ristmas Ancient Traditions In Modern Times

The first formal introduction of the celebration Christmas in Hawasii of arrived with the missionaries in 1820. The concept of "peace on earth, goodwill to men" was not new to the Hawaiians. From the time before recorded time, Hawaii celebrated from mid-November into the new year. The rising of the constellation Makalili, the Pleiades, heralded the wet season and the season of peace with no war. Commoners and royals celebrated together. It was the time of Lonoikamakahiki, the time for games of skill, and feasting general congeniality.

New England, historic reports of Captain George Dixon sailing a ship into Waimea Bay on Kauai in 1786 describe a Christmas feast of roasted pig, pie and grog mixed with coconut milk. The captain and his men toasted friends and family back home in England. Some stories add in burning branches thrown from the cliffs, possibly an early form of fireworks. Other reports describe the same "fireworks" from the slopes of Punchbowl on Oahu.

Kawaiahao Church, commissioned by Kamehameha II and Kamehameha III, designed by Hiram Bingham, was completed in 1842. It was and is the church of the royal families open to everyone. In 1858 King Kamehameha IV, Alexander Liholiho, declared December 25th to be the kingdom's national day of Thanksgiving. Within two years Santa Claus made his first visit to Washington Place, to deliver gifts to children. Holiday parties were held on the lawn of 'Iolani Palace and Christmas parades filling King Street. Attending the service on Christmas Eve at the church is like stepping back in time to the quiet, early days of our islands.

The love of parades continued into modern times. In the 1950's, 60's and 70's island neighborhoods and communities pooled resources. The Punchbowl, Paoa Valley Christmas parade was a fine example. Anyone who owned an instrument was drafted into the parade ranks. Drums, horns and bells were welcomed. The parade started at the Punchbowl Holy Ghost church, went up Puowaina Drive and down through Paoa Valley - then it made a second round of the route to make sure everyone had a chance to watch.

WOLFGANG

Through the years Hawaiian Christmas echoed across the nation and the world. R. Alex Anderson wrote "Mele Kalikimaka" in 1949. The song became a national Christmas classic when it was recorded by Bing Crosby. For any and all military deployed to Hawaii or from Hawaii the song Protestant missionaries from the many fun opportunities kids have this season. resonated home, family and Hawaii. Just hum along, "Mele Kalikimaka is the thing to say on a bright Hawaiian Christmas Day," and someone will answer, "in Hawaii we have two seasons, summer and Christmas!"

Hawaii's enthusiasm for parades has never diminished, only grown. The 31st Annual Honolulu City Lights lighting of a 50-foot tall tree in front of Honolulu Hale (city hall), is followed by one of the most unique parades in the nation, holiday displays, keiki rides, a wreath exhibition and holiday concert all beginning at 4 p.m. on December 5th.

The big news this year is the addition of three new parade mascots. At nine feet tall, the red, green and yellow old fashioned Christmas lights will dance their way along the parade route and make appearances for photo-ops at numerous Honolulu Hale lawn events during the holiday season

The second big scoop is the addition of a new train for keiki rides. Ala Moana Center donated their much-loved Candy Cane Train to the Friends of Honolulu City Lights, forever. With all the new construction and the master plan for the Center the train attraction was stuck in the "train station." What better place to be – Honolulu City Lights.

This new cookbook by Denise Hayashi Yamaguchi is one of the many books out there that would make the perfect Xmas gift.

The oft repeated question, "What can I take home to family and friends that is 'real' Hawaii ?" The question has an easy answer. Books and music. Easy to find, light and easy to pack, stories and songs of Hawaii to share. Read a page or two or hum along, you might need two copies.

The shoppers favorite, ABC Stores, carry children's books and CD's, as does the new Longs Drugs, finally opened in Waikiki. Ala Moana Center has the only full service bookstore, Barnes & Noble. Walmart, near Ala Moana, has an everchanging assortment of titles. Possibly the best location for shopping is Na Mea Hawaii at the Ewa end of Ward Warehouse. Books on Hawaii, both new and rare, large bins of CD's by category and a staff who know not just the merchandise but may well be related to the author or recording artist. Mutual Publishing and BeachHouse hold the record for new titles. The majority of music CD's are either recorded and produced or distributed by Mountain Apple Company.

GSA of the Month: Dean Hashimoto	.3

Jnbelievable. Where in the world did the year go and why was it so dang busy? These past few months were at warp speed. I'm used to being busy and having a crazy schedule, but somehow I always get it done. I gotta say, I didn't do that this year. I dropped a lot of balls. If you were one of them I apologize, but this schedule was beyond insane. I do have to say it's not just me. As I spoke with my friends in the industry, there was a lot commiserating, so at least I wasn't alone. That being said, it's not quite over yet. The busiest month of the year is now upon us. There are several concierge events at the beginning of the month, and then.. the big one. It's time for our annual Mahalo Party, where we announce your choice of concierge of the year! Remember to get your votes in. Once again, time will be tight, so here's a few things to remember. Vote only once. Multiple votes will be discarded. Do not white out the printed address on the back cover of the magazine. The name and signature of the person voting must match the pre-printed address label on the magazine. Votes that don't match or if the label is blanked out will be discarded. If you do not receive your own copy of the magazine, I am sorry but you are not eligible to vote. That's just how it works.

