

iCIMS Announces Winners of Inaugural Innovator Awards

Twenty leaders from around the globe were recognized for their innovation in talent acquisition, technology, and HR

HOLMDEL, N.J. [November 16, 2020] – iCIMS, the talent cloud company that empowers employers to attract, engage, hire, and advance the world’s best talent, today revealed the 20 talent leaders recognized for their creativity, dedication, and transformation in its first-ever Innovator Awards. This announcement kicks off iCIMS’ inaugural global virtual conference, INSPIRE, where upwards of 7,000 talent, business, and technology leaders will gather to share and celebrate impactful advancements in business and hiring on November 17 and 18, 2020.

Winners were selected based on qualitative and quantifiable improvements to the hiring process, and the subsequent impact that they’ve had in enabling their organizations to grow and transform their workforce. Key themes include process automation, enhanced candidate communication, renewed digital experiences, and strengthened workplace collaboration – all powered by the strategic use of trailblazing technology.

The 2020 iCIMS Innovator Awards winners are (in alphabetical order):

Adam Hunt, Senior Campus Recruiter, U.S. Bank
Amy Smith, Manager, Corporate Talent Acquisition, Cedar Fair
Angad Madra, Talent Acquisition Manager, Corizon Health (Valitas Health Services)
Anna Prorock, Sr. Director, Global Talent Acquisition, SAS Institute/SolarWinds MSP
Ashanti Moore, Director, People Analytics, Telvista, Inc.
Carlos de Torres, Vice President of US Partner Development, Microsoft Corporation
Daniel Lewis, Director of HR, Paramount Residential Mortgage Group
Forrest Tylutki, Manager, Talent Acquisition, Omnitrac
Ivonne Mondragon, Sr. Talent Acquisition Partner, Employment Branding, Service Experts
Ivy Singley, Employment Services Manager, Infirmiry Health
Jackie Schierenberg, System Director, Sourcing & Talent Branding, CommonSpirit Health
Jasmine Viera, Human Resources Director, Crawford & Company
Jim D’Amico, Global Talent Acquisition Leader, Celanese International Corporation
Kelsey White, Sr. Talent Acquisition Manager, HEI Hotels
Kevin Rosin, Vice President, Talent Acquisition, North America, OSL Retail
Kim Gordon, Vice President of Talent Acquisition, Perspecta Engineering
Michelle Sickles, Director of Talent Acquisition, IFM Restoration
Natalie Figueroa, Sr. Human Resources Recruiter, SC Fuels
Tomya Watt, Vice President, Talent Acquisition & Mobility Chief Diversity Officer, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center
Trish Freshwater, Senior Communications Manager, Sodexo, Inc.

“There is no better time to recognize the efforts of talent leaders who have gone above and beyond to transform their talent practices for the new future of work,” said Steve Lucas, CEO of iCIMS. “From leveraging social media, data and AI, to forming strategic partnerships that supercharge their businesses, our Innovators are revolutionizing the way organizations attract, engage, hire and advance talent. We’re honored to have many of our winners, including Tomya Watt, Amy Smith, Anna Prorock, Jim D’Amico, and Ashanti Moore speak at our INSPIRE conference, which kicks off tomorrow.”

Join the thousands of talent and technology innovators at INSPIRE to participate in a global conversation on talent transformation.

Nominations for the 2021 Innovator Awards will open in January.