Features:

Tech

The powerful interplay between Birdly's hardware and software puts users in control of an immersive storyline and completely engaged in their virtual environments. Birdly is easily controlled with arms and hands – movements correlated to the flapping of wings for speed, altitude and navigation.

Diverse Experiences

Whether your clientele is interested in exploration, relaxation, or adrenaline, the Birdly content portfolio provides an experience for everyone.

Custom Branding

Birdly offers multiple opportunities to personalize the experience through branded entertainment. Whether you're looking for a completely custom experience or the ability to activate sponsorship options within the experience portfolio we offer complete creative services to make your VR vision a reality.