Now onto the big event. I'm thrilled to announce that SKY Waikiki has generously offered to host the party this year. I know how many of you are excited to come check it out, so it's such a great fit. Please note however, there are occupancy issues at work here, so there will be seat limitations. I will be out of town until December 1st, but upon my return I will send out invites with how many seats I have for you. Obviously if there is room, I will get as many of you in as I can, but it's going to be very difficult to juggle getting in representation from every hotel, with a few extra seats for the nominees hotels plus accommodate the larger groups, etc. In short, please bear with me and understand if you try to RSVP with a larger number than I feel I can accept in the beginning. It's a mammoth task trying to be fair and get everyone in. Also, are you getting the magazine but don't usually get an invite email from me? Please reach out via email and let me know you are interested. Remember, I suffered a pretty major email fail earlier this year that I have been too busy to deal with yet. I no longer have many of your emails that I used to have. Please let me know who you are so I can get you the invitation. This one is open to all of our readers that I can fit in within the limitations that have been given to me, and I want to know you are out there. Please also remember, this event is a food drive for the Hawaii Food Bank. Please bring canned food items to give to those less fortunate. I really really really want to raise 1,000 pounds of food for them this year, so I am asking for your help. And of course, for every three cans you bring, I will give you a special raffle ticket. If I don't see you, I wish you all a very happy holiday season.

Mahalo for all that you do!

are best as the sun is setting. Food booths open and keiki rides begin at 4 p.m. Mayor Kirk Caldwell opens the festivities from the steps of Honolulu Hale at 6 p.m. the 50-foot Norfolk pine tree and the corridor of lights down King and Punchbowl streets. The parade travels through Chinatown and downtown on its way to Honolulu Hale. A new Santa float and the big candy toss truck will be there. All floats gather at the end of the parade for photo ops. The first night concert follows at 7:30 p.m. with Kapena, Amy Hanaiali'i, Kalei Gamiao and Halau Hula 'O Hokulani. Check the web site for times and dates for ornament making, movie nights, and times for photos with Santa. He will be there until Christmas Eve. Honolulu City Lights displays continue through Saturday, January 3, 2016.

The all new Ala Moana was our front page feature last month. Trust us when we say, it will not disappoint. It looks and feels like New York with a brush stroke of Hawaii. Who knew that Bloomingdales had such a broad range of items, departments and designers. Personal shoppers are there to help - not just to shop with you but also to keep you headed in the right direction when the next display over distracts any attempt to stay on track. And can we say Taste the magic of Christmas past with a stop at the Plumeria Beach House at the Kahala Hotel and Resort for their traditional Christmas Stollen. The traditional taste delight from small-kid days is available from December 1st to 15th from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and December 16th to 31st from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The new chef, Todd Champagne, will continue the Kahala's traditional recipe. Dark and golden raisins, orange and lemon peel, roasted almonds, dark rum, German marzipan, holiday spices. The holiday decor at the hotel is always stunning. This year the giant tree will be unveiled on November 27th with the angel charity tree dedicated to Helping Hands Hawaii as the beneficiary charity. Of course the resident dolphins are always ready to entertain and the feeling is vintage memories.

On Sunday, December 6th Hawaii's Governor, and for the properties that Aqua-Aston Hospitality manages. The Hilton Hawaiian Village welcomes Grace Barraza as the resort's national sales manager. She brings with her 22 years of experince, 15 of which are with Hilton. The resort has also announced that Jessica Heath has come onboard as the resort's hotel manager on duty. Jessica has extensive front office and guest service experience including a stint at the DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel Alana Waikiki as an assistant front office manager. We say hello to Jessica as we say farewell to manager on duty. We want to send out our best wishes to Chandra Huang, who will be retiring on December 17th after 33 years, 6 months and 2 days at the property

David Ige, and First Lady Dawn Amana-Ige open the doors to Christmas at Washington Place on Beretania Street. From 3:30 to 6 p.m. the open house offers a chance to walk back to the time of Hawaiian royalty. Glenn Smith and Chris Kamaka of Ho'okena will be joined by songstress Ku'uipo Kumukahi, entertaining in the royal manner. Reservations are available at 586-0249.

What an accomplishment. Enjoy your retirement,

The rumors that Ward Center and Ward Warehouse were closing are far from true. For this holiday season, and next, the shops are alive and well and welcoming. Ward Villages is presenting something Honolulu has only dreamed of ... an ice rink! Ice skating in New York's Central Park is such a romantic thought - until the reality of the travel and the cold set in. This year Ward Village is putting in an outdoor community ice skating rink for all to enjoy. The Ward Village Ice Rink will offer a special open-air skating experience from November 27th to January 10th at the courtyard of the former IBM Building, adding a 4,200 square foot outdoor ice skating to their line-up of community activities. The rink will be a once-in-alifetime opportunity to ice skate only a short block from the ocean! The rink will be open daily, with tickets (including skate rentals) available at the gate at $15 per person for a one-and-a-half hour skate time

Kids of all ages will be able to watch, sing and ice skate along to Disney® fan favorite, "Frozen Sing-Along Edition." The film follows Princess Anna's epic journey to save her sister, Queen Elsa, and her kingdom from an eternal winter. The event includes a "sing-along" edition of the popular film, with the smash-hit song "Let it Go," by Idina Menzel.

