Maximum security, maximum impact

Mimecast protects your email from attacks that can affect your customers and their trust in your company. But how about adding elements that boost your brand's credibility and impact? That's where Exclaimer comes in.

Exclaimer allows you to centrally manage your email signatures and ensure seamless consistency. Best of all, you can supercharge your signatures with banners, one-click surveys, testimonials, and social content.

Maximize efficiency, save hours of IT time

Exclaimer lets you grant editing access to others outside IT, like your marketing department. This frees up your team to focus on what matters to them.

Exclaimer boosts every part of your business by:

- Making it easy to create signatures with our drag and drop designer – no HTML or specialist skills needed
- Enabling individual users to update their contact information without having to raise an IT ticket
- Giving you access to a library of email signature templates
