

PAN-TASTIC MATSURI

50th State Fair

One of Hawaii's largest and most popular festivals returns this month, uniting cultures from around the Pacific. Colorful dancers, rhythmic taiko drums, and ono ethnic foods are just a smattering of the fun-filled weekend in store for visitors June 7 through 9. Thirty-four years ago the Pan-Pacific Festival Matsuri began on a much smaller scale and was envisioned to advance intercultural exchange between Japan and Hawaii. Through the sharing of cultural traditions, this fest has expanded to celebrate the historical diversity in Hawaii including the music, arts, and cuisine of our Pacific neighbors. Since its inception in 1980, the Matsuri has exploded into an extravagant annual celebration that incorporates cultural influences from around the Pacific and this year's events continue to grow.

This year's Matsuri kicks off a weekend of wonder on Friday, June 7 with the Performing Arts Showcase at two new locations. Waikiki Beach Walk Plaza Stage and Ala Moana Entertainment Stage (3rd floor, Nordstrom Wing) will serve as the backdrops for exciting international performances. Evening brings the start of the Pan-Pacific Hula Festival at the Kuhio Beach Hula Mound as well as Waikiki's famous Ho'olaule'a taking over the strip. Featuring multiple entertainment stages set up along Kalakaua, visitors can wind their way through a maze of ethnic food stands, craft booths, and throngs of festival-goers. Revelers can sample everything from stir-fry to spam while watching Korean dancers, hula, and much more. Omiyage will be easy to find at any of the vendor booths selling Island crafts and other unique items. Don't forget to remind your guests that the main thoroughfare of Waikiki will be shut down on between 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. so taxis and feet are your guests' best friends.

Throughout the three day festival, nearly 100 performers and cultural groups from around Hawaii and the world are scheduled to perform daily, showcasing traditions from Korea, Thailand, Philippines, among others. Performances feature traditional Japanese song and dance as well as hula and other cultural presentations, beginning at 10 a.m. on Friday and Saturday, and noon on Sunday. Continuing each evening is the 13th Annual Pan-Pacific Hula Festival featuring over 200,000 performers from both local and Japanese halau.

An amazing weekend culminates in the thrilling Grand Finale Pan-Pacific Parade proceeding with brilliant pomp and flourish down the streets of Waikiki. Over 1,000 marchers will take to the streets on Sunday, June 9 from 5 to 7 p.m. with music, food, people, and pageantry. Colorful floats light up Kalakaua as marching bands from Hawaii and the Mainland add to the exciting din including the Farrington High School football Team carrying the Omikoshi Shrine. For more information on events including an updated schedule, call 926-8177 ext. 280 or visit their website online at pan-pacific-festival.com. You can also join the virtual fest at facebook.com/PanPacificFestival.

Roller coasters, cotton candy, and farmyard animals are just three of the top reasons to make time for the 50th State Fair this month. Every weekend throughout June, head west to the Aloha Stadium for all the popcorn you can handle. A $35 wristband gets you onto ten terrifying rides including the new Area 51, Jungle Twist, and Fun Factory. Keiki will love to hop inside the Dizzy Dragons, while only brave souls will keep their heads while dropping thirty feet on the Spring Ride but everyone will be delighted with the crowd-pleasing Century Wheel offering breathtaking views around the island as gondolas crest a 65-foot high circle. Along with the midway, a dining and entertainment tent stage features top local performers along with ono grindz to keep up the energy while exploring all that our State Fair has to offer.

Fair-goers this year can explore a new 5D Dark Walkthrough Adventure. Step inside a world where 3D effects surround visitors in a 360-degree sensory experience, enhanced by bubbles, lasers, and fog. Five different adventures will take place throughout the fair: Creepy Castle, Freaky Forest, Undersea Crusoe, Cecil's Undersea Adventure, and Captain Jack. The Ringmaster, an eighth-generation member of a famous Italian circus family entertains the audience and introduces the acts. His brother brings an all new circus show Pound Puppies. These highly-trained rescue dogs to perform amazing and hilarious feats before your very eyes and are sure to win the hearts of keiki young and old.