Through December 24th families can stop by Santa's Beach House at the Ward Entertainment Center, Box Office Level (near Ward 16 Theatres) throughout the holiday season for photos with Santa and a chance to share your wish list.

From December 5th to 19th, Ward Village presents its annual Holiday Concert Series with free live entertainment every Saturday in December from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Ward Warehouse Amphitheater, including: Jacob Kailiwai, Natalie Kamau'u, and Mark Yamanaka and Kuapoa. Every night there is a light show Continues on page 8.

Most of your guests I'm sure get a big kick out of seeing Christmas trees decorated in your lobbies while the sun beams down on them and kids are traipsing sand across the floor. Over the years I've heard friends say while drinking their Mai Tais "It doesn't feel like Christmas!" Well, if that's the case for your guests then a I have a few suggestions to get them all Kris Kringley and feel like it's a White Christmas even though the palm trees are swaying.

The thing that's swaying at DIAMOND HEAD THEATRE this December is a garish leg lamp and the fun times of A Christmas Story: The Musical, based on the 1980s classic holiday film that starred Peter Billingsley as Ralphie, the kid who wanted a Red Ryder BB Gun for Christmas. The musical version of that film is outstanding with Tony nominated music and lyrics by Benj Pasek and Justin Paul and book by Joseph Robinette. This created team has taken this heartwarming film and turned it into a spectacular musical. The show opened on Broadway in 2012 (I was there on opening night) and has since become the quintessential musical to celebrate the joys of childhood and the memories of family Christmases. For those of you who are not familiar with the film don't feel bad. I went to the pre-Broadway opening of the production in Chicago and was the only one in the audience who didn't see the film. With that said, you don't need to be a fan of the film to fall in love with Ralphie Parker and his quirky family growing up in 1940s Indiana where all he wants for Christmas is the above mentioned Red Ryder Air Rifle and all his mother can say is "you gonna shoot your eye out," which of course turns into a grand musical number reminiscent of those 1950s television variety shows. The musical takes you on a journey through the days leading up to Christmas through the reminiscent eyes of a grownup Ralphie. Your guests will enjoy the number "Up on Santa's Lap" where a cranky elf and Santa have to deal with children's peculiar requests, in addition to all the crazy things that kids do and go through for holiday fun. Don't worry the pink bunny suit is still there. For those of you who don't know want I'm talking about, you'll just have to buy a ticket. The production runs December 4 to 23 with performances on Fridays & Saturdays at 8 p.m., Saturday matinees at 3 p.m. and Sunday matinees at 4 p.m. Call the box office at 734-0274 or go online at DiamondHeadTheare.com. If you can't get your guests to leave the jacuzzi or your infinity pool then I suggest switch shifts with someone and head down to theater yourself and bring some friends, it's a really, really good show!

What else, is really, really good? It's the HAWAII SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA which made its debut in 2012 (as did A Christmas Story: The Musical on Broadway) and is carrying on the legacy of the Honolulu Symphony which was founded in 1900. Symphonic musical may not make all your guest "giggly" but for those wanting the get into the holiday spirits, I suggest they check out Holiday Pops on December 12th at 7:30 p.m. and December 13th at 2 p.m. to enjoy all those classic tunes of sleigh bells, silver bells and jingle bells with a little local twist under the direction of Conductor Rob Fisher. Tickets are available online at hisymphony.org or by call 946-8742. This is a great "date night" for your guests who have children. So all you'll need to do is find them a baby sitter that won't let the kids "shoot their eyes out" with a BB gun!

Now, where else can you find shooting in a holiday tale? Ah, yes, the toy soldiers battling the Mouse King in E. T. A. Hoffmann's The Nutcracker and the Mouse King, which was turned into a ballet with music and orchestrations by Tchaikovsky at the Imperial Theatre in St. Petersburg, Russian in 1892. (Ah, too bad it didn't debut in 1912, that would have work out nicely with the two 2012 debuts above, oh well, this column can't always be symmetrical.) Clearly most of your guests will not be in the mood to see a ballet, even the Nutcracker, while the beaches of Waikiki, the coast line of the North Shore and Ala Moana Center's new 'Ewa Wing beckons them, but try this on for size to lure them into BALLET HAWAI'I'S production of The Nutcracker. First, it's the Nutcracker, how many people from Louisiana and Kentucky can brag to their friends at the Piggly Wiggly that they saw The Nutcracker in Hawai'i. (That also goes for your

is that New York City Ballet Principal Dancer Megan Fairchild, direct from her Broadway debut in the revival of the musical On The Town will reprise her role as the Sugar Plum Fairy. The danced this role in PBS' Live From Lincoln Center in December of 2011. (Oh, we were so close to 2012, we just missed it by 18 days!) Not everyone gets to experience a dancer of her caliber and this holiday ballet is an exceptional opportunity for your guests to see excellence in dance. Performances are Friday, December 18 and Saturday, December 19th at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, December 20th at 2 p.m. at the Blaidell Concert Hall. Tickets range from $35 to $99. Tickets are also on sale at ticketmaster.com. For more information call (808) 521-8600 or visit ballethawaii.org. The production also features dancers from New York City Ballet, Miami City Ballet and Caroline Ballet as well as students from Ballet Hawaii's school under the direction of Artistic Director Pamela Taylor Tongg who is celebrating her 30th anniversary with the company. There is a special opening night VIP dinner at Chef Chai's prior to the performance. The ticket price of $165 includes dinner, VIP seating and reserved parking. Please call 521-8600 to make a reservation.

