walsh

Doylestown, Pa- (Business Wire)- January 1, 2021- As President of Centric Alloys Corp, I would like to bid farewell to Chris Strok and Meg Niblock Walsh, both of whom I have such great appreciation for thanks to the contributions they made to our success. Chris and Meg have joined a new team created by Aperam Alloys. Aperam decided to have their own team in the USA to manage supply of all nickel alloy product forms for direct mill business. Centric Alloys will continue to hold Aperam Alloys as a very valuable supplier for our activities in the distribution and manufacturing of Specialty Metals.

Chris was our Business Development Manager, and he has spent his entire sales career in the metals industry dating back to 1986. I have personally had the pleasure to work with Chris for 20+ years. Chris has worked both on the distribution side and mill production side of the metals business; he provides such valuable communication skills to his employer and customers. An absolute Pro!

Meg was our Inside Sales and Customer Service person. Meg is so attentive to details and organization that both mills and customers rave about working with her because she is fantastic at the details and in her communication skills. Meg began her career in 1990 when she joined Metalimphy Alloys Corp, which was the year I met her! She was the Human Resource Manager for Metalimphy Alloys and Ugitech USA for 11 years before moving to a full-time role of mom to her three sons. Meg eventually came back into specialty steel when she joined Centric Alloys in 2010.

We wish them continued success! As result of this and a more narrow product focus for the company, we hired a new Inside Sales and Customer Service representative... a warm welcome to Ryan K. Walsh who has joined the company.