For even more animal madness, check out the fast-paced racing pigs with twelve of the country's

Publisher's Letter

The Summer Fests have begun

Festival season is upon us. This means there is going to be a multitude of events to choose from that should please just about everybody no matter what their tastes.... and it means if you want to get through Waikiki... park. Seriously, park your car, grab your bike, put one foot in front of another, but don't even think about driving unless you want to sit in the traffic created by all the upcoming road closures. Specifically this first weekend. Think I'm kidding? Check out this schedule. Friday night June 7th is the Matsuri Ho'olaule'a. Kalakaua will begin shutting down beginning at 4:30 p.m. for set-up of this street festival expecting over 30,000 participants. The street should start opening up somewhere between 11 p.m. and midnight. Don't get excited though because the King Kamehameha Floral Parade is the next morning and Kalakaua will again shut down around 8:30 a.m. for the parade which is expecting over 6,000 marchers let alone how many people on the street watching. The parade will end around 1 p.m. and Kalakaua should open soon thereafter and the rest of the day it should be ok, but the weekend of closures isn't over yet. Sunday June 9th brings another parade to Kalakaua, this one for the Matsuri Festival. On a much smaller scale this one only expects about 2,000 marchers plus event-goers, but Kalakaua will again close around 4:30 until sometime after 8 p.m. Kalakaua looks pretty good the rest of the month, but after that weekend, we've earned it!

On the bright side, summertime is in full swing with plenty of activities to do outside and enjoy the wonderful weather we've been seeing recently. Kapiolani Park will be hopping all month long with craft fairs and events most every weekend. Surf's been up recently though so please remember to remind your guests to exercise caution in the water at all times. The south shore isn't used to swells and surges like the one we had in late May and tourists could get hurt. One of the best websites out there that you should all bookmark and check regularly is Hawaii Beach Safety. Go to their website, <http://oceansafety.soest.hawaii.edu> for the latest up-to-date information on any beach on the island, any island actually, but click on Oahu beaches and you can get detailed info on whatever beach your guest is including surf conditions, jellyfish warnings, shark sightings and more. Another great resource is the Hawaii Beach Safety Facebook page. Only 31 people like it right now which means a lot of people aren't getting their updates, but they're pretty good about keeping it updated regularly especially with any breaking news such as when Hanauma Bay is closed due to surf or jellyfish, always a great thing to know right away. As summer begins, let's make sure we all enjoy the ocean in the safety possible way, and knowledge is key. As they say on TV... the more you know... Aloha!

It's all about the stage this June in Honolulu arts and theatrical scene. Throughout the month, your guests will get a chance to see an Academy Award-winning actress, to experience the work of a Tony Award-winning playwright and to witness the greatest of a Pulitzer Prize-winning play.

And the winner is....

Patty Duke, who won an Oscar for her portrayal of Helen Keller in The Miracle Worker, joins KHON Channel 2 News anchor Joe Moore in playwright Michael Aitkens' wonderfully funny comedy Heaven Forbid! opening June 20th at the HAWAII THEATRE. The play is about two rebellious seniors in a New Jersey retirement home who refuse to grow old gracefully. It is a smart adult comedy that holds a mirror up to the dilemmas of aging and remaining independent in the face of those who wish the old would just fade away. The play was adapted by Aitkens' award-winning BBC series entitled Waiting for God. In addition to her Oscar, Patty Duke has also won three Emmys and three Golden Globes for her work in film and TV. Your guests may not be familiar with Joe Moore's acting career, but in addition to anchoring the news, he himself is a veteran stage, film and TV actor. He recently won praise from the New York Times last summer for his portrayal of Oscar in The Odd Couple at the Connecticut Repertory Theatre. Joe's passion to theatre has been responsible for bringing Pat Sajak, Richard Dreyfus, George Segal, James MacArthur and Gary Burghoff to the Hawai'i Theatre in the past decade. The production will be a limited engagement of 11 performances. Show times are Thursday June 20 at 7:30 p.m., Friday June 21 at 8 p.m.; Saturday June 22 at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m., Sunday June 23 at 4 p.m., Wednesday June 26 at 7:30 p.m., Thursday June 27 at 7:30 p.m., Friday June 28 at 8 p.m., Saturday June 29 at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m., and Sunday June 30 at 4 p.m. Tickets are $27. & $48. Tickets can be purchase through the Hawaii Theatre Box Office at 528-0506 or online at HawaiiTheatre.com. If your guests grew up watching the Patty Duke Show, this is a rare opportunity for them to see this magnificent actress at work once again in a comedic role.

