Christmas in Hawaii

Honolulu City Lights is a highlight of the holidays in Honolulu. Head down to walk around throughout the month of December of take a trolley to make a night of it. Photo courtesy of the Waikiki Trolley.

So, your guest is spending Christmas in Hawaii. How can you help make it memorable? Well, let's be honest, the location does a lot of the work for you. Mother Nature usually graces us with beautiful Hawaiian weather for all those people escaping the snow to enjoy. But the weather is only part of what makes a Hawaiian Christmas special. Here's a list of a few other activities they can take advantage of during their holiday, starting with the Christmas Lights.

Honolulu City Lights

It's been one of the highlights of every Christmas season since it began in 1985. Shaka Santa and Tutu Mele will return with all their friends. The fun kicks off on December 3rd with the Opening Night Tree Lighting Ceremony and the Electric Light Parade. The parade kicks off at 6 p.m., and marching bands, lighted fire trucks, and more make their way through downtown. Santa draws the parade to a close as his sleigh makes its way to meet with Mayor Blangiardi at Honolulu Hale, where the mayor will light the holiday tree, Honolulu Hale, and the Civic Center Grounds. McKenna Maduli hosts the mayor's stage with plenty of live entertainment. The City Department Tree Exhibit is open daily from 7:45 a.m. – 10 p.m. All the wreaths that entered the 35th annual Holiday Wreath Contest will also be displayed in Honolulu Hale's Lane Gallery. Enjoy the lights and wander through the outside displays every night through January 1st, 2023.

Holiday Trolleys

The Waikiki Holiday Trolley offers guests another way to enjoy the festive holiday lights downtown from the comfort of an open-air vehicle with plenty of sing-alongs and Christmas stories along the way. Hop off at Honolulu Hale to wander through the lighted display before hopping back on to return. The trolley starts and ends at Victoria Ward Park. Ward Village offers plenty of free parking and dining options before and after your tour. Running daily December 4th – 25th at 6 p.m., 7 p.m., and 8 p.m. Tickets: $25, $17 for children. holidaylightshi.com.

Speaking of trolleys, the Barefoot Beach Café has set up a special trolley on Wednesday, December 21st, from 5:30 – 8:30 p.m. Meet at the Café the for a complimentary Hot Cocoa Bar from 5:30 – 6 p.m. The trolley leaves at 6 p.m. to take everyone to Honolulu City Lights. Guests arrive at 6:45 and have an hour to wander through the displays before it heads back at 7:45 p.m. for a 45-minute drive back to the café. Seats are limited, so book yours early. Tickets: $35, $25 for kids. BarefootBeachCafe.com/Shop.

Hawaii has a lively, local literary community, and here's a handful of recent releases for your consideration. They can all be found on Amazon or at select stores locally.

That's Entertainment / Concierge Card ...........23

Wow, what a difference a year makes. This time last year, COVID numbers were way up, events were way down, masks were required, and we were all trying to get back to some semblance of reality. Now things are busier than ever, and last month two of our signature events, HIFF and HFWF, came back in a big way, and were both highly successful! It's been stupid busy, but it feels good to have life as we know it return. Business is back, our numbers are up (and finally, when I say that, it's referring to our visitor counts and not our COVID counts), and it's been great to see everyone again regularly. We're back baby!

The holidays are here, and there are plenty of opportunities to celebrate. I've done my best to put together a list of unique Hawaiian ways for you and your guests to celebrate. I also put together a gift guide of things you might want to recommend to your guests to find that perfect piece of Hawaii to give as a gift. These lists are by no means complete. I am dependent upon the information I find or am sent, so I'm confident there are some fantastic items out there I may have missed, but all I'm looking to do is give you a head start. I hope it helps.

Concierge events are absolutely back, and I have to thank everyone again for being so responsive, as trying to manage so many people with so few seats can be difficult. Every single event has a different invite list depending on who the host wants to reach and how many seats they have to offer. I appreciate those of you who patiently wait to hear from me while I track everyone down and those who jump at a last-minute opportunity even though I couldn't give you much notice. Always responding to me, especially if your desk cannot attend, really helps. I also appreciate those of you that make time to come when I reach back out after you say no if I ask. It takes a village, and it makes a difference. There's one or two more small ones I might take on this month, but aside from that, it's time to shut down and enjoy the season. I hope you all find time for yourselves and have a safe and happy holiday season. Aloha!!

Katalin Szilagyi

The Hilton Hawaiian Village has hired Katalin Szilagyi as the manager of Bali Oceanfront, their signature restaurant. Szilagyi brings with her more than 10 years of experience in hospitality and food & beverage fields, having most recently worked as manager of Merriman's Honolulu. Prior to that she served as the general manager at Kona Grill in Honolulu. Many of you probably met her there as she participated in many of our IMP Concierge events. • The Kahala Hotel & Resort has added a few new faces to their concierge team with the addition of Maico Sosa, Tiana San Miguel, and Pomai Fola to the desk, and they've already made their way to a few concierge events. • Some other new faces have made an appearance recently, including Kanoelehua Valdes-Healy, who recently joined Wyndham Waikiki Beach Walk as their new Guest Experience Supervisor. The Hawaii Symphony Orchestra has appointed Kanoe Valdes-Healy

Dr. Michael-Thomas Foumai as director of artistic engagement and composer in residence. This new position focuses on broadening and deepening the scope of its service to the community. Foumai is also able to distill essential historical and cultural context of the performance piece for the audience, while connecting it to what was happening in Hawai'i during the time of its composition. His efforts in framing each performance in this manner creates a deeper level of audience engagement with the music.

