South Suburban's Matching Gifts Program

By Ron Brink

Back in 2020 the AGHOA submitted an application to South Suburban's Matching Gifts Program. Due to the pandemic, the program was suspended for last year. So this year we have been advised that our application will be considered again.

The Matching Gifts Program through South Suburban Parks and Recreation District, provides a way for individuals, neighborhoods, homeowner associations, sports groups, businesses, and other organizations to join with South Suburban Parks and Recreation (SSPR) in the development of their particular projects.

Projects that are less than $2,000 are more likely to be approved for funding than requests in excess of that amount. The AGHOA has, over the years, submitted suggestions. Some have been approved and some not.

Some projects that have been approved were for the picnic table in the rest area next to the trail on the east side of the neighborhood. Another was for the covered picnic table and barbecue stand in Altair Park.

Our proposal was for the redesign of both the north and east entrances around the Acres Green signs. These two areas, especially the north entrance, need a makeover. The ugly green bushes have grown over the years to the point they obscure the sign.

As a result, we have worked with Larry Hurd, the horticulturalist from SSPR. He has come up with a plan to reinvigorate both entrances. We should hear if our plan is approved sometime in March or early April. The cost for the project is roughly $1,700. If approved the AGHOA would be responsible for about $850.

Here are some pictures of plants suggested for the redesign of the gardens.

Updates from the

Architectural Control Committee

Yes, Spring is upon us and what a good feeling it is! Keep in mind that significant snow can still fall in April (our 2nd heaviest month), but it is a good time to plan and begin any outdoor projects.

Thank you to those of you who have shared potential plans with me for out buildings and workshops. My goal is to help you understand Douglas County codes and regulations. Also, to help you navigate through the paperwork required by the County. Hopefully you have found the people at the Building Dept friendly and helpful.

Couple of notes based on the covenants for each filing:

Sheds and other buildings should conform to the setbacks on sides and rear of property lines. i.e. No building shall be located nearer than (5 feet to an interior lot line for filings 1 through 4), (8 feet to an interior lot line for filings 5 & 6). No building shall be located on any interior lot nearer than (15 feet to the rear lot line for filings 1 through 4) (25 feet to the rear lot line for filings 5 & 6).

You can check your covenants to determine what filing you are in.

Do not assume the fences are on the property line. Rolloff dumpsters and containers are allowed on your property, not on the street, per Douglas County codes. Douglas County has the authority to enforce their codes.

Just as a reminder; if you have any doubts about a project, even inside your home, contact or visit the Douglas County Building Dept in Castle Rock. Their number is 303-660-7497 – Dial 0 for Building Dept. You can also contact me and I will do my best to help you and point you in the right direction

The Good and the Bad

By Ron Brink

The Bad.

In my last bee article, I wrote about the death of both of our hives from the bad freeze/wind we had late last year. It was really disheartening to see the top of one hive blown off, but more so was to find all the bees were dead. Both Jean and I discussed what to do next, and we decided that we would give it one more try this spring.

When the weather got better (some days) I started to take the hives apart and to get the frames and boxes ready for the new bees. It was somewhat depressing to find the bees were dead. On some frames there was a huddled mass, 10-15 bees, where they died in place. We were really disappointed in the type of bee.

When we first started five or so years ago, we went with Italian bees. Last year we decided to try a different variant of bee; Carniolan bees. We were led to believe that they were heartier and more capable of surviving the arid weather of Colorado. Not so much. So as of this writing, I'm still in the process of getting ready for the new bees.

The Good.

After the downer of losing the two hives, something positive did happen. As I wrote, they died, not of starvation, but from cold and wind. What they left behind was honey and quite a bit of honey.

After I started cleaning out the dead bees, from the 32 frames (16 frames in each hive) we were able to scrouge up enough frames to harvest honey! I guesstimate we had maybe 6 frames worth of honey.

So the week before the big blizzard when the temperature got into the 60's, Jean and I started to "spin" the frames. When it was all said and done, we were able to gather just a little over three quarters of a gallon of honey.

That should hopefully get me through my need for coffee sweetener until we can harvest again.

AGHOA Minutes

Provided by Jean Henke

The last Acres Green Home Owners' meeting was held via ZOOM on Feb. 18.

As mentioned in the last newsletter, Karen needs to opt out of being President of the AGHOA. Karen has been serving the community in that capacity for the past 10 years. We are all so grateful for her dedication to our community.

In the absence of any current volunteers for the position, it was suggested that each of the officers take on a portion of the responsibilities. As such, Matt (our Vice President) will set up upcoming meetings. Sandy (our Treasurer) will contact the trash companies for our upcoming Dumpster Days. Mona has volunteered to work on the Welcome Committee. She mentioned she will be looking for items to put in welcome packages.

Garage Sales are scheduled for June 4 & 5.

Tentatively we hope to have the next Dumpster Day on June 12th, if we can get the trash company to agree. As usual, members will be able to take advantage of Dumpster Day, free of charge. Officers will be available to accept memberships on dumpster day.

June 12th would also be Front Garden Clean Up Day.

Karen mentioned that Metrum is willing to pay $600 toward the paper shredding truck. We hope to have electronics recycling, shredding and the dumpster on the same day.