Your guests won't find many comedic roles in KUMU KAHUA THEATRE'S production of Sound and Beauty, two one-act plays written by David Henry Hwang, the Tony Award-winning author of M. Butterfly and Chinglish. The dark corners of human attraction are explored in these two one-act plays performed together for a full evening of theatre. In the first act "The Sound of a Voice," a samurai encounters a mysterious woman in a lonely cottage, and begins to suspect her powers are not of this world. In the second act "The House of Sleeping Beauties," a modern-day writer seeks out an exclusive brothel where the girls all share a haunting trait. The production runs Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m. until June 30th.

Tickets can be purchased by calling 536-4441, or by visiting the box office at 46 Merchant Street (corner of Bethel & Merchant Streets, downtown) between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Tickets are $5 to $20. Kumu Kahua Theatre has been recognized as the place to experience cutting-edge performances about life, history and the future of Hawai'i's people and this production touches upon that spirit.

The spirit of Maggie the Cat is what you'll find at TAG (THE ACTORS' GROUP) in Tennessee Williams play Cat on a Hot Tin Roof. A production of this play is currently on Broadway starring Scarlett Johansson as Maggie. But no matter who is in the cast, this play stands on its own as a gem of Broadway magic. For those of your guests who may not be familiar with the work, this play won the Pulitzer Prize for Drama in 1955 and is set in at the plantation home of a large, wealth cotton tycoon referred to as Big Daddy Politt. The play features several of William's recurring motifs such as social mores, greed and sexual desire. The production runs from June 21 to July 14. Tickets are $20 and can be purchased by calling 722-6941. For more information visit taghawaii.net to learn more about Hawai'i go-to theatre for straight plays.

If your guests are not in the mood for a play, then perhaps you should send them to Hawai'i's off-Broadway playhouse MANOA VALLEY THEATRE for its production of Godspell 2012. This musical contains a series of parables which are based on the Gospel of Matthew as told by an ensemble of ten performers employing such entertaining theatrical traditions as clowning, pantomime, charades, acrobatics and vaudeville. This production runs from June 27 to July 14. Show times are Thursday at 7:30 p.m., Friday & Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 4 p.m. Call 988-6131 for tickets or visit manoavalleytheatre.com.

THE DORIS DUKE THEATRE at the HONOLULU MUSEUM OF ART will be showcasing the Aotearoa/New Zealand Film Festival from June 15-21. See inspiring features and shorts that explore Aotearoa's rich culture, wicked sense of humor and distinctive cinematic visions. Special thanks to the Aotearoa/New Zealand Film Festival Committee, Misa Tupou, Louisa Te'i, and the New Zealand Film Commission. On June 16th there will be an opening night reception from 6-7:30 p.m. Enjoy food and wine for purchase and a Maori dance performance. There will be a screening of Maori Boy Genius at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $15. Also in June will be The Sword and the Screen: A Summer Samurai Series from June 21st through July 3rd. Start off by going to the Lethal Beauty: Samurai Weapons and Armor Exhibition inside the Honolulu Museum of Art and then log online to check out the seven killer samurai classics from three legends of the genre – Akira Kurosawa, Masaki Kobayashi and Kihachi Okamoto. All films are in Japanese with English subtitles. For more information call 532-8734 or go to honoluluuseum.org. ~ Lance Rae

Aunty Lynn's Adventures X

A painter once challenged her students to make a list of words that described the ocean. Completed assignment in hand, the students returned. The teacher studied their lists, then spread the pages across the table and asked them to pick one word and paint it. Here in Hawaii the list might be easier than it would be in East Cupcake, Ohio. Still, it's good to challenge yourself. What word would you pick to paint? Join me, I plan to jump into June with both feet – walk the beach, jump into the waves or simply look and learn about our beautiful ocean. June is World Oceans Month

GOOD FUN – Chinatown changes. At last count there were nearly a dozen fashion filled shops, nearly twenty of Honolulu's hottest restaurants, bars and nightclubs. First Friday in June will be a block buster. At The ARTS at Marks you can watch an artist throw a pot, then buy a tiny raku fired tea bowl. Around the corner at the Louis Pohl Gallery, Sandy Pohl has invited some very prominent artists pals to exhibit in Ceramic (R)evolution - Atomic Ray Guns. In the courtyard of the Mendocia Building, ARTmusicBEER gives all it promises. Upstairs the Chinatown Artist Loft folks give a rare opportunity to look into their gallerie-studios. All of this will lead you directly to the door of the Hawaii Theatre for a concert that might change your life.

