

DOES GOD ALWAYS LOVE?

Rev. Chris Meier

Most folks would answer the above question with, “That depends.” In the case of God— who is the subject of the question— that answer is not quite relevant. That’s because God loves His creation. The created being first named Lucifer is not something God loves, especially in light of his actions after he fell from his lofty place God created him for. Lucifer had two jobs, both he failed at. He was there to protect the glory of God, and as the worship leader in heaven— which was his second job— he came in contact with God’s glory during worship like no other created being could; that is, until man came along.

My answer to the title question goes something like this: Are you the type of person when something goes wrong in life, you wonder what YOU did wrong to have God walk away from His love for you? If most of us are honest, we all have had some aspect of that response when life goes quite haywire. And if you’ve lived any amount of time on this green earth, it already has. I hope this short article helps you overcome that feeling when life goes haywire again— And not to belabor the point— but haywire will probably occur again at some level. That’s because Lucifer— who became satan— decided to use that deep-seated jealousy and hatred he had for mankind, and bait him to sin. Unfortunately, Adam and Eve fell for it, and sin entered the world. Because sin entered the world, days, times and seasons of “haywire” are common.

The next thing I want to do is separate the creation. First there are the spiritual created beings. This group would primarily consist of angels. There are other created beings, but naming them would require a crash course in spiritual beings, and I’m not prepared to go there today. Next would be created objects like planets and other space-like objects. Lastly, would be living things, created to live on our planet Earth. I say that because we really don’t know of any other living things living on any other planets. In that category would be the Sons of Seth. And again, I realize there are other created beings created before mankind. My answer is as stated before, I’m not prepared to do any kind of quick course on the various beings created before Adam and Eve. Within the beings created to live on this earth are the many fauna, plants, insects, mammals, all those that live in the sea and those that live on land.

As far as God's love goes, I'm sure He loved all that He created because in Genesis after each creation segment, it says that He looked at what He created and He saw that it was good. Our Genesis account does not talk about anything else other than what lives on our Earth presently. I'm going to skip over everything that lives on the planet presently and discuss human beings.

There is a reason why I'm going to look at God's love in that fashion, and that reason is Jesus. While God may love all of His creation, there is a very special reason why He loves mankind. Mankind has an ability no other creature was given— maybe except for Lucifer. The ability to worship is a very special one. Once Lucifer defied God and became satan, falling from God's commands, he no longer kept his job or position. Adam and Eve, on the other hand, had Jesus. He wouldn't become our sacrificial King until thousands of years later, but with God time is not something that holds Him back. Once Jesus became our sacrificial King, and mankind each accept Him as Lord and Savior by believing in our hearts and confessing with our mouths that Jesus is Lord, we are saved. The blood of Jesus now covers us.

No matter what you think of yourself or your “haywire” moments in life, if you have accepted Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior, nothing— and I mean nothing— can separate you from the love of God. Paul said it best. Let's read this from the New Living Translation:

“What shall we say about such wonderful things as these? If God is for us, who can ever be against us? Since he did not spare even his own Son but gave him up for us all, won't he also give us everything else? Who dares accuse us whom God has chosen for his own? No one— for God himself has given us right standing with himself. Who then will condemn us? No one— for Christ Jesus died for us and was raised to life for us, and he is sitting in the place of honor at God's right hand, pleading for us. Can anything ever separate us from Christ's love? Does it mean he no longer loves us if we have trouble or calamity, or are persecuted, or hungry, or destitute, or in danger, or threatened with death? (As the Scriptures say, ‘For your sake we are killed every day; we are being slaughtered like sheep.’) No, despite all these things, overwhelming victory is ours through Christ, who loved us. And I am convinced that nothing can ever separate us from God's love. Neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither our fears for today nor our worries about tomorrow— not even the powers of hell can separate us from God's love. No power in the sky above or in the earth below— indeed, nothing in all creation will ever be able to separate us from the love of God that is revealed in Christ Jesus our Lord” (Romans 8:31-39).

