

Clovis Botanical Garden

Introduction

Clovis Botanical Garden is a vibrant and inviting outdoor space dedicated to showcasing drought-tolerant plants and sustainable landscaping practices. Located in Clovis, California, the garden features a variety of themed areas that highlight native and Mediterranean species, making it both educational and visually appealing. Visitors can enjoy walking paths, demonstration gardens, and informative displays, all set in a tranquil environment that encourages appreciation for water-wise gardening.

Potential Photography subjects

- Native California plants, succulents
- Butterflies, birds and bees
- Use natural paths and garden structures for framing

Potential Photography Skills to practice

- Macro
- Close-ups
- Freezing action (example: bees in flight)

Trip Logistics

Field Trip Date	Saturday, April 11 th , 9:00 am to 11:00 am
Costs	Parking-None Admission-Free or donation
Carpool Meeting time & location	None
On site Meeting time & Location	Meet at the poppy gate at 9:00 am 945 N. Clovis Ave Clovis, CA 93611 Between Alluvial & Nees
Gear recommendations	Lenses: Macro or short telephoto, telephoto for wildlife Optional: Polarizing filter to reduce glare
What to bring	Water, snacks, comfortable shoes, hat, sunscreen

Map

