

“THE BOND”

Two Hearts - One Spirit

A Monument Honoring the Horse/Human Connection
through Cody's Wish & Cody Dorman

2 Hearts - 1 Spirit: Cody Dorman & Cody's Wish

One of horse racing's most inspiring stories involves the almost mystical connection between the 2023 Horse of the Year Cody's Wish, and his namesake, Cody Dorman, a young man who was born with a rare genetic disorder, Wolf-Hirschhorn Syndrome, that confined him to a life in a wheelchair, unable to walk or communicate.

Cody, who defied the grim prognoses, was never expected to live past the age of two, yet he first showed the fight in him when he was five weeks old when he survived open-heart surgery after an initial procedure failed. He then survived two strokes and almost 50 surgeries over his 17 years. Through subtle head movements he found that he was able to communicate on a tablet.

It all started in 2018 when Cody met the bay son of Curlin when he was a foal at Godolphin's Gainsborough Farm in Versailles, KY, as part of a collaboration between Keeneland and the Make-A-Wish Foundation. Everyone was concerned about how the visit might go due to the horse's unfamiliarity with a wheelchair.

The foal eyed his special visitor and approached slowly. He sniffed around some before burying his head in Cody's lap. That was the moment that forever changed their lives. The unique and special bond between the young horse and Cody led to the naming of the horse as "Cody's Wish." Cody drew the same reaction in succeeding visits over the years, and Cody's Wish never failed to acknowledge the young man's presence. It's a tribute and recognition of the profound connection and friendship that developed between the boy and the horse.

"These two just had some type of language they used to communicate with each other," said Kelly Dorman, Cody's father. "You couldn't hear it, but you could see it and you could certainly feel it. It was pretty amazing."

Kelly described Cody's Wish as his son's "best friend." He noted a profound difference in the boy after the horse entered their lives. Cody no longer battled depression, and became stronger and more dedicated to his therapy and schoolwork. He celebrated birthdays with his namesake and attended almost every single race Cody's Wish ran after 2022. Cody even attended his high school prom - which is a true testament to his indomitable spirit and the transformative impact of this extraordinary equine connection.

Their friendship changed each other on a deep level, and their common bond was their determination - determination to survive for Cody Dorman, and determination to win for Cody's Wish.

On November 4, 2023, the Dorman Family were at Santa Anita Racetrack in California to watch Cody's Wish race for a repeat win in the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile. This would be the final run for Cody's Wish, and Cody was in the Winner's Circle to honor his best friend's win. On his way home the next day, Cody Dorman suffered a medical event on the plane and died at the age of 17.

"With Cody's diagnosis at birth, we always knew this day would come, but we were determined to help Cody live his best life for however long we had him," his parents said. "Anyone who has seen him at the racetrack, especially around Cody's Wish, understands that in many ways he taught us all how to live, always keeping a positive attitude and being more concerned about those around him than himself ... We have been completely amazed to experience the impact Cody has had on so many people, through the journey that this wondrous racehorse has taken us all on."

'The Bond: Two Hearts-One Spirit' has the beating heart of an incredible story - a story of friendship, resilience, and the extraordinary power of a shared bond between a young man and his very special horse.

Their story will now live on for the ages through this beautiful monument by artist Jocelyn Russell, and it is our hope that everyone will not only feel their Bond, but experience an incredible Bond of their own.

A Note from the DORMAN FAMILY

On behalf of our family, and especially Cody, we want to extend our gratitude to everyone involved in making this monument at the Kentucky Horse Park a reality.

The first stones to be laid for the foundation of this incredible memorial were unknowingly placed at the time, by a very special young man and a very special horse six years ago at Godolphin's Gainsborough farm when a then unnamed five-month-old foal placed his head in Cody's lap.

The ride that Cody & Cody's Wish has taken us and so much of the world on since then still leaves us in amazement each and every day. Their enduring friendship and love for each other was and always will be a divine example of perseverance and determination.

Our hope for this monument will stand not only as an inspiration but an example that you can conquer the mountains that lie in your path especially when you have love in your heart for everyone around you. This above all, is the message that Cody and Cody's Wish gave us, they made each other better. And as we all watched, we became better ourselves. God bless and thank you once more for your support now and throughout this journey.

— Kelly, Leslie, Kylie & always Cody.

DAN PRIDE, Chief Operating Officer, Godolphin:

“Godolphin is thrilled to support The Bond project at the Kentucky Horse Park. Cody's Wish has touched the hearts of thousands and this memorial will ensure the journey will continue for years to come. We are grateful to the Dorman family for letting so many of us join them in honoring their son, Cody.”