The Independence Day parade is scheduled for the morning of Saturday, July 3rd. We hope to have a car parade through the neighborhood as a part of the celebrations. We are looking to Bob and Ron to organize that portion of the celebration. Karen will likely organize the Metrum activities for the day.

Committee Status: Sandy presented the Treasurer's report, a copy is included in this newsletter. There were 32 paid memberships plus those uncounted from Paypal at the last meeting. A list of members for 2021 is printed in this newsletter. Jim reported receiving several calls from residents regarding what to do regarding things like "a neighbor's tree falling on their property" and several calls regarding whether or not they needed a permit.

Regarding "Building around us" we have heard that the old Sears building (formerly known as the Purple Palace), would become a home decorating place. The new Scandinavian design store will be opening soon across the road from King Soopers.

Indoor Air Pollution and Seniors

Poor indoor air quality can be detrimental to the health of senior citizens. Here are some tips for improving indoor air quality.

1. Use natural ventilation. Opening windows and doors can clear the air, or spot-ventilate at some common pollution sources, like kitchen and bathroom exhaust fans and dryer vent are working properly. These fans remove moisture that could lead to mold growth.

2. Change the furnace and air-conditioner filters. Forced-air heating and cooling systems filters should be changed regularly, at least at the start of the heating season and the cooling season if a central air-conditioner is part of the system.

3. Use non-polluting products. Limit indoor air pollution by cutting down on the products that can cause the pollution. Paints, adhesives, cleaning products, solvents and building products, also carpets and other types of flooring, can produce fumes that may be harmful. Look for low-VOC products (volatile organic compounds). Most VOCs are harmless, but some can produce dizziness, headaches, eye and nose and throat irritation.

4. Test and monitor. Have your home tested for radon and install carbon monoxide detectors.

Radon is an odorless, invisible gas that is a byproduct of the decay of uranium that occurs naturally in some soil. If it finds its way into your home, it can lead to serious illness. You can do the test yourself, and test kits are relatively inexpensive.

Carbon monoxide (CO) is another odorless, invisible gas that can cause you harm. CO is a byproduct of combustion, and there are a number of possible in-home sources, including unvented kerosene heaters, fireplaces, gas-fired water heaters and space-heating equipment that are not properly vented.

A car idling in an attached garage can also be the cause of CO in the home. A CO detector will alert you to a problem before it can harm you. Many building codes require CO detectors in new homes. The Environmental Protection Agency recommends installing one on every level of your home.

Indoor Gardening for Seniors: Health Benefits and Tips to Get Started

According to a study by the Journal of Preventative Medicine Reports, growing plants improves mood, lowers anxiety and increases wellness.

Nurturing plants also helps maintain existing skills that provide pleasure and confidence at a time when memory loss or physical decline can affect people's self-confidence.

Spending daily time with plants may reduce the likelihood of dementia by up to 36%, according to a 16-year study of 2,800 seniors conducted at St. Vincent's Hospital in New South Wales, Australia.

Nurturing plants provides similar satisfaction to caring for another human, and is a great way to maintain the physical and emotional benefits of the nurturing experience.

People are happier when they see something beautiful. In addition to the visual benefits of nature, oxygen produced by plants has a relaxing effect on the body and encourages deep, steady breathing.

Why Seniors Need Pets

Companionship-Loneliness is unnecessary when you can have a loving caring friend at your side day in and day out.

Routine-Pets keep us on schedule. When to wake up. Eat breakfast, lunch and dinner. Even when to feed the birds or collect the mail. They have a built in clock!

Exercise: They make us move. To walk, feed them or just do the daily chores required.

Stress: They know when we are sad, frightened or in pain. They are quick to comfort us in times of need. They never let us down.

Getting Out and About: Conjoining with other pet owners gets us out and about. Clubs, pet shows and fairs are fun and get us out to mingle among other pet enthusiasts.

New Friends: And in the process of getting out we communicate more with others and make new friends.

New Interests: Our pets drag us into new interests in many ways. Maybe making homemade treats, clothes, leashes, perches, blankets or shelters. You never know where they might lead you.

Protection: Whether Dog, Cat or Bird, they will offer their best contribution to defending the turf. Listen and let them be a part of the defense team in your home.

Care: When we must care for something, it brings us to a position of caring for all things great and small. The receiving is in the giving. Caring is a gift to both the cared for and the caregiver. Investing in a Life diverts attention to the opposite. Giving attention to life gives back to you great and small. The receiving is in the giving. Caring is a gift to both the cared for and the caregiver. Giving attention to life gives back to you.

Top 3 Reasons Why Spring is the Best Time To Sell Your Home

- 1. Spring brings out the most buyers – We are very fortunate to have great weather all year long and Spring is still the most active time in the Real Estate market. In Spring, the days are longer, and the weather makes people want to get outside and look at homes.
- 2. Buyers want to time their move with the school year – Many buyers start their search in Spring expecting to purchase no later than Summer. Giving themselves a couple months to get acclimated to their new home and neighborhood before the school year starts.
- 3. More buyers means more potential offers – Nothing is better for a seller than multiple offers and a bidding war. More buyers means more potential offers. Spring is the time that will most likely occur.