GOING THE DISTANCE – Willie K will headline the 7th Annual Peace on Earth Concert on First Friday, June 7th. Tickets are only $25 and you get the ambassador of aloha, Danny Kaleikini, Stan Haugen's Jazz Band, Gary Aiko & The Islanders and the Carmen Haugen Quartet. Just an FYI fact you might remember, Keith and Carmen Haugen created this concert in 2006. They held it at the Kapiolani Park Bandstand in Waikiki.

Now, the reason this could change your life. The concert is now a National Kidney Foundation event, an organization that means life itself to Willie K. With a family history of health problems, and many of his own, Uncle Willie walked in the door of the Kidney Foundation and offered to be their spokesperson. At the concert, Uncle Willie says he is singing out the "Challenge to Get Healthy" and tell you the reason why he cares.

GET IN – Sometimes, being so far away, in the middle of the ocean, Hawaii seems a bit removed from "world this and national that" annual events. Our location makes Celebrating World Oceans Month easy. One click on the Waikiki Aquarium web site. and you'll find a don't miss event almost every day, all summer. High spots for me will be the parade of families who grab the opportunity to spend a day, or many, learning and playing together. Summer Wednesdays programs are what I recommend. Aqua Hospitality and the Aquarium folks have invited storytellers, puppeteers, artists and craftsmen to spend summer afternoons being creative. June 5th is the first event. Send your guests, and if you aren't off that day, ask Tutu to bring your kids. Aunty Lynn will be talking story about Hawaii's ancient rock art petroglyphs and teaching everyone to make a honu (green sea turtle) greeting card or "suitable for framing" art piece. Remember, keiki first!

GOOD DEEDS – Everyone who attended the semi-annual Empty Bowl Event, held this year at the Sears parking level of Ala Moana, went home full of gourmet soup and a piece of fine art that just happens to be a soup bowl. The Hawaii Potters Guild got it right with a new venue, perfect weather, good music and plenty parking. I have to say, Whole Food's Thai Carrot Soup had to be one of the best things I put in my bowl. It was delicious and you can still find it on the store now. The most nourishing news is the result of the event was a donation of $50,000 so Hawaii Meals on Wheels can fill bowls for the folks they serve.

Standing in the rain took on a whole new meaning with "Experience the Beatles with RAIN" brought audiences to their feet. After the May 15th performance, Joey Nielson, from Broadway in Hawaii, donated the night's proceeds, $17,695, to Straub Clinic & Hospital Rehabilitation Services.

SURFING – My personal ability to surf is limited to holding a boogie board in a death grip and promising the gods of the surf that if they give me one good wave I will, forever-more sit quietly on the beach, surfing the pages of a book. The BeachHouse press thick page, local alphabet book, S Went Surfing, makes that easy. Created by Jane Gillespie and illustrated by Ruth Moen, S is the snail who's out of school and ready to play. True confession time here – I love children's books. Now, where can I borrow a kid who wants to read in the shade of the coconut tree? Got one? I will be hanging out by the Waikiki Aquarium. See you there!

blanket to sit on. Award winning live entertainment includes John Cruz, Typical Hawaiians, Kapena, and more. Turtle Bay Resort. Gates open at 5 p.m. Fireworks after sunset. Free admission and parking. (No coolers or outside food/beverage.) TurtleBayResort.com or 293-6000.

MACFARLANE REGATTA – Walter J. MacFarlane Regatta and Surf Race takes over Waikiki and Kuhio Beaches. Guests will be able to see canoes speed surf towards shore throughout the day in what is always an exciting event.

DINNER & FIREWORKS – Take an upfront seat at for some special 4th of July cocktails and a perfect view of the fabulous Waikiki fireworks at several restaurants including Michel's, Hula Grill, Duke's, Bali by the Sea, Chuck's, Tiki's and 53 by the Sea

POOL PARTY AT THE DECK - Kick off the 4th long before the first fireworks explode overhead with what might be the biggest pool party of the year. The Bacardi Pineapple Pool Party takes place at The Deck on the 3rd floor of the Queen Kapiolani Hotel at noon and goes well into the night. Three top DJs, Cirque acts, drink specials, and a bikini contest are just a few of the fun things planned. $20 cover charge. Get there early as it will sell out.

