UPCOMING MEETING

Main Program: Artificial Intelligence

Speaker: David Shadpour and Eric Kim

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is poised to radically transform our world, and the building industry is no exception. While the term AI is often used, many don't fully understand what it actually means or how it works. David will start by breaking down AI in simple, easy-to-understand terms so we can all better communicate its potential with clients and stakeholders. From there David will explore how AI is revolutionizing the design, operation, and experience of smart buildings, with a particular focus on its transformative impact on building automation systems (BAS). David will be joined by Eric Kim, an expert in building automation controls who will share specific examples of how AI is revolutionizing BAS systems and driving this transformation forward. Understanding these changes is crucial, no matter your role in the industry, as AI will redefine the way we approach buildings and their operations.

David Shadpour holds a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering from USC. David also earned a Master of Business Administration from the University of Illinois. His impressive career includes leading Shadpour Consulting Engineers, where he serves as a comprehensive MEP consultant specializing in military, healthcare, and university projects. He has also shared his expertise as an instructor at SDSU, UCSD, and USC.

Beyond his professional accomplishments, David is a dynamic speaker who has delivered multiple TED Talks, inspiring audiences with his insights on innovation and sustainability. He is also a passionate traveler, having visited 59 national parks across the United States. David's unique blend of technical expertise, leadership experience, and personal passion makes him a standout in the A/E/C industry.