LEE CARTER, President, Kentucky Horse Park:

“The relationship we share with the horse is special. It can raise our spirit and improve our well-being. There is no better example of this than the bond between Cody Dorman and Cody's Wish. Creating the monument “The Bond: Two Hearts – One Spirit” will celebrate this special relationship. We are honored to place this monument at the Kentucky Horse Park as a reminder that our life can be lifted up, by a horse that leans down.”

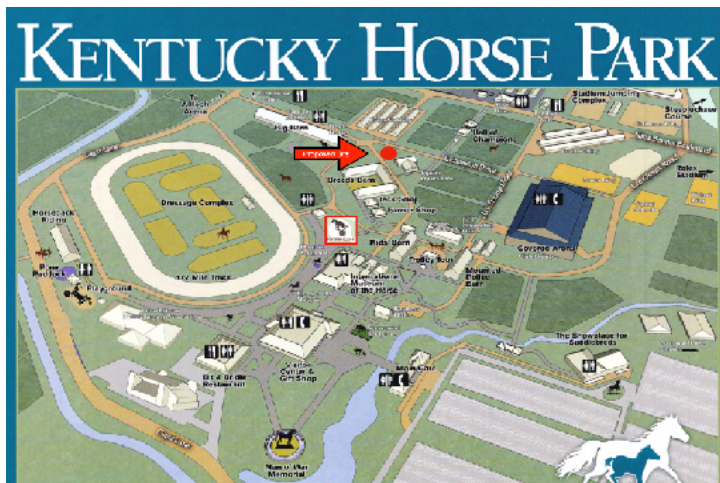

A Monument Honoring the Horse/Human Connection

THE MONUMENT: “The Bond: Two Hearts-One Spirit” by artist Jocelyn Russell: Young Cody Dorman and Cody’s Wish had a very special Bond. When Cody’s Wish placed his head into the lap of Cody Dorman - not once, but every time they met - it lit a fire in both of their hearts. With this monument, we want everyone to experience that same feeling and connection.

People in wheelchairs will be able to roll up under the nose of Cody’s Wish and place their hand on his nose and look into the eyes of a very special horse. On the wall behind them they will emulate the iconic picture of Cody Dorman and Cody’s Wish. Others who are not in wheelchairs will also be able to feel the spirit of The Bond as they stand alongside or in front of the bronze monument and touch the chin and look into the eyes of this beautiful horse. (Please see Jocelyn’s other magnificent work at www.wildlifebronzes.com.)

LOCATION: Kentucky Horse Park, Lexington, KY: We will be placing Monument #1/10 of ‘The Bond: Two Hearts - One Spirit’ by artist Jocelyn Russell at the beautiful Kentucky Horse Park (KHP) in Lexington, KY. The KHP welcomes over one million visitors a year, and is the home of the Central Kentucky Riding for Hope, an organization that is dedicated to enriching the community by improving the quality of life and the health of children and adults with special physical, cognitive, emotional and social needs through therapeutic activities with the horse. This monument will be a destination site at the Park.

Specific Site at Park: Next to Champion Drive and up from the Big Barn and Big Barn Road, in a beautiful grassy area across the street from the Event Stabling barns and paddock near the Hall of Champions.

Monument Design & Materials: Cody's Wish is made of bronze. He will be life-size and stand almost 17 hands high. He will stand flat on the ground.

Two Etched Granite Walls: Two black granite walls will be featured in the Plaza (each 4'x6'). The image wall facing the monument will have a life-size etching of Cody Dorman and Cody's Wish's iconic photo of Cody's Wish placing his nose into Cody Dorman's lap. Underneath the picture will be an etched quote from young Cody Dorman and signed "Love, Cody Dorman" in Cody's handwriting.

On the backside of this wall facing the street will be the Donor Wall. All donations over $5,000 will be placed on this wall - the larger the donation, the larger the name on the wall.

The other wall will tell the story of their incredible bond on the front. On the backside of this wall will list the amazing accomplishments of this incredible Thoroughbred, and a photo of Cody's Wish winning the 2022 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile.

Plaza: The cement plaza surround will be round shaped and roughly 34' in diameter, and in the center of the plaza will be stamped a large diamond shape. There will be a beautiful wall bench along the hillside and several benches in front for wonderful seating.

A separate bronze plaque and stand will tell the story of Cody Dorman and Cody's Wish in Braille.