We haven't actually got confirmation on anything else, but we assume there will be fireworks on the 3rd of July at Aloha Tower Marketplace and we hear there'll be a party at the Hilton so keep your ears open for more events.

Born on the Big Island, Hawai'i between 1748 and 1761, King Kamehameha I was destined for greatness from the beginning. In a tale befitting a fabled prince, the Kahuna predicted that he would become a great leader and unite the islands' warring clans, but this daring prediction terrified and angered the Ali'i at the time who ordered the baby be put to death. In order to save the life of the infant boy, he was hidden away in Waipio Valley and raised by foster parents until it was safe to return to his family in Kailua-Kona. It was then that young Kamehameha earned his nickname "The Lonely One." By and by, it came to pass that the future ruler was to fulfill the Kahunas' prediction. When Captain Cook came to the islands, Kamehameha was eager to learn about foreign vessels and weaponry. With his newly-gained knowledge, he was able to amass a strong army and unite the Hawaiian Islands, bringing peace to the land and justice to his people. He went on to establish foreign trade and introduced the modern Hawaiian flag with eight stripes representing the main Hawaiian Islands and the Union Jack in the corner. Kamehameha died in his hometown of Kailua-Kona on May 8, 1819 and his bones were buried in an undisclosed grave as tradition dictates to protect their mana. To this day, no one knows his final resting place.

In commemoration of this great leader, King David Kalakaua commissioned American sculptor Thomas Gould to create a statue of King Kamehameha I. Gould created the 9-foot-tall masterpiece while living in Italy and sent it to Paris for bronzing. But on the journey from Paris to Hawai'i, the ship that was transporting the king's likeness was sunk in the Falkland Islands. Insurance money allowed a second statue to be made from the preserved mold and arrived safely in Honolulu in 1883 to take its place at Ali'iolani Hale (the Hawaii Supreme Court Building) on King Street. Much to everyone's surprise, just weeks after its arrival, though, an English ship arrived with the salvaged original. Since a Kahuna (priest) had prophesized at its inception that the statue would only be happy in Kamehameha's birthplace, this original was sent to the town of Kapaau on the Big Island.

In honor of the just and tolerant King Kamehameha I, his grandson King Kamehameha V established June 11th as his day. This state holiday is celebrated around the islands through tributes to the great Ali'i including an elaborate flower lei decoration hung about his statues and a floral parade with floats, bands, mounted pa'u riders, and traditional hula.

Events kick off early this year with the Kamehameha Statue Lei Draping Ceremony on Friday, June 7 at 3:30 p.m. on the lawn in front of the Ali'iolani Judiciary Building. The following morning brings the colorful 97th Annual King Kamehameha Floral Parade proceeding from King and Richard Streets through Waikiki to end at Kapiolani Park. This year's King Kamehameha Day Makeke and Luau Celebration at Kawaiaha'o Church takes place Saturday, June 8 from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The parade kicks off at 'Iolani Palace at 9 a.m. with special seating available for VIP Dine-In Lu'au ticket holders ($40). The Makeke brings together local artisans offering up their hand-crafted gifts and goods. Visitors will have a ball at this annual lu'au from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. featuring homemade 'imu kalua pua'a, lomilomi salmon, poke, 'opihia, haupia, and much much more, along with live entertainment. Guests who are on the go can pick up a take out boxed lu'au lunch ($20) from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. available to walk-ins or at a drive-through location on Mission Lane behind Kawaiaha'o School. For tickets or information, visit www.kawaiahao.org or call 469-3000. All proceeds support the vision and programs of Kawaiaha'o Church. ~ Kathryn

MAGNUM P.I.'S "THE CHOPPER" RETURNS

We all remember it... the Ferrari, Tom Selleck and his never ending Aloha shirts and bushy mustache. T.C., Rick and the surly Higgins. Magnum P.I. was an iconic show filmed here in the 80s. But there was another character in the show, and that was the MD500 multi-colored helicopter. Those of you that lived here back then remember seeing it over our shores regularly as well as taking off and landing frequently at the old helipad by the Hilton. Paradise Helicopter has worked diligently to recreate the infamous chopper even going as far as hiring the company that painted the first helicopter in order to duplicate the original paint job. The tail number was also obtained so visually, this is an exact match. Too add to the authenticity, Roger E. Mosely, who played pilot, "T.C." and Larry Manetti, who played "Rick" signed the nose plate of the bird. Now it is back and in action at Turtle Bay Resort. Guests will get a birds-eye view of the North Shore onboard this TV icon. According to Danna Holck, Vice President and General Manager of Turtle Bay Resort, "the arrival of "The Chopper" will provide devoted TV viewers of the era as well as new fans a unique opportunity to appreciate up close and personal an essential and iconic character in one of the '80s most memorable television series." ## Blue Man Group comes to the Blaisdell