Well, Christmas is coming and the goose is getting fat and I'm looking forward to seeing all of your at the Concierge of the Year party at Sky Waikiki to see who I will help crown our very own Sugar Plum Fairy or Cavalier for 2015. (Hey, who was Concierge of the Year in 2012? I want to buy them a drink!) ~ Lance Roe Sponsored by Depsi

Here we are, into red and green time, packing up boxes for the mainland folks, filled with the usual cases of Hawaiian Host chocolate covered macadamia nuts, Hurricane Popcorn, an assortment of Honolulu Cookie Company treats and anything labeled Li Hing.

As I hum a few bars of "these are a few of my favorite things," an idea grows in my jingle bell brain. What would I wrap up and give my pals here in Hawaii, or visitors, or for that matter, give myself? My best answer to that question is time. Time to see and do, go and look. O.K., maybe buy just a few treasures.

NEAR – yet far from mall madness, take time to do the downtown walk around made easy with extended hours. First Friday in Chinatown, December 4th is the beginning of HHH - Happy Holiday Hours. Shops and galleries are open until 7 p.m. every Friday through December. The Louis Pohl Gallery has a hundred choices for small, elegant art pieces to start or complete an art collection. The December exhibition also features the work of Sanit Khewhok. One of Hawaii's most renowned painters, he is known for portraits on ice cream spoons and very large paintings. This show is called "Doors." Until the opening, it's anyone's guess what size they will be. After shopping, dine around.

NEEDING COFFEE – One "must see" is the art on the walls of Brue Bar on Merchant Street. A newcomer to Hawaii and Hawaii's art scene, artist Sam Guerrero is showing a collection of monoprinted skyscapes juxtaposed with titles that express the frustrations of transitioning to island life. Newcomers from the mainland to Hawaii, Sam's wife, Marisa, works in social media for Outrigger Hotels and Resorts.

NOT TO BE MISSED - Without the Cazimero Christmas show, we can all still feel and hear the spirit. Amy Hanaiali'i and Willie K are back, together on Hawaii's most elegant stage. Their music will make the magic happen at Hawaii Theatre, 7:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, December 18 and 19. On Sunday the show is at 4 p.m., early enough to allow the younger generation to hear the music for the first time. One bit of advice, bring Kleenex, always necessary when Willie sings O Holy Night.

NEW WORD? - Do you know the word, Parsi? No, it isn't a spicy food or a vegetable. It is name of the followers of Zoroastrianism, one of the world's oldest religions. Somewhere around the 8th or 10th century the Parsis migrated from central Asia to India. Through January the East-West Center Gallery has an exhibit of Parsi textiles, silk and muslin so fine it is hard to believe their age. The history, detailed in the exhibit, recounts not only the religion and artistry but also a people important to the modernization of India. A plus for this show is the plentiful parking during the holiday break at the University of Hawaii. Beyond the gallery the grounds of the East-West Center are a lovely place to stroll, far, as they say, from the crowds and close to the Japanese garden, Japanese Tea House and a Thai Pavillion. A small factoid, then Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson wielded a shovel at the 1961 groundbreaking for EWC. His wife, Lady Bird, planted trees.

NOT SHOPPING - after a quick trip to Barnes & Noble take time to park yourself under a palm tree, or maybe on a soft couch, and read. What? During the holidays? According to the TV doctors, a few hours of stress relief makes everything easier. They say, even on a Hawaii vacation taking a half day of focused relaxation makes the rest of the time better. Check out the Books & Music story or pick up the one story not to be missed - Charley Memminger's Aloha, Lady Blue: The Mystery of Kahala Road. Memminger has covered crime, features and edited newspapers in Hawaii for over 30 years. Local Watermark Publishing released the soft cover edition of the book. Suggestion, don't read this one late into the night.

NOTHING BETTER - than the Hawaiian sound of Christmas - play it in the car, house or hotel room, Henry Kapono's I Wish Christmas Was Everyday, CAZ Christmas, Keola Beamer's Ki Ho'alo Christmas and Keali'i Reichel's Maluhia. all full of real Hawaiian Christmas.

NAUGHTY OR NICE – Santa arriving by outrigger canoe, The Nutcracker, Big Santa at Ala Moana are our favorite traditions and Hawaiian Christmas classics, to be sure. Another classic tradition, the final Hawaii Symphony Orchestra concert of the calendar year, ends with Beethoven's famous Symphony No.9, "Ode to Joy". The Oahu Choral Society will be there. It brings to mind the year that the chorus was a bit upstaged by all the "Pegs Legs", the team dedicated to helping Hawaii's beloved watercolor painter Peggy Chun. Her paintings can be found in lobbies and suites of Waikiki's finest hotels. Her "Legs" could always be found in some kind of mischief. One of the "Legs" was singing in the chorus that holiday season. The other twenty-four of us were seated in the third row - wearing red, green and fuzzy reindeer antlers. I really have no idea where I - oops - we found that many. I do remember that audience members came to ask if we were a club and how could they join. Peggy would have been proud. If the fall preview with JoAnn Falletta is a clue, we can count on a spectacular show. See you there!

