

Granny in my house!

I came home after school on Friday. When I entered the house, I was in shock, because Granny, the horrible grandma, was in my house! She was dancing with Caillou, Tom and Jerry and Peppa Pig.

I wanted to cry because nobody was at home from my family. I called my mother and said that I was at home and she said she was in the shopping city.

I decided to dance with them. I put good music on and went dancing. We danced to "My money don't jiggle jiggle". It felt like Granny had a crush on me! What the hell. I had a crush on Peppa's brother George. He liked me back and we married.

Granny was crying at my wedding. The others had fun. I found the right man for me. I love him, he loves me back...:)