Chef's Corner

La Mer Executive Chef Alexandre Trancher

Ten years ago, Chef Alexandre Trancher was named Chef de Cuisine at La Mer, and has been leading the restaurant ever since. Earlier this year he was promoted to the Executive Chef Position. Aside from maintaining the impeccable standards that has kept them on the AAA Five Diamond list since 1990, he also creates and oversees the appetizers that are served in L'Apertif Cocktail Bar. When he's not working he enjoys spending time with his family and says if he was not a chef he would be a comedic actor!

What is your first food memory?

One of the first dishes I remember is a mousseline potato that looked like a volcano.

What made you decide to become a chef?

When I was 14 years old, I worked at my uncle's hotel and became inspired to become a chef.

What was your first job in the industry?

I was a porter at my uncle's hotel – carrying the guests' luggage to their rooms.

How did your upbringing shape your aspirations?

I was born and raised in Paris, France, however I'm proud to say that I am now an American citizen. I did learn my basic culinary techniques in France, however living in various destinations (Greece and Japan). It helped to create my style of kitchen.

Who is your mentor and why?

All chefs have mentors. I've had several that gave me inspiration, techniques, and motivation to strive to always do better. My mentor would be Master Chef Gerard Salle, whom I worked with as the Sous Chef at Hotel Vendome. His work strategy, cooking, and consistency has kept me inspired. Not only did he teach me how important the ingredients are and to respect the product, but he also helped me grow personally – and how to change my own life.

You've earned several Michelin stars, correct?

Yes, I've had the wonderful opportunity to have earned several Michelin stars around the world -France, Greece, and Japan. These experiences were fantastic as I was able to see very different cultures in each country. Now that I am in Hawaii, I am disappointed that Michelin does not do rankings in Hawaii as we have such wonderful and diverse restaurants such as Senio, Café Miro, Mugen, Sushi Sho, Nan Zan Jiro Jiro, and of course....La Mer.

Talk about being named to the AAA Five Diamond list

La Mer has been awarded the AAA Five Diamond Award consecutively since 1990. With Halekulani's history of gracious hospitality, we must always keep in mind the tastes and preferences of the client. We are constantly striving to find the best and freshest ingredient for our guests. It is the combination of the cuisine and service that makes dining at La Mer an unforgettable experience.

Any big plans now that you're Executive Chef?

The promotion is an honor. I will continue to lead my culinary team and provide a gastronomic experience for our guests. We are constantly striving to improve, and my dream is to put La Mer on the Top 100 Restaurants in the World.

Where do you find your inspiration?

The inspiration is all around me in nature, from the mountains to the ocean. All the fresh ingredients help me decide what dishes I will create.

How would you describe your cooking style?

Having many years of classical French training and living in Hawaii, I think my style of cooking has evolved. Diets and tastes have progressed and changed over the years so we must constantly evolve to incorporate the classic techniques that I have learned and introduce lighter and healthier dishes, while still ensuring taste and visual appeal.

Tell us about being part of HFWF's Gala closing event at the hotel. How did you decide what to the create? I was elated to be selected as a guest chef for this event. Interesting question. I concentrated on the experience that the guests will have while enjoying my dish. The theme was ART and we try to use as many local products as possible.

Is there any other information you want to share?

Hawaii is very special to me as it is the place where I met my wife and where my daughter was born.

Kalikimaka 6th annual Mele Marketplace returns to the Blaisdell Exposition Hall on December 10th and 11th. Honolulu's one-stop local holiday shop for made-in-Hawai'i products, holiday gifts, and crafts is a 2-day shopping extravaganza featuring over 300 vendors showcasing locally made products, local food items, gifts, books, and apparel. Expect local gourmet gifts, prepackaged gift baskets, jewelry, crafts, and other consumer goods, and year-end inventory specials from manufacturers, distributors, wholesalers, retailers, and more. This pop-up holiday shop will also offer festive activities, including Candy Land and the Ben Franklin Make and Take Crafts.

Vendors include artists such as Lisa Menor Miller of Handwritten Aloha, a boutique art and calligraphy design studio. She showcases italic-style calligraphy in oil, acrylic, watercolor painting, resin art, note cards, and planners on handmade paper. Lisa learned this calligraphy style while hanging out in the art room after school. In 2003 Lisa was introduced to plein air painting with oil and acrylics by well-known Hawai'i artist Mark Brown. In the years following, she continued to paint and practice, broadening her capacity through art, watercolor, and calligraphy workshops. Handwritten Aloha is the result of her love for her craft.

DoiandD'Angelo is Dexter Doi, and Carol D'Angelo, a husband and wife fine art team, will be another vendor at the Marketplace. The team has been creating a variety of products that begin as artwork. Formed in 2008 with just two tote bags, D&D has expanded to put their artwork on tee shirts, clutches, towels, pillow covers, art cards, prints, and women's tops.

The Mele Kalikimaka Marketplace is a joint venture which began in 2014 between Pacific Expos and Special Events Hawai'i, who promoted and produced the Made in Hawai'i Festival for 26 years, so you have an idea of what to expect here. They partnered to make the Mele Kalikimaka Marketplace Hawaii's premier local holiday shopping emporium.
