Kindergarten

FIRST REPORT

Norman is a very alert, attentive, and well-behaved boy who enjoys participating in all activities. His listening skills are very good and he answers well in class discussions. He began the year attending daily the English second language class but his vocabulary and understanding of English is such that we no longer feel this is necessary. Norman has made many friends and is well-liked by his peers.

SECOND REPORT

Norman is a very outgoing, confident boy who always has plenty to talk about. He contributes enthusiastically to class discussions and enjoys telling his news, but he sometimes is so busy chattering he forgets to listen to others. He tries very hard with all his individual assignments, and is printing nicely. He is beginning to associate letters with their sounds now.

THIRD REPORT

Norman is progressing well with phonics. He recognizes most letter sounds and can pick out initial consonants. He prints neatly and carefully. He very much enjoys the social atmosphere in the classroom and plays well with other children. He is inclined to be a little talkative during class discussions but otherwise is very attentive and responsive. He expresses himself well in English and has a good vocabulary. Norman is eager and enthusiastic about all activities. Happy holidays!

Recommendations for September 19 [REDACTED]

Assigned to Grade 1.

Grade One

FIRST REPORT

Norman is making very good progress in all areas of our program. He has an excellent general knowledge and is eager to learn more about the world around him. Norman expresses himself well orally and contributes often to our discussions. In reading Norman is working on Level 2 of the Ginn program. He learns new vocabulary easily and reads aloud fluently. Norman's understanding of all our reading skills is good. His written work is done neatly and accurately. Norman's drawings are excellent!

Norman's progress in arithmetic is excellent. He can identify the numbers to 30 and place them in order. Norman is doing well in addition.

Norman enjoys gym lessons and shows good co-ordination. He takes an active part in music lessons also.

Norman is a co-operative enthusiastic boy with an excellent attitude towards school. He has made many friends.

Grade Two

TEACHER'S COMMENTS

First Report Nov [redacted]

Norman is doing satisfactory or better work in all areas. He is a hard worker with lots of good ideas.

His behaviour has improved a great deal since September. He now usually completes his work without bothering others and when he is finished, he can find something to do on his own. J.W.

SECOND REPORT

March [redacted]

Norman continues to make satisfactory or better progress this term. He is responsible and continues to share his good ideas with us. He has had to have reminders lately about his talking and bothering others again. J.W.

Grade Three

TEACHER'S COMMENTS

Norman is doing excellent work in the Language Arts, and in all other areas as well. His creative writing is very mature for a boy his age. Norman always tries very hard to please. He is a quiet polite boy in class. This is an excellent report, Norman!

Very good work. J.D.

SECOND REPORT

Norman continues to do excellent work in Language Arts. His progress in Math and the other subjects is also excellent. Norman has contributed a great deal to class discussions in both Science and Social Studies. He is self-motivated and often looks up information on his own. Thank you for your contributions, Norman ~ your classmates appreciate you.

This is an excellent report.

I am very pleased with Norman's consistent effort. J.D.

COMMENTS:
Reading - Norman's work in reading this term has been very good. His assignments are always done neatly and on time. Norman operates in a very efficient manner. Norman should at this point in his development, try to extend his thinking skills so that he offers more ideas and opinions, rather than to always go for for what he knows to be a correct answer. If Norman takes part in more oral discussion, reads more general information books (biographies), and starts to take a greater interest in the world around him, he will become a thoughtful as well as thought provoking student. All in all Norman has achieved good results this term and has been a joy to teach. H. Fenger.

COMMENTS:
June
Norman has had a very successful year. He is a very capable student who has a good fund of general knowledge. We appreciate his enthusiasm for learning and his contribution to the stamp club and chess tournaments in the class. We wish Norman continued success in Year Five. C. Betts

Norman has made excellent progress again this term. In many areas, but particularly in reading and creative writing, he has displayed a maturity well beyond his grade-level. The entire class, as well as his teachers, has taken a keen interest in Norman's outstanding long-term assignments. It is a pleasure to teach such a responsive student.

Very good progress!

Norman is presently reading above his grade level. Norman has had a wonderful first term. Norman is extremely conscientious in assuring all assignments for all teachers are completed to the best of his ability. Norman participates very well during class discussions, sharing many fine ideas with his classmates. In light of Norman's academic achievement this term I have chosen Norman to participate with an enrichment group which meets Tuesdays (2⁰⁰-3⁰⁰ pm) - this is a proud achievement. Norman is also a valued member of our Jr. Boys Volleyball Team. Norman is a happy, kind, respectful individual. It is a real pleasure having Norman in my classroom. Excellent progress!

- attending the L.A.C. one hour weekly for enrichment. Activities attempt to stimulate creative thinking and problem solving through mathematical applications, designing structures, undertaking individual projects of interest, etc. Norman contributes very well to group brainstorming of ideas. Little can be said regarding any observable progress since this group has met on only two occasions to date.

March [REDACTED]

- displays good thinking skills as displayed in effective strategies utilized in approaching and solving various hypothetical problems (e.g. mathematical).

June [REDACTED]

Norman's ideas about controversial issues reflect a sound awareness of current events and a level of maturity beyond his age. Norman has been a stimulating member in our group and a delight to work with.

It's a pleasure to have Norman in my homeroom. He has had an outstanding term in all areas of the year 7 program. Norman participates well in class discussions and activities, and the work he has produced is of a consistent high quality. He sets a good example for the other members of the class. With a "little" more effort, perhaps Norman could strive for straight A's in the academic subjects. You should be extremely proud of your report card, Norman! Well done.

An excellent start to the new school year!

Norman has continued to make very good progress this term. However, I do not feel he has worked to his full potential. His effort and attitude have been inconsistent compared to the first term. He has not participated in class discussions with much enthusiasm, and his letter grades in *reading, (*see insert) physical education and art have dropped. Norman is a very bright boy who should be striving to achieve an academic award in June. This means straight A's in the academic subjects. [REDACTED]
