ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF VISITORS: Lloyd Whitman, Gerri Wellington, William Wellington, Rebekah Wallace/Corry Journal

- Mr. Wellington questioned parking at an auction on Sept. 20, said people aren't supposed to park on the road, 253 motorcycles went through during the auction, vehicles parked all the way from auction to curve, vehicles were off the berm, but still not supposed to be there; Mr. Whitman commented the State Police should have enough common sense to police it themselves. Secretary will check to see if there was an agreement in place when the auction first opened.
- Mr. Wellington said he called the township building recently, asked the secretary how much money the township had in savings, and she told him he should fill out a right to know form; he doesn't know what the big secret is
- Mrs. Wellington asked supervisors, when they start working on the budget, if they would make detailed breakdowns of each category available for the public, not the summary that is posted on the website, it's too vague
- Mr. Whitman asked why the sewer project isn't done
