New York City, U.S.A.

The terrible events in Minneapolis, together with too many others occurring around our country, are tragic and heartbreaking. Let us be clear — we want everyone to know we support the #BlackLivesMatter movement and recognize the LGBTQ community. We are fully committed to fighting historical racism and systemic discrimination at all levels.

This reality, coupled with the COVID crisis, highlights the inequities Black, Latino, Asian Americans, and other diverse communities continue to face every day. In the end, we will strengthen our resolve to do more as individuals, as a firm, and in our business.

Now, more than ever, we are even more committed to be inclusive in our work and will continue to accelerate financial resources to providing the greatest economic impact to low income and ethnic neighborhoods and the LGBTQ communities across America.
