A detailed map of Old San Juan, Puerto Rico. The map shows a grid of streets: Ave. Muñoz Rivera at the top, Ave. Ponce de León in the middle, and Ave. Fernández Juncos at the bottom. To the left, a vertical street is labeled 'VIEJO SAN JUAN'. Key landmarks include 'Parque Muñoz Rivera' (a large open area), 'Torre de La Reina' (a small square building), 'McDonald's' (a rectangular building), 'Bomberos' (a rectangular building), 'Comandancia Policia' (a rectangular building), 'Texaco' (a rectangular building), 'ARMY CORPS OF ENGINEERING' (a rectangular building), and 'Club Nautico' (a rectangular building). A large 'X' marks the intersection of Ave. Ponce de León and Ave. Fernández Juncos. A 'UNIFORMS OUTLET INC.' is located on Ave. Ponce de León, with arrows pointing to 'Froilan alfombras' and 'McDonald's'. A dashed line with arrows indicates a route from Ave. Muñoz Rivera, west to 'Hacia San Juan', then south to Ave. Ponce de León, east to the 'X', and then south to Ave. Fernández Juncos. A wavy line at the bottom represents the 'Bahía San Juan' (San Juan Bay). A small inset box in the bottom left corner is titled 'Autobuses' and lists: A-5, B-3, B-21.