God gave up His Son for a death so horrible and a pain so great to redeem mankind. He risked His Name, His honor and His blood to do so. For those of us who feel like God doesn't love us sometimes because of the stupid things we've done, let me ask all of us this question: Do you think you're so special that He would renege on His honor, His Name, and the sacrifice His Son did with His blood to foster your sense of unbelief by hating you when you made an idiot mistake? Let me ask myself the same question. My answer is NO. I've had to ask myself the same question and my answer is always NO.

I've had some say that I'm a bit tough to say some of the things I say. But let reality sink in for you. In order for God to have allowed His Son— Jesus, as well as the Holy Spirit to say, “Yes, Yes, we will go,” was that He was serious. Father God was not playing around. He means every single word in the Bible He has uttered. And think about this one single reality: Father God Loves His Son. Nothing in this world, the world to come and any other world ever or never known to mankind, can ever change that. God Loves Jesus so much that He would never violate His word and the promises He made when He promised you salvation. Just because you have failed does not mean He stops loving you.

Repentance

We are talking about the Creator of the World here. We are talking about the Being who created you. I find it impossible to think that He is so unaware that He has no clue human beings are going to make mistakes and fail. If we think about this for two seconds, it seems pretty safe to say human beings are going to fail. If we can figure that out, I'm sure our Creator knew that before He created us. It seems likely He installed a fail safe. In other words, knowing humans who accepted Him as Lord and Savior were going to fail, He instituted the New Testament Covenant. Within that covenant is the institution of repentance. When we repent, there had to be a salvation so strong that no matter how we fail, it would do nothing to destroy our salvation. 1 John 1:9: “If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.”

Repentance is crucial, even when we keep failing. I know it sounds like a dichotomy: How is it that we fail— sometimes repeatedly— and yet we are still saved? The key is the power of the blood of Jesus and His acceptance of repentance. I don’t mean to imply that when we fail, we are sorry. Many times we are. But there are times when our trap in a specific area is so strong, we fail repeatedly. The key is to come to Jesus and ask for His help. The devil wants you to feel so shamed that you don’t go to the Lord. I’m encouraging you to keep going to Jesus. There will come a time when the trap you are in will not be able to hold you any longer.

You might ask why is that? Because the blood of Jesus is so perfect that nothing can break salvation. Salvation doesn’t fail because you do. Eventually, You will overcome because He has overcome. Keep going to Jesus when you fail and eventually the trap will be sprung and failure will not be your option. The New Testament talks about overcoming.

John 16:33: “These things I have spoken to you, so that in Me you have peace. In the world you have tribulation, but take courage; I have overcome the world.”

Romans 8:37: “But in all these things we overwhelmingly conquer through Him who loved us.”

1 John 4:4: “You are from God, little children, and have overcome them; because greater is He who is in you than he who is in this world.”

1 John 5:5: “Who is the one who overcomes the world, but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?”

Revelation 2:7: “He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes, I will grant to eat of the tree of life which is in the Paradise of God.”

Revelation 12:11: “And they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb and because of the word of their testimony, and they did not love their life even when faced with death.”

1 John 5:4-5: “For whatever is born of God overcomes the world; and this is the victory that has overcome the world— our faith. Who is the one who overcomes the world, but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?”

John 10:28-30: “... and I give eternal life to them, and they will never perish; and no one will snatch them out of My hand. My Father, who has given them to Me, is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father’s hand. I and the Father are one.”

Your part in overcoming is to go to Jesus. Jesus’ part has already been done. His blood is so successful that nothing can destroy the blood of Jesus.

Nations

Revelation 2:26: “And he who overcomes, and keeps My works until the end, to him I will give power over the nations—”

1 John 5:4: “For everyone born of God overcomes the world. This is the victory that has overcome the world, even our faith.”

1 John 4:4: “You, dear children, are from God and have overcome them, because the one who is in you is greater than the one who is in the world.”

