

A Collection of Links About Cancer

Hi Gerald and Michelle,

Here is some information I've gathered over time that I said I'd send to you. I hope Josh's treatments bring a cure for him. It was good to have heard they are working on supporting his own immune system because that is the route I've seen in most, if not all, the videos I've watched that can possibly bring us to a true "cure", i.e., getting rid of the cancer and not simply treating the symptoms. We were created with bodies that no one can argue that meet the definition of a miracle. Everything leads to the need to learn how to get back to the basics; nature, our food, herbs, behavior, what is good for us to eat and away from what has been found most that might cause cancer. I see it's the holistic studies and teachings that show us how we should treat and heal each other.

We should also take a real hard look at the synthetic drugs that are good for the pharmaceutical industrial complex and understand the reason they want us all hooked on their drugs, including the chemotherapy and radiation that we've seen time after time destroy patients' bodies. They have made an unbelievable amount of money during this pandemic and still are because they've created an unending line of patients whose immune systems have been compromised by the Covid shots. Myocarditis and other heart issues, strokes, blood clots and other chronic illnesses, such as those they call autoimmune diseases. It's one of, if not mostly, why we have the new term "Turbo Cancers" we hear of almost daily now. It is the Covid shots that have weakened or destroyed our immune systems that could normally keep cancer at bay.

I'm sorry to say that in this dark, evil plan, that I believe is biblical, that it wasn't enough for us to just avoid the shot and be fine. As time passed doctors and scientists found that vaccinated people could "shed" and spread their toxins to others simply by being near them... hugging, kissing, and simply breathing close by.

The good news is that holistic doctors and scientists have had time to study and find ways to counter the onslaught and they've seen cancers destroyed, help folks with alzheimers, autism, and many other ailments that no grow in the well fertilized covid fields each day. I've come to the conclusion that we need to learn the right regimens for us that include what these doctors have found and do it daily or on a regular routine such as detox programs, and fasting regimens found to be very helpful as they weaken the cancer. It seems one of, if not the best way to fight cancer is to starve it in one way or another.

Starting off with some history of how the worst holocaust in history began and is still continuing to happen as I type this.