Hawaii's number one topic - food. "Taste Our Love For The Land", by Denise Hayashi Yamaguchi, is a mouth-watering tome sub-titled, "recipes and sustainability stories from the chefs of the Hawaii Food & Wine Festival. It is a culinary journey through the eyes and palates of chefs who have participated in the fest. Pages are filled by thirtyone selected chefs from the more than 200 chef-participants. Most chefs are local to the islands. Others have a connection to Hawaii. All have contributed their food expertise in a way that gives the reading audience the feeling of being in their kitchen, chopping side by side with the chef. The book is available at all Roy's Restaurants. Page 85 has Roy's "Dad's Teriyaki Short Ribs." Just the photo makes the mouth water.

Food is actually a major theme for Hawaii's authors and publishers. Most of the books have stories to accompany the recipe and the reader is starving by page 10. An unexpected pleasure is Lynette Lo Tom's "A Chinese Kitchen" inspired by her Chinese mother, Lorna Hung Kee Lee.

The stories take the reader back to a time when a grandma might quote, "when you eat fruit, think of the tree that bore it. When you drink water, think of its source."

"Hawai'i's Food Dictionary" makes Hawai'i's culinary terms understandable. It makes sorting out all the ethnic food names very easy. Cookbooks and fine dining restaurant menus with fancy food terminology become instantly understandable for newcomers and even local folks who may not know a particular ethnic food. Here is a taste test: Oboro, Kau Yuk, Ketjap Manis, Ginnan, Tai, Toen Jang, Zuiki. Don't know? Look 'em up. "Cooking Hawaiian Style Two" is all 'ohana recipes from Lani Tabura and friends, inspired by the television show of the same name.

Mutual Publishing has a new, improved version of "Poke, Hawai'i's Food" by Chef Sam Choy. It has all the fun stories from the first edition and a selection of new and improved recipes. The Guest Chefs section includes many of the Food & Wine Festival stars.

"A Harvest of Hawaii Plantation Pidgin, The Japanese Way", by Myra Sachiko Ikeda is history, food, words and illustrations that take the reader back in time. The book explains how plantation workers developed pidgin to communicate between languages. Reading the glossary of words brings awareness of the things we say and understand and may not notice in our own vocabulary.

Shopping for board books with easily turnable pages leads directly to Mutual Publishing and BeachHouse books including "Hawaiian Ocean Lullaby," "Rock-a-Bye Baby," "Baby's First A.B.C in Hawaii," and "Shave Ice in Hawaii". Add to the stack larger, next level books, "His Majesty's Goldfish," "Hawaiian Word Book just for Kids" and 'The New What Am I? A Hawaii Animal Guessing Game".

For the inquisitive scholar in all of us, Ancestral Places/Understanding Kanaka Geographies sounds formidable but it's not. The book explores the deep connections the Kanaka, native Hawaiian, people enjoy with their environment. It honors historical accounts of places and tells the story of how these stories create the sense of place. Written by Katrina-Ann Kapa'anaokalaokeola Nakoa Oliveira, a Hawaiian scholar, it is a new way to look at Hawaii. Published by Native Peoples, University of Oregon Press, the book is available at Native Books at Ward Warehouse.

Remember Mana Magazine? It served as an independant voice for the Hawaiian community but sadly shut down a few months ago. Not to worry, the best of the magazine is now available in a special book due out December 15th by Watermark Publishing. MANA: A Journal of Hawai'i will present insightful articles, and beautiful photos and an anthology of 20 of their best articles as a hardcover, coffee table-style book.

allowed complete access to Frank Sinatra's musical arrangements. Working with Hawaii's finest producer, Jon DeMello, the new CD is, believe it or not, Borges first, includes twelve tracks from Old Devil Moon to Aloha 'Oe.

Sean Na'auao's title track, Lehua Beauty, was composed by Frank Kawaikapuokalani Hewett. The entire line-up of songs leaves no doubt that he will continue to win awards. His voice has been charming fans since the 1990's. Jon DeMello, says, "this could be his (Sean) best album to date, the music is delicious and he has never been in better voice."

Jeff Peterson is a Maui boy who's just released O'ahu CD, is a slack key musical journey around our own island. Song titles include Old Pali, Ko'olau Beauty, Manoa Falls, Tantalus, Waimea Bay, Waikiki Hula and more.

The Honolulu City Lights Trolley Tours run from December 6 to 30th. This is the ultimate holiday outing. Just board the trolley and enjoy the lights, no driving, no parking and plenty of photo Ops. A portion of proceeds from ticket sales benefit the Hawaii Foodbank. Tickets are easily available on line at wardvillagesshops.com. The price is $6.50 per person, children under three free. Make a night of it. On December 6 and 13 Kincaid's will offer the trolley ride free for diners. Call 591-2005 for details.

Get creative at Na Mea in Ward Warehouse nearly every day in December. For small materials costs the teachers are there to guide you through the steps to weave a lauhala ornament. Take a card making class with Aunty Lynn at 5:30 p.m. December 10, 15, 17th. Learn a variety of cardmaking techniques. Complete a set of four cards and envelopes with your name, not Hallmark, on the back. Once you master the technique you can easily make more at home.