Only two nations on the whole face of the Earth started because of the God of the Bible: Israel and America. But there are nations who have a majority Christian population. When a nation looks to the Lord, He covers them. When the majority of Christians and Jews in that nation pray for their nation and its protection, He answers prayer. Now, we have all heard the experiences of people who know of the God of the Bible but have never prayed to Him. In some of these cases, and in a desperate act for help, they pray to Him and He answers prayer. Unfortunately, Father God has given humans choice. Not even our prayers can help when humans do stupid things. With a population doing stupid things in a nation, you can bet that they will experience problems. As a Christian population in a nation we are there to pray for our nation to get them out of trouble.

Love When We Need Him

Look at America right now. DOGE found a bulk of money lost to waste, fraud and abuse when they opened the books. Our crooked politicians, especially those connected to socialism and communism, have bankrupted us. Very few presidents have the fortitude to stop the slide. Too many have contributed to the problem by ignoring it. It took a miracle for us to vote for a president that wants to save the country. For four straight years we had a president that allowed millions of people into our country illegally. Just by walking across the border illegally, they have driven the cost of living to astronomical numbers: rent, food, transportation.¹ If you have read any of my previous articles, you have read the proof in the footnotes.

You might ask the question, “Why would anyone want to bankrupt their own country and cause such chaos? Why would anyone allow multiplied millions into their own country to cause their own fellow citizens to experience crime, higher rents, groceries and higher expense levels, possibly ruining the lives of their own neighbors?” Because socialism’s ideology is to control the country. They believe when they cannot succeed in that control, they must enact chaos, as well as wrecking an economy. Socialism all by itself wrecks economies, but when their desire is to control the country, it is to cause disaster. Their philosophy is to drive people into fear. When people are driven by fear they will choose what looks like stability. They will lie and say that they can lower prices and deliver peace. It’s easy to do when the media are socialists themselves.

What’s worse is that the socialists who are in key places of business have purposefully refused to hire American citizens. They have hired out tech jobs as well as other high paying jobs to H-1B visas so no American will ever be able to get a job. You hear this lie frequently: “Oh, immigrants just take low paying jobs no one wants.” It’s a total lie. These companies never hire Americans and they will never do so—unless forced to like Trump did during his first term. Unfortunately, Musk convinced him this time around not to do that. Now that Musk is gone, whether Trump listens to the people from his first term concerning the visa situation is unclear.²

Recently, one CEO of an American company went public to let us know that our young Americans will never be hired by these companies because they will never get degrees from the most elite universities.³ If they come from the Midwest down throughout the South, elite universities will not accept them. Couple that with the fact that our own Americans can't get hired by these tech companies and we're being discriminated to the extent of poverty. All this nonsense about "righting wrongs" is just an excuse for what some want as retributions. This is why we must make job hiring and other access to higher education based on merit.

I've heard nonsense that they don't hire whites from the Midwest throughout the South because children from the Midwest to the South are somehow not as competent as youth from other places. We all know that's a total lie. The reason youth from those regions of the country are not hired or admitted is because they tend to be more conservative. Plus, they know the score. They read and follow conservative figures so they can argue the science of socialism and communism. They understand how both socialism and communism do not follow science at all. Kids from those parts of the country know the history of both ideologies. In every place where either has been instituted, the economy fails, the poor become poorer and the rights of freedom and liberty are lost by its citizens. There's a reason why so many people come to America. There's a reason why you never hear of people trying to migrate by the same numbers into countries like Russia, China, North Korea or Iran.

When you vote a president in that wants to help the country you see the results. By removing illegals, increasing income for citizens by bringing in jobs and by establishing policies like tariffs that bring money into national coffers, you see the results. Those results are increased American jobs and more money into the vaults of our US Treasury.⁴ The problem with Trump is that his monetary policies are unorthodox. Those policies are old school and not socialistic. The policies taught to many economists today are socialistic in nature, not capitalist. Like a household with a husband who manages the money like a cheapskate and a wife who spends like a drunken sailor, you're never going to have a normal household. This is the problem in our country right now.