I was in Las Vegas a few weeks ago when suddenly the doors across from me burst open and I heard this loud rhythmic percussion beat. As I watched a 20-odd foot neon 'being' (see the blue 'person' in the picture) unfolded itself from the door followed by dozen of brightly lit characters, musicians and drummers surrounded by neon contraptions. Beating an invigorating tune they circled the entire casino drumming up excitement and photo ops as they cruised through. Seriously, this was a Vegas casino floor, not really a boring place to begin with, but these guys brought it to a frenzy and there was a Pied Piper-like effect as people dropped in behind and joined the parade. I quickly realized that this was The Blue Man Group, albeit not a single blue face was in the mix. I've never seen them before but I can't wait now, and fortunatley I don't have too. Don't miss your opportunity to see this extremely popular show known for its outrageous and unique combination of comedy, technology and music as they come the Blaisdell Concert Hall June 18-23. Tickets are $40 - $100 and can be found online at ticketmaster.com or by calling 800-745-3000. This is one wild and wacky act that is sure to entertain. ~ Pam cutest oinkers taking to the track in a race to get to the Oreo cookie, urged on by Hedrick's professional pig callers from Kansas. Keiki even have a chance to get hands-on at the Backyard Circus and Family Puppet Parade. Audience-members are invited to volunteer to join the "circus" and dress up to be lions, tigers, a human cannonball, and other fun acts, followed by giant puppets parading around the midway. Ham dash and circus times are still TBA. Entertainment is FREE with paid admission.

Local performers lead the way with daily performances at the dining/entertainment tent. Keiki and teen competitions compete for cash and prizes, along with a chance at performing on the Hawaii Stars TV program airing in October. Evening performance highlights include Country Night at the Fair with Dita Holifield and The Hillbilly House where country music and line dancing will keep music-lovers on their feet (June 14). You may have seen her on the Burger King commercials, but now you can enjoy the music of Kimie Miner live at the fair on June 15, or check out local vocalist TV star Duncan Kamakana, also known for his Burger King and his recent success on NBC's "The Voice" – on June 29. Much more entertainment has yet to be confirmed so check out the fair's website for the complete line-up.

Fair dates: June 6 – 9; 14 – 16; 21 – 23; 28 – 30. Gates open on Fridays at 6 p.m. and on Saturdays at 4 p.m., Sundays at 12 p.m., and on Thursday June 6 at 6 p.m. Closing is usually between 11 p.m. and midnight or at the discretion of management. Families will adore this budget-friendly event, general admission for the State Fair is only $5 on Fridays and all other days it's $3 before 6 p.m., $5 after 6 p.m, with a great deal on Thursday (June 7) of only $2. Admission is FREE for keiki under 40" and for active and retired military and dependents (with valid military ID). Ride tickets are $1 per ticket with rides costing 3 to 6 coupons. # Chef's Corner

Chef de Cuisine William Chen

Will Chen is everywhere these days. Stop by a food event and he'll be serving up a dish with a smile. Food demonstrations at the Blaisdell? Chances are he'll be there. With a wicked sense of humor and easy going personality we thought you'd like to learn more about this personable chef about town.

When did you first decide you wanted to be a chef?

I've always enjoyed being in the kitchen, eating, and have worked in restaurants my entire life. It was probably sometime during college where I thought a business degree and a cubical sounded terribly boring and set my sight on professionally cooking.

What was your first job in the culinary industry?

My first live kitchen was at Restaurant Ledoyen in Paris. I spoke nominal French (still do) and everyone was silently working at furious speeds. On my first day I literally just stood there gawking at everyone's maddening precision, until the Chef Christian Le Squer came up, literally took me by the shoulders, and gave me a hard shake. "Only the Chef gets to stand and watch everyone, go find something to do." Not that culinary school didn't give me my chops, but this is where I learned everything. And while I am certain that I wasn't feeling this way at the time, those are some of the fondest memories I have of my culinary journey.

Who's would you consider your mentor and why?

