I love the house that Salty Dog Properties built! It's a home built for me and my family that reflects our lifestyle and taste, not the builder's. I trusted Tom Lumsden during every phase of the process, from the initial house plan selection to the final walk-through. Tom's experience, his judgment, his attention to detail, and his sense of humor made what can be a stressful process – enjoyable. After some unavoidable administrative delays, the house was built on time and within budget. Working with Tom and his very able Salty Dog crew was such a positive experience that I will not think twice about working with him again if another house is in my future.
