Catch Me Baby

I know you're there.
I can feel you watching me.
You'll always be there
Just promise to catch me.
Catch me when I fall
Hold me tight and don't let go.

Catch me when I fall.
I don't need to see you tonight.
I can feel you watching me.
Always be my starry night.
Can you hear my heart call
Hold me until the sun shines bright.
Then do it all again.

Catch me baby
Save me from myself
Catch me baby
Save me, catch me when I fall.

Timing

Timing is key
Falling into a sea
A sea of stars shining so bright
Darkness hugging me like waves
Drowning in the waves
Stars so bright
Damn why can't I get this
Why can't I get this
Get this timing thing done right.

Wave After Wave

When we met you adored me
We were merely teenagers
And your love, so strong, scared me
You gave it a shot.
I didn't dare give in.
When you looked into my eyes
I swear you saw my soul
It would make you smile.
But as time wore on
You tossed in the towel

I'm here alone and miss you
Miss the way you looked at me
Miss the way you spoke my name
Miss how you adored me
I walk alone
Drowning in wave after wave
I walk alone
With a starry night sky
It keeps my heart safe
It keeps my tears at bay.

You left me here all alone.
I don't know which way to go.
Wish all roads led me back to you.
Slowly drowning in wave after wave.
Wish you were here.
I need someone to hold.
Wish you were near
I miss your voice
And your heart beating next to mine.
Slowly drowning in wave after wave
This too will fade.

No More

Done with the pretty little lies
That I tell myself
People know what they did
People know what they should have done
People know what they didn't do
Stop giving chances
To those who don't know you

Lost and drowning in a world
A world of where I thought I should be
The journey I've been on The journey of where I'm going
The journey of my now
My map is the story
The book is always rewriting itself

The shimmering stars will be the light
It's a journey not everyone is invited on It's your party light up the sky
It's your party no one is invited
It's your party so just shine bright
We are here for just a blink of an eye
Leave a mark and just shine

Sometimes things just don't turn out right
You're where you are needed
Standing alone can be lonely
Standing alone only a few can do this
Standing alone is for the brave and strong
You might not be where you wanted to be
But you are where you are needed

Forget about those people who are your past
Keep moving forward on your journey
Enjoy life because it's your party
Shine bright because sometimes you're someone's brightest star

Had enough
Can't take it anymore
Once I adored you
Now I can't stand you
You were my best friend
Until you betrayed me
You were my best friend
Until you used my secrets against me
You were my best friend
Until you tore me down
And left me in little pieces

I had enough
I won't play your games anymore
I once loved you
Now I hate you
When we broke up
You didn't want to go
When we broke up
You're telling everyone you left me
When we broke up
I felt like I could breathe again

I had enough
I'm not playing anymore
I can't stand being around you
You take what I say and do
And twist them into your warped reality
You paint me like a monster
You better hope beyond hope
I never become that monster you make me out to be
I fucking hate you
Stay away from me
Just fucking stay away from me
Please just keep your distance
Because I'm done playing with you.

What If ....

Just a thought ...

What if I wasn't human?

Yet wearing a human skin suit to blend in with the crowd.

What if this world around us wasn't really here?

We walk and live in someone's dream?

How sure can we trust our eyes, our ears, our sense of touch?

How sure can we be of what we see around us? Hear? and feel?

Can we trust our senses? Can we trust the world around us?

What if ....

What if is two words that I love because the possibilities of them are endless.

Words ... a playground for the imagination

Sweet Dreams,

Come Play With Me

The stars are so shiny and bright
They are so inviting
Jump into the silky pool of darkness
Roll around in it
Drink it in
Savour the moment
We are all merely a moment in time
They are ever so inviting tonight
Like they are calling my name softly
Come play with us, they whisper gently
A playground for the imagination

Come play with me ....