Lawyers as well as economists are all being taught socialistic law and economics. Our president knows how to run an economy. The problem for the socialist economists is that Trump's truly capitalistic policies are working. The mainstream media is hiding Trump's successes. We have a Federal Reserve who is socialistic and political in nature. The nation needs the Fed to lower interest rates. We all know the head of the Fed refuses to do so because he is basing his policies on politics. How do I know that? He never should have lowered interest rates with Biden; yet, he did a number of times. At first Powell's policy concerning Trump seemed odd, but with all the nonsense about tariffs, I could understand it.

Tariffs can cause trouble if they're enacted improperly. I knew Trump would not do that; why do I say that? Because the sky didn't fall during Trump's first term, like so many claimed would happen. Plus, if you look through an educated history of the proper way to enact tariffs, you can see catastrophe is not the end result. So as the numbers have proven Trump is doing the right thing, the right way, a small nudge in interest rates will help our nation.⁵ Let me say that I mean small—there is no reason to follow the crazy adventure in interest rates that Powell did during Biden's four years. Why is he refusing now? I believe it is solely because of politics.⁶

When we use socialistic law and economics we get into even more trouble. Look at the investigation that has uncovered the fact that both the Biden and Obama Administrations politicized and weaponized the DOJ. The results were myriad, from election manipulation to eventually targeting the parents in our country. Both socialism and communism believe that the country's children belong to the government. They allow parents the early years for the care of children. But they don't see parents as the ultimate authority in their children's lives.⁷

We live in a representative republic that votes democratically. I realize most people don't know this. That means we work under natural science with capitalism as the best choice for our economy. Within natural science, people are allowed free choice and function with freedom and liberty as long as we don't break constitutional laws enacted by a limited government. So naturally, citizens have the right to oversee what's going on with their own children. You see, socialism and communism don't believe that. Those ideologies don't allow parents any final choices or decisions in their children's lives. Now you can see why both Obama and Biden Administrations wanted a legal case to start the control of your children. Tulsi Gabbard has released the documents proving this. It was revealed by the National School Boards Association that America's parents were the target of a coordinated political operation to remove their rights as parents.⁸

Our God Loves Us

The media has basically been silent on all fronts. If you read the footnotes, you can see socialism and communism has infected the nation through the Democrat Party in America. The only way to stop it is to tell people how much trouble we are in—and prove it to them. If they cannot see the writing on the wall, prayer is our only hope. Jesus answering our prayers is the only hope for America. I pray I have proven through the word of God that Father

It starts at their abolition of personal property and follows through to their idea of controlling labor or taking the wages of citizens. Keep scrolling because it's after that you will find their theories and desires concerning family, marriage and children. It is quite horrifying, but it gets worse when you keep scrolling. Here is the manifesto: < <https://www.marxists.org/archive/marx/works/1848/communist-manifest/ch02.htm> > Many are sold the set of lies that socialism is better and not as controlling as communism. That is a total lie. That's why I placed the heritage link first. I like to explain it this way: Socialism is communism's mother. Socialism takes all your freedoms at the point of a pen while communism takes them at the point of a gun.

God truly loves us. When we repent and ask Jesus into our hearts, His love remains, no matter how many errors we pile up. Hope in the living God is our only solution.

I can run through a list of accomplishments the Trump Administration has enacted in a short period of time— things done in six months that other presidents haven't done in four years.⁹ I've placed the manifesto all socialists and communists list as their needs in order to take over a country that they don't have total control over. Look, nobody is perfect; we all make mistakes and we all fail at some point in time. But that's the point of this article. I'm not suggesting that we should ignore criminal behavior. We must expose criminals and they have to pay their debt to society. When a majority of a nations' media in a country refuses to talk about the success of God's solution, they are on the side of a demonic narrative. We must expose this.

When we have gone astray as a people, Father God reveals the wrong choices we have made. He also reveals the wrong people we are associating with, if that's applicable to our individual situations. He reveals the wrong voices who want to force a narrative on us that may contain only half truths. It is because Father God loves us that He reveals what is truth. He reveals the traps we've gotten ourselves in to— not only individually, but as national issues also. And He does everything He can to show us the way out of our mess. All of this is because He loves us. Furthermore, I wrote a book proving our nation was not only started by Christians, but that the early laws were instituted because of our forebears' belief in the Bible.¹⁰

Our early fathers and mothers made a covenant with the God of the Bible. Father God allows all solutions to be revealed through His Son Jesus. That we can even ask for solutions, is because of Divine Love. Never lose sight of that. His love is the only hope for America. His love is YOUR ONLY HOPE. His love is my only hope. His love never fails.

