

5 Interior Trends Summer 2022

Rikke Mitchell, Director at Nordhus Furniture shares 5 of the hottest trends for this summer:

Colour Drenching

Colour drenching is essentially choosing one colour to saturate multiple surfaces within the space. Rikke Mitchell, Director at Nordhus Furniture is an advocate of the technique, and she says: “colour drenching signals the move away from white ceilings and woodwork towards a considered cohesive scheme with a contemporary feel. Colour drenching works particularly well in bedrooms such as the Confetti wardrobe we recently made for a client.

Hidden Kitchen

“Hidden kitchens start at the design stage of a new kitchen”, says Rikke. “Here at Nordhus creating cleverly concealed spaces are part of every kitchen we make.” These hidden workspaces typically hide microwaves, coffee machines, toasters & mixers. It can be closed when not in use to create a tidy and contemporary family space.

Waterfall Islands

Whilst marble worktops are a classic addition to any high-end kitchen, adding a waterfall end to an island is a contemporary take on this kitchen classic. According to Rikke: “when we make kitchens with waterfall ends, we work with our stone masons to ensure the worktop is mitred correctly and the vein in the marble flows across the worktop and down the waterfall end to enhance the effect.

Integrated Handles

Integrated handles no longer mean a boring j handle at the top of a door. At Nordhus Furniture, these can be almost any shape to suit the clients needs. “The circular handles are a lovely tactile detail on all sorts of cabinetry”, says Rikke, “they invite your hands to use them.”

Secret Door

Nordhus Furniture specialises in designing secret doors into spaces. These allow adjoining spaces to be closed off and hidden entirely or opened back up. They create a sense of anticipation. Rikke says “The secret door allows for a uniform set of wardrobe doors within the bedroom, which when closed creates symmetry and is aesthetically pleasing. Once open, these lead to a further set of wardrobes and master ensuite beyond.” ■

“When we make kitchens with waterfall ends, we work with our stone masons to ensure the worktop is mitred correctly”

THE DETAILS

Nordhus Furniture

For your joinery journey, contact info@nordhus.co.uk or check out www.nordhus.co.uk