On behalf of Angels Without Wings, Inc., may I say that we are so very excited to have this opportunity to place this incredible Monument - 'The Bond: Two Hearts - One Spirit' - at the Kentucky Horse Park. I hope you can find a way to support and join us as I know you will be as proud and honored as we are to pay tribute to not only this unique horse/human relationship, but also help others feel the same healing connection in some small way.

We have set a dedication date of Saturday, October 11, 2025, 9:00am at the Kentucky Horse Park.

If you have any questions, or would like to discuss this proposal further, please don't hesitate to reach out.

Kindest regards,

Robin Hutton

Angels Without Wings, Inc.

Angels Without Wings, Inc. (AWW) is a 501 (c) 3 corporation has spent the last 15 years dedicated to honoring and supporting people and organizations that do great work helping people that are less fortunate, and helping animals in need. AWW also celebrates the human-animal bond and the inspiration animals bring to our lives, and the relationship between Cody Dorman and Cody's Wish symbolizes this bond like no other. They both are true Angels Without Wings.

Our mission also honors those animals that have served our country on the war and home front with Monuments, Medals, and a future traveling Museum that will teach history through the eyes of the animals. We raised money through our DBA Sgt Reckless Memorial Fund for four monuments by artist Jocelyn Russell - including one at the Kentucky Horse Park - to honor the great United States Marine Warhorse, SSgt Reckless. Six monuments now stand across America to honor this incredible hero.

Our DBA Animals in War & Peace has been awarding Medals of Bravery and Distinguished Service Medals to animals that have served our country since 2019. We also spearheaded the placement of two monuments to the USMC war dog, MWD Lucca K458, also by Jocelyn Russell.

Each of these programs under the AWW umbrella contributes to its overall mission of educating the public, raising awareness, and spreading hope, inspiration, appreciation, gratitude, and love.

The Bond Two Hearts — One Spirit Cody Dorman and Cody's Wish

"He ran that race like Cody has lived his whole life."
— Leslie Dorman, after Cody's Wish ran his first race

Cody Dorman had already beaten the odds when he was introduced to a 5-month-old foal at Gainsborough Farm in 2018. Born with Wolf-Hirschhorn Syndrome, he underwent more than 40 operations, including two open-heart surgeries before he was 3. Cody made an instant connection with the foal, the interaction so impactful that Godolphin named him after Cody and Make-A-Wish. When Cody was depressed during the pandemic, a visit to see "his" horse snapped him out of it.

As Cody's Wish started winning races, Cody traveled to racetracks around the country to watch him. Each time they met — in the paddock, on the backstretch, in the winner's circle — the bond between the strapping racehorse and 70-pound boy was evident. Cody finally had the friend he so desperately wanted.

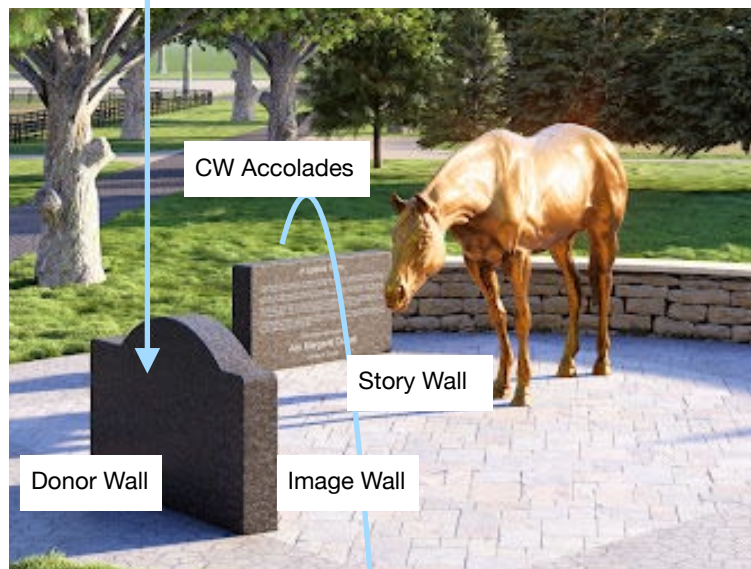

Cody saw Cody's Wish win the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile at Keeneland in 2022. He traveled to Santa Anita with his parents, Kelly and Leslie, and sister, Kylie, for the 2023 Dirt Mile, watching from the winner's circle as Cody's Wish capped his career with a thrilling victory. The following day, November 5, 2023, Cody Dorman finished his own race. While his death caused immeasurable sadness, those close to him were comforted by the fact that he was there for his horse right to the end.

The story of Cody and Cody's Wish is one of resilience, triumph and love, a tale of an inexplicable, yet undeniable connection between a courageous boy and the champion racehorse he considered his best friend.