If you are unsure about your salvation, you don't need to be. Paul made it very clear in the New Testament. Romans 10:9-11: "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed." Paul explains how simple it is to receive Jesus' salvation. When you believe in your heart that God raised Jesus from the dead and you believe in Jesus with your heart, His righteousness passes to you— infuses and encompasses you. You are now righteous. When you make that confession with your mouth, God accepts that and salvation is given by Him to you. You are saved.

Teaching Terms

This is the end of the article. But I thought I would list six words the Bible uses for love at the end of this article, along with one word not used in the Bible, even though it is Greek and the apostles could have used it— so seven words in total. This is basically a short teaching on the words the Bible uses to describe different ideas of love.¹¹

The first is not seen in the Bible, but it is Greek and could have been used. Eros: It is basically carnal and is all about you— What you can get; your needs and your wants. It is focused on itself. It also is not found in the Bible.

The second word we'll look at is Hebrew. Ahab describes many exceptionally close, emotional bonds. Abraham loved Isaac (Genesis 22:2); Isaac loved Esau (Genesis 25:28); Israel loved Joseph more than his other children (Genesis 37:3). You also see the love of a husband for his wife: Isaac and Rebekah; Jacob and Rachel (see Genesis 24:67; 29:18). Interesting that we see love for your neighbor as yourself (Leviticus 19:18). Ahab even describes the Old Testament's call to loving the Lord (Deuteronomy 6:5).

¹¹ < <https://www.bibleconnection.com/5-biblical-words-for-love> > I used my own Greek sources, but a link I also used is listed here, if you desire to read it.

The third word is Stergo: It is a love that exists within a family, between children, grandparents, aunts and uncles. It even describes the love of a nation to a respected hero of that nation. It speaks of familial devotion.

The fourth we'll look at is Phileo. It speaks of the affection of a boyfriend and girlfriend and carries the idea of two people loving based on mutual satisfaction, and describes brotherly love between friends.

The fifth word is Agape. The focus is on others with no strings attached. What's interesting is that it's not frequently used in secular Greek texts of the time. It describes love between people but it describes the love of people for God (John 13:35; 1 John 2:15). It describes God's love for humanity and of Father God's love for Christ (Romans 5:8; John 17:26). I find this very interesting because it's the reason we can trust in God's love for us. Agape occurs when an individual sees, recognizes, understands and appreciates the value of an object or a person, causing an object or person to be held in great esteem and admiration. When we see its use in John 3:16, we can understand that when God looked at the world— even with all mankind's failures, God looked upon the world and saw the image of Himself— Christ— in mankind and He reached out to save us. Agape loves so intensely that it will go as far to sacrifice everything. It is that God kind of love, expecting nothing in return. But it's not just a mental exercise. Agape takes action in love and demonstrates itself by that action. We see Agape in all members of the Godhead. In Galatians 5:22, the fruit of the Spirit is love.

The sixth word is Agapao. This word describes God's love; His unconditional and benevolent love. This word is used exclusively to describe the love seen among Christians. It is also used to describe the fact that love is of God. The connection to Christians is because those who love by God's love, are born by God because love is born of God (1 John 4:7-8).

The last, or seventh word is a combination of two words. So you have two root words in phileo and adelphos, meaning brother. When you combine these two roots, the word Philadelphia signifies loving someone like a brother or sister. This word does not describe the love God has for us, but rather the love of fraternal fondness. Because of the church at Philadelphia, we see almost a familial bond between the brethren because of Christ (Revelation 3:7-13). One source described it as a love between people that can only be experienced because of Jesus, and without the Christ, we would normally not see this kind fondness or affection.¹²
