- Review the request details including scope, cost details and notes.
- Indicate your plan to submit a bid (just click the "Yes" or "No" button at the top of the email).
- If you have any questions regarding the request just reply to the email to send those questions back to us.
- When you're ready to prepare your bid, return to this email and use the green "Download Plan Room Files" button to download the plans and other relevant documents.
- Prepare your bid as normal and submit that to us by replying to the bid request email. You can reply with an attachment or text in the body of your email reply.

Purchase Orders

When you receive a purchase order through the system, you will be provided with the project name and address, scope of work and agreed upon pricing. Any files relevant to the PO will be attached to the email you receive.

When you receive a PO, here's what you can do:

A purchase order has been issued to you.

- Review the details of the purchase order including scope, pricing and any file attachments.
- If you have any questions or comments regarding the PO, simply reply to the email to send those back to us.
- At the top of the PO email, indicate your acceptance of the purchase order and sign if requested.
- Print a copy of the PO for your records using the "View Printable Version" button.

How do I comment? Simply reply to this email.

Task Assignments

You will receive task assignments to alert you to work that we've scheduled you to do. The task assignment email includes all of the information you need including the task description, project name and address (with directions link!), any relevant details of the work and the assigned dates, if applicable.

When you receive task assignments, here's what you can do:

- Review the task details and dates to make sure you're available
- Review any relevant files that might be attached
- If you have any questions or aren't available on the assigned dates, please just reply to the email to let us know. We can easily communicate back and for on each individual task you're assigned to work out any details or other arrangements.
- Confirm the task if requested.
- Put us on your calendar!

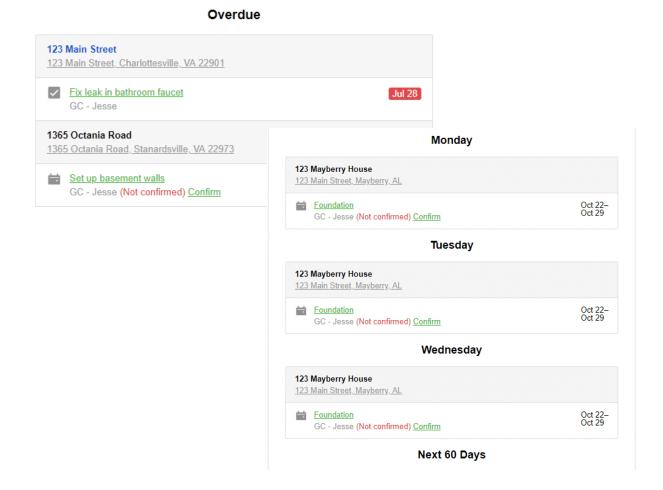

If there are any changes to the task information or dates, you'll receive another "Updated" task assignment email letting you know of those changes. As noted below, you can also receive a summary email to remind you of all your upcoming tasks, so you don't have to worry about keeping up with all of these individual emails. If you aren't receiving that already, let us know and we can turn those on!

Task Summaries

You may receive task summary emails one or more days each week. This is a single email that will summarize your overdue and upcoming tasks for our projects.

From this email you can easily see the project name and address, task names, details and dates. You can also confirm your availability for tasks by clicking the "Confirm" link next to each item.

Here are tasks assigned to you.

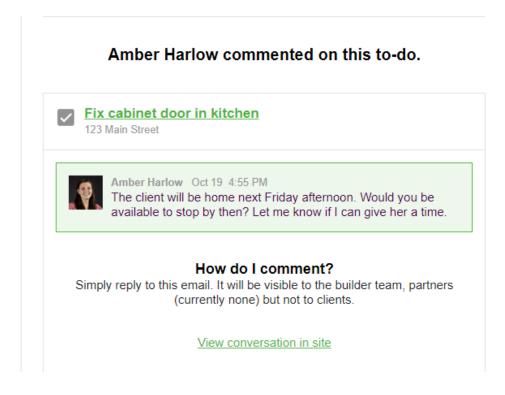

Communications

As with the items above, anytime you receive an email from the system you can simply reply to those notifications to communicate back with us. This makes sure that the right people get notified of your response and that things stay organized for accurate tracking of information and decisions.

You may also receive direct comments on your tasks or other items. This email alert will tell you who is reaching out and which project and item the message is related to.

When you receive a comment email, you can:

- Note who your response will be shared with. This will be noted at the bottom of your alert email.
- Simply reply with any additional questions or comments.

You'll always be able to see any previous comments from other users on that thread, so there's no need to sort back through other emails to follow the trail of communications.