Through the month of December the Cedar Street Galleries present Matchbox Plus XI. Tiny paintings, drawings, sculptures by over 100 of Hawaii's top artists are for sale at tiny prices. These are artists whose work commands big prices. The beauty of the mini show is the prices are tiny too. The gallery is located on on Cedar Street only an easy two blocks from Wallmart – for those who happen to be shopping in the neighborhood. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

From 8 to 10 a.m. December 12th, Sea Life Park offers what may be the most unigue breakfast with Santa event in the islands. For your dining entertainment count on dolphin and sea lion shows, music and a day of princess appearances and crafts.

The event wizard who brings us the Made in Hawaii show has a Christmas plan in the works with the 1st Annual Mele Kalikimaka Marketplace, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on December 12 and 13 at the Blaisdell Exhibition Hall. Over 100 booths will be filled with food, gifts, books, apparel and crafts. One pop-up show will be filled with already wrapped gifts priced at $10. Everyone will want to be a kid again in Secret Santaland, packed with a rock climbing wall, carnival games, make and take crafts and best of all, a Winter Wonderland where it will actually snow.

Really the season is not complete without Ballet Hawaii's Nutcracker. On the evenings of December 18, 19 and the afternoon of the 20th the Blaisdell Concert Hall will become that place in our dreams where mice and snowflakes dance. The principal dancers are coming if from New York City Ballet, Miami City Ballet and Carolina Ballet. Famed dancer Megan Fairchild may look very familiar. Among her many credits, she was a star in the PBS Live from Lincoln Center televised Nutcracker. Hundreds of local students of Ballet Hawaii's artistic director, Pam Taylor Tongg will have their magic moment on stage as part of this production. This is Tongg's 30th anniversary year with the ballet. For Hawaii fashion fans, Anne Namba is designer of the costumes. Opening night, December 18th the VIP Dinner Package begins with dinner at Chef Chai's, a VIP ticket and Continues on page 21.

Chef's Corner

Tommy Bahama's Executive Chef Andrew Warner

Tommy Bahama opened up a huge three-story store last month on the corner of Beachwalk and Kalakaua. The retail shop on the 1st floor has some super cute items I may go get as Xmas gifts, the restaurant is on the 2nd floor and there's a rooftop bar complete with sandbox & firepits on top. I definitely need to go back and try more of the menu, but most of the menu items I did try were spot on. We spoke to chef Andrew to find out a bit more.

Congratulations on the successful opening of Tommy Is the menu here the same as the on the mainland? Bahama. Was it everything you imagined?

It is everything I imagined and more. This was an exciting new challenge and opportunity for me to come out to Hawaii. I am blessed to be here.

When did you decide you wanted to be a chef?

Even from an early age I have always loved food. One thing that I am very proud of is my heritage. My father is "hapa" and my Grandmother moved from Yokohama years ago to Portland, Oregon. So I was introduced to Sushi, Tempura, Katsu, Sukiyaki and other Japanese foods and flavors. Unfortunately my parents divorced when I was ten and of course with two other brothers in the mix eating at fancy restaurants daily wasn't always in the household budget. So to supplement my craving for nice foods I would ask my mom to tag along when she would buy groceries. I always wanted to pick out new things. Portland has an abundance of farms and great ingredients that you can pick from seasonally so I always enjoy when I get to visit.

What was you first childhood food memory?

I think my first memory of food is when I finally got to eat at a Prime Steak house for the first time. My dad took us to Jakes Grill in downtown Portland. I am sure I have more but you truly appreciate good beef when you have it for the first time. Of course I love my grandmother to death, but she is always feeding the local wildlife with leftovers and unfortunately we did not get steak & eggs the next day. 🙂

Who would you consider your mentor and why?

It would have to be Chef Reed Groban. I started my career at the Fairmont Scottsdale Princess and was able to do all my training in one spot. I don't think that you could replicate the experience and opportunity I was given when I worked underneath him. He challenged me in many different ways. When it came to cooking he had a certain style that was unique, always a few years ahead of the trend. There are things now that I am seeing come out that we talked about years ago. My food to this day still has a lot of influence from what I learned in the first six years of my career. I am happy that we are still in contact today and consider him a close friend.

What's your favorite dish on the menu?

Hands down Scallop Sliders. If you get beautiful fresh dry pack Scallops they are the best. Right now we are getting in Japanese Hokkaido's which have awesome flavor.

Many of the menu items stay true to the classic dishes that have been on the menu for many years at Tommy Bahama. Our guests love the Coconut Shrimp, Ahi Poke, Fish Tacos, & Pina Colada. What I tried to do with all of our ingredients was source as much of it locally as possible. It's always fresher and of course we as a company love to support the community and business that surround us. The one thing that is different from this location is the amount of selections on our fresh sheet. We are constantly changing out our fish based on what is available at auction. We also are partnering with our vendors to source unique seasonal produce to complement those dishes. My goal is to develop long lasting relationships with our suppliers and farmers.

What would we always find in your fridge at home?

A bottle of Red and a bottle of White. I am really enjoying the wine varietal called Filanghina which is from Campania, Italy. Also since I am from Oregon I am biased on my reds. I really enjoy Pinot Noirs from Dundee Hills which is about 20 minutes from my Mom's place.

What are the three must have ingredients in a kitchen? Sea Salt, Olive Oil, and Lemon.

Favorite midnight snack?

Carne Asada Burrito. Since I just moved here from Arizona I have to go with what I know. Would love to switch to a Banh Mi Sandwich but not sure where to get that late night. Any ideas?

Best part about living in Hawaii?

