GOVERNOR INSLEE SPEAKS ABOUT TACOMA LIQUID GAS FACILITY

Over 9,000 People Sign Opposing LNG Facility

Our Governor needs to hear from all of us. Don't let pollution compromise our children's future.

Liquid gas is not natural or safe for the community. Emissions cause negative health impacts and danger for people that live around them.

At a recent event in Seattle, Washington, Governor Jay Inslee spoke to a group about the proposed PSE LNG Fracked Gas Plant in Tacoma. When asked about the facility planning and ongoing roll out -- he responded "I'm going to do a lot more looking into this to see if they are following the law as they should."

Whether you live in the facility's "blast zone," in Tacoma, or anywhere on this planet, this project will affect you. Stand with the Puyallup Tribe, sign our petition and help to protect our home, Mother Earth, from further destruction.

Our Governor needs to hear from us. Community health and safety is at risk. Sign and share the petition - No LNG Fracked Gas in the Salish Sea.