Brian Hunnings always has been a huge support, friend and teacher. He has a great way of guiding and inspiring his team and never wants the credit. But it's always his genius behind the scenes.

How would you describe your style of cooking?

Straight forward. I like food to look like what it is, not hyper manipulated or overly worked. I have a great appreciation for that style of cooking but for me, if it says beet on the menu, I want to see a beet, not pink dust.

What's the most unique dish you've created?

Oh I'm sure there's many "unique" plates that I've concocted through the years, whether they were successful to the palate, would be arguable. Something that has really gotten people talking is our Foie Gras Toast we have for beachhouse at the Moana. It's really not complicated and an approachable way for people to try foie gras who aren't familiar with it. Seared Foie over a buttered baguette with an onion marmalade, parsley salad and blackberry. Crunchy, crusty, buttery, fresh, sweet and savory. And a gut buster. Publisher's Note: Agreed! Delicious!!!

Best ingredient you like to work with and why?

I don't use them that often here because quality is hit or miss but I love scallops. I always ate them growing up and have an affinity for them, whether sashimi, fresh seared, fried, as a mousse. Just adore them.

What's always in your fridge?

Limes, mustard, beer

What's your favorite thing to do when not working?

Eating? Cooking? Or reading about eating and cooking; following other people's food adventures. My life really does revolve around food. On the rare occasion that do find the time, I love reliving my youth and hanging out with a bunch of comic books. A true nerd at the core. I dream of the day where I can be independently rich and just hang out in an enormous kitchen all day and cook whatever, having friends swing by "unannounced" like I see on those tv cooking shows. Just cooking and eating the day away and not have to worry about the mundane details of life like who folds the laundry or managing your daily caloric intake

Favorite (or least favorite) food trend?

Favorite food trend? Eating clean. Surprise! I actually do feel good and not heavy after eating "clean". Least favorite? Nothing. How can anyone not like food or things related to food? And anyone who is out there promoting their culinary creations does it because they have passion. You can't fault them for that.

What's your favorite dish to cook at home?

Since I never have a team to clean up after me at home, it's easiest to have 1 pot meals. So normally it's a big pot of soup that I can eat a couple of times, or pasta sauce. I know, not very romantic.

What's your favorite midnight snack?

Soup noodles. Pho, tang mian, ramen, udon, or whatever it's called in your hometown. But no soggy noodles please.

Biggest pet peeve working in the kitchen?

An unfocused team, messy kitchens, unorganized walk ins.

What first brought you to Hawaii?

Though I was born and raised on the east coast, I can't handle the winters. You sold me at sunshine all year round.

I read you enjoy competitive eating. Ummm, what is that? 24 pizzas in a 5 minutes or less kind of thing?

HA! That was written in as a joke and it literally has taken on a life of its own. While I do enjoy what some might call binge eating, I have yet to be timed in any fashion. Publisher's Note: If you don't want it to take on a life of its own, don't put it in your official bio!! Too funny.

What's next for you?

Finding a way to be independently rich? If anyone hears of anything, please Instagram me.

Anything else you'd like to share with our readers?

I'm more fun outside of work than at work. Ask my crew.

Lemon Cheese Cake

INGREDIENTS

4 ea.	pineapple	8 Tablespoons	butter, melted
3 cups	brown sugar	24 oz.	cream cheese
2 ea.	star anise	6 cups	whipping cream
8 Tablespoon	butter	1 cups	sugar
2 cups	mac nut cookie crumbs	1 teaspoon	vanilla extract
		4 ea.	lemon zest, minced
1/2 cup	brown sugar	4 ea.	lemon juice

METHOD:

1. Clean and core pineapple. Small dice and mix with sugar and anise. 2. Spread butter on sheet tray and evenly distribute pineapple on sheet tray. 3. Roast at 400 for 10 mins, pineapple should be golden brown. Next: Combine cookie crumbs, sugar and butter. Place 3 tablespoons into each mold and press firmly. Lastly: Beat cream cheese & sugar with paddle until soft. 2. Add lemon juice, lemon zest, whipping cream and vanilla. Mix until it thickens. 3. Fill the mold. 4. Let set in fridge overnight.