The people and culture. The island is beautiful and has a lot to offer. But I am really enjoying all the people that I am meeting. I have only been on island for about two months and everyone has been so welcoming. I am very happy to call this my new home.

What do you like to do most on your days off?

I like to enjoy the outdoors as much as possible. Also explore new local restaurants. Nothing too fancy, just somewhere to have an outstanding cocktail and great food.

Is there any other information you would like to share?

I really love meeting new people. I hope that in the near future if you visit us at Tommy Bahama that I will be able to introduce myself and share a great dining experience with you. We have such a great team here that I encourage everyone to try us out.

tsp Chipotle Aïoli

6-mm slices

Salt and pepper to taste

basil leaves tsp scallion, bias cut

Roma tomatoes, cut in

Ingredients:

- slider buns 4
- Tbsp clarified butter 2
- Tbsp whole butter 1
 - scallops, U10 size, cleaned
 - w/adductor muscle removed

Preparation: Spread clarified butter over hot sauté pan or flat-top stove. Brown bun interiors and set aside. Sear both sides of scallops until brown- about 2 minutes each side. Add more butter if necessary. Season with salt and pepper to taste Spread Chipotle Aloli (recipe below) on the inside of each bun. Season tomatoes with salt and pepper to taste, then place basil leaf leaves and scallops. Cover with top buns.

For the Chipotle Aioli:

3/4 cup/165 g mayonnaise 3 Tbsp Dijon mustard

11/2 Tbsp canned chipotles in adobo 1/2 Tbsp lime juice 1/4 tsp kosher salt

Seared Scallop Sliders

Preparation: For the aioli, simply mix all ingredients in food processor until smooth and enjoy.

Dining J

Congratulations to Chef William Chen for a successful take over of the Modern Honolulu last month. Supporting sustainability and education, Chef Will created specials for his weekend takeover and held a special event that was both informative and delicious. Executive Chef Keith Pajinag plans on handing over his kitchen twice a year to support his mission. Keep your eyes open for the hashtag #MODERNChefTakeover in the future. The events are worth attending. . Big news in the restaurant industry. Donato Loperfido has been named the Corporate Executive Chef of Il Lupino Trattoria & Wine Bar. He has introduced a new Tapas menu which will be available everyday from 2:30 - 5:30 p.m., and I expect he will be streamline and upgrade the rest of the menu in his true Italian style. Here's hoping he brings back his homemade stracciatella I fell in love with at his old restaurant in Manoa Marketplace. 922-3400. • Japengo has opened new terrace dining at the popular Hyatt restaurant. The new space is 2,200 square feet and seats 108 additional people on the lanai in a mix of island tables, couches and manta-ray shaped umbrellas and wrap around glass railings that are softly illuminated and radiates a aquamarine glow. 237-6180 • I stopped by Cinnamon's at the Ilikai recently. Although they are known for their breakfast items,

, DRINK , BE MERRY , HAPPY HOUR

they have a substantial lunch and dinner menu to choose from that is very reasonably priced. Open daily from 7 a.m. - 9 p.m., happy hour is from 2 - 6 p.m. They have terrace dining as well so it's an ideal place to catch the Friday night fireworks. 670-1915. · I stopped by two places I wrote about last month and both get A+'s. Tommy Bahama had a very successful opening, and I thoroughly enjoyed almost every item I had. There was one I wasn't overly fond of, but that was a personal preference. A bit too many herbs for me (and I like herbs), but it was still cooked perfectly. The place looks even better than I expected. Wide open spaces, super cool rooftop lounge, herb walls and the retail store on the bottom had a ton of fun things in there - not just the touristy kitsch I expected. Lots of games, wine glasses with cute sayings, shot glass sets. Just ask Lance -- he liked some so much he bought a few! All in all, a fabulous job by the new kid on the block and yet another welcome addition. 923-8785. • I also got to experience Noi Thai Cuisine in the Royal Hawaiian Center. One word. Wow. They will be redefining Thai food in Hawaii. To start with the space looks amazing. This is in the former Five-Star Buffet location if you recall, so there were lots of nooks and crannies to play with. They have built the restaurant off the theme of the Royal Thai Palace and, therefore, there are three sections, just like at the Palace. The Outer Palace (where the villagers lived) The Central Palace (where all the activities were held) and the Inner Palace (where the Royal family resides). Along those lines there are several eating areas - and several private dining rooms, including a chef's table which is secluded from the rest of the restaurant and looks right into the kitchen and another private room so exclusive that you can only reserve it after being recommended. The presentation of the menu items is five-star and the plating is simply superb. Items are presented tableside with a dramatic flourish, and the taste of course, was wonderful. Thailand to ensure the authenticity of the cuisine. Needless to say, food, service and presentation like this does come with a price tag, but from what I've seen, it's well deserved. Want to try it without breaking the bank. Check out their happy hour daily from 3 - 7 p.m. 664-4039. ~ Pam

Once again, Ala Moana Center threw their annual Holiday Party and the response was amazing. Apologies to those of you I couldn't fit in. Attendees got to see the new Ewa Wing, taste Magnolia Bakery famous cupcakes, were treated to dinner from one of the participating restaurants that included Romano's Macaroni Grill, Jade Dynasty, Tanaka of Tokyo, The Pineapple Room or Longhi's and then wound up the evening at Mariposa with champagne, dessert & prizes. alamoanacenter.com

Kupaoa (Lihua and Kellen) with Mark Yamanaka released A Gift of the Heart in time to please everyone at Christmas. The CD has favorites including Silent Night/ Po La'i E and new original Hula Girl Christmas. The song Yodeling Santa is pure fun.

Kuana Torres is writing and singing his way around the Hawaiian Islands. The forth in his Music for the Hawaiian Islands series is titled Manookalanipo, a tribute to the ancient name for the island of Kauai. The CD features eleven original songs written for the Garden Isle. His falsetto melts the air and makes the listener think they know the song, even though they have never heard it before. Amazing to his fans and other songwriters, Torres simply sits down and writes an album.

Jake Shimabukuro's Travels pulls in Jake's diverse artistry. Some tracks are original compositions, others his interpretations of Hawaiian standards. Just to keep fans smiling he added in "I'll Be There" by the Jackson 5 and "Low Rider" by War, proving he is as fun as he looks. Rolling Stone Magazine called him "hero" but his smile is biggest when Hawaii calls him "local."

Of course the books and music are available on line. Shipping is sometimes free but the best time to buy is while the island breeze is wafting by, the music is live or the author is there. The TGIF section of the Honolulu Star-Advertiser lists all the music venues and book events, seven days and nights a week. Nothing like taking home the autographed copy. It is true for visitors and for us. Support your local artists, they might be your next door neighbor. ~ Lynn Cook reserved parking.

And, if one isn't enough you can have more Nutcracker in the Holiday Laser Light Show at Bishop Museum. The lights will play to Bing Crosby's White Christmas, Winter Wonderland, Rockin' Around the Christmas Tree and Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy. The laser light system is state of the art. The lights dance with the music at the first laser light show to happen in our Honolulu. In addition to the holiday show the museum offers Laser Zepplin, Pink Floyd's Dark Side of the Moon and The Wall and Laser Metallica. The shows run through January 3 with matinees daily at 11:30 and 2:30 and evening shows Wednesday through Saturday at 7 p.m.

Last but not least, the Polynesian Cultural Center will be offering the "12 Days of Christmas" from December 10-23. Guests will be able to enjoy lagoon rides every night from 6:30 - 9 p.m. There will keiki train rides, photos with Santa, and live entertainment. If that's not enough, snow will fall over PCC on December 19th giving kids a chance to play in it. Imagine.. kids can have a snowball fight and make a snowman in Hawaii! ~ Lynn Cook

Ala Moana Center opened up its Ewa Wing Expansion as month and Planet Blue hosted a handful of concierge to celebrate the opening of their first store in Hawaii. Kailua born and raised Ling-

Su Chinn, who founded the store, was here for the opening and guests noshed on guavastrawberry cupcakes and fresh juices while exploring the store and trying on clothes before setting out to check out the rest of the mall. Ladies, check out their boho look. shopplanetblue.com

NAME Dean Hashimoto

HOTEL: Embassy Suites Waikiki Beach Walk Hotel

TITLE: Bellman

- Q. How long have you been with Outrigger?
- A. I've been with Outrigger Hotels for 15 years.
- Q. When did you start at the Embassy?
- A. I've been with Embassy Suites from the opening date, December of 2006.
- Q. How big is your team there?
- A. We have a Bell Staff of 10 Bellman and 1 Bell Captain.

Q. What makes your hotel special?

- A. Our hotel is special as we are the only "all suite" hotel in Waikiki and we offer Full American Breakfast with made to order omelettes along with an Evening Poolside Cocktail Reception daily with Entertainment (on selected nights).
- Q. Where did you work before this?
- A. Started at the Hawaiian Regent Hotel (which is now a Marriott) as a Banquet Captain for 20 years.
- Q. What has been your biggest challenge at the desk?
- A. Not being able to assist everyone.

Q. What do you like most about this industry?

- A. I like meeting new people from all parts of the world and sharing our Hawaiian Culture with them. Showing a lot of Aloha Spirit in greeting always makes me feel good.
- Q. What do you find yourself recommending most often?
- A. A lot of guests are always asking for a good local restaurant w/ comfort food. I do suggest to them Side Street Inn which they seem to enjoy.
- Q. What one question do you hear again and again?
- A. What is the cheapest and fastest way to Ala Moana Shopping Center? I usually suggest to them to take the Pink Trolley System in which their children love to ride.
- Q. How do you deal with those "difficult" guests
- A. Just being a good listener in difficult situations and show a lot of empathy with understanding their needs. I always try to make their visit here as comfortable as possible.
- Q. Favorite part of the island and why?
- A. I enjoy the Windward Side. I grew up in Kaneohe and Kahaluu area. I did a lot of activities in and around the ocean. My dad and uncles taught me how to respect and take care of the ocean.
- Q. What's one thing about you people would be surprised to know?
- A. I am a cancer survivor. It's been 7 years now, cancer free. I take nothing for granted anymore. Now, I enjoy life every day. I got a second chance in life and share my knowledge and my understanding about this terrible disease to everyone who wants to know. I say always be positive, always fight the good fight, stay strong and never give up!
- Q. Where are you from originally?
- A. Kaneohe, Oahu. God's Country!
- Q. What do you like to do most when you're not working?
- A. A lot of swimming, fishing, surfing, and diving. I enjoy anything to do with the ocean.