Dining Dish

Hearing more and more good reviews out of MAC 24/7 recently making me think my one amazing meal there was not an abnormality. Really need to try go check out more of that menu. The are now offering a daily Happy Hour from 2 p.m. - 5 p.m. with $2 bartender's choice shots, $3 draft beers and $4.75 wells. For you industry types head over there every Wednesday from 10 p.m. - 4 a.m. for 50% all food, $3 drafts and $4.75 wells good for you and a guest when you show your liquor card or your paystub. Liking what these guys are doing over there, so I also just added their Lobby Bar entertainment into the music schedules in this section. Now called LBLE, (Lobby Bar Libations Extraordinaire), the food is coming from MAC 24/7 and there's live entertainment Wednesdays thru Saturday from 6 - 9 p.m. 921-5564. • Speaking of Happy Hours, one of my favorite things although I rarely get out to them anymore, there's now an app for that. Check out HappyHourPal.com and enter your zip code for a cute little app that keeps you up-to-date on all things happy. • Tucked inside Stay Hotel Waikiki, a hotel tucked away itself on Koa Avenue behind the Hyatt, is the newest entrant into Waikiki's food scene, Sway Restaurant + Bar. Open from 4 p.m. - 2 a.m., it offers a full menu with items such as Carne Asada Tacos ($13), Bahn Mi Burgers ($12), Roasted Beer Can Chicken ($15) or a Chateaubriand Wrap ($12) to name a few. Happy hour is from 4-6 p.m and there's a full-time mixologist on staff. 923-7829. • Awaiting word on Arancino that was scheduled to open at the Kahala Hotel a month or so ago and Sakai of Hawaii, last heard scheduled to open this July. Also scheduled to open in the near future is Peppoli at the Aqua Lotus this summer. Waiting to see, let's hope they start opening soon. ~ Pam

Concierge of the Month

NAME: Kazuko "Wako" Mimura
COMPANY: Aulani, A Disney Resort & Spa
TITLE: Concierge

This month's winner was drawn to the concierge desk by her passion for people and dedication to providing excellent customer service. It's no surprise, then, that Wako received not one, but multiple nominations with glowing accolades from her colleagues: "she helps guests from her heart," "exceptional guest service," and "does an outstanding job." Congratulations to a very deserving concierge!

- Q: How long have you been with the Aulani?
A: My 2nd anniversary is in July. I was part of the opening team back in 2011.
- Q: Do you work in conjunction with an activities desk or do you do double-duty?
A: We have a tour desk called HoloHolo Tours and Activities and my concierge desk is located right next to them.
- Q: How did you come to work in the industry?
A: I previously worked in a Japanese travel agency as a tour guide and really enjoyed guest interaction. I naturally gravitated to the hotel industry and knew I wanted to be a concierge.
- Q: What do you feel makes your desk unique?
A: Applying the Aulani Core Values to provide the best possible service: Kaulike: fairness, balance; Kuleana: accountability; Lailima: teamwork; Malama: to care for; Olu'olu: graciousness. By practicing these attributes we can share the "Aloha Spirit" and touch the hearts of our visiting guests.

- Q: What do you think is the one skill that a good concierge has to have to succeed?
A: My answer has to be knowledge & passion combined!
- Q: What is one of your favorite restaurants to send guests to?
A: Lunch at Nico's Pier 38, dinner at Roy's, and if the guest going to North Shore, then a Grass Skirt Grill "Fresh Fish Burger." Yum!!
- Q: Any unique activities on the windward side that you recommend?
A: I love to recommend "Secret Island" because when you are on the private island with options like paddle board, kayak, canoeing, snorkeling, glass bottom boat, and all of the land activities, all at your fingertips. It seems like you have Hawaii all to yourself.
- Q: With summer fast approaching, any fun family things you like to tell your guests about?
A: At the resort we have many family activities and my favorite one is "Shake-a-Shaka Pool Party" with Disney Characters.
- Q: Are you from the islands originally?
A: I am originally from Akashi, Japan. I relocated to Hawaii in 2004 and love living in Hawaii!
- Q: What do you love best about living in Hawaii?
A: Great weather and Aloha Spirit! And also because O'ahu has both the city-life and country-life.
- Q: Do you have a secret hobby that your guests would never guess?

I have been a blogger for about 8 years. I mostly write about restaurants, beauty cosmetics, and my dog!

- Q: Any other comments you'd like to share?
A: I am truly grateful and blessed to be working with a great team of Concierge: John, Aina, Sharilyn, Mika, Stephen, Michelle, and Mamiko. It makes coming in to work much more enjoyable because of everyone.
