

Q. Now, as far as Cram and Rossi goes, during that entire length of time, were you ever afraid that they were going to tell someone or turn you in or expose you in any way?

A. Rossi at one time come down with some bullshit that, that he was afraid that I would kill him.

Q. When?

A The one, the one time that he was going to quit, he said I was going to kill him.

Q. What made him--what gave him that idea, John, why would he think that?

A. He, he claims that he, he felt he knew too much, ya know.

Q. About what?

A Well he knew about--ya know--he was with the John Szyk thing, ya know. He had told me several times that he could go to the police on me. R-Rossi would hold that over me. Ever, ever

A Well he knew about--ya know--he was with the John Szyk thing, ya know. He had told me several times that he could go to the police on me. R-Rossi would hold that over me. Ever, ever since the time that he got in the car, John Szyk's car ....

Q Then you told him that it was from someone that was dead?

A I didn't have to tell him, he was there.

Q Tell me his exact involvement with Szyk.

A With szyk? Uh, on the morning or I think the night after I had met him, I think Rossi was with me the night that I did meet John Szyk and then he was with me also the next morning. Because of being high and that, I don't remember if Rossi was there the whole night. I know Rossi was there very early in the morning--he could have been there through the whole ordeal, I don't know, I re--I can't remember. I do know the next thing in the morning is that we had to go get the, the car--we went and got the car from down on Clark street.

Q He was there the next morning, John?

A Yeah

Q When you woke up he was there?

A Yeah, Rossi was there.

Q Where was he sleeping?

A He was in the living room, sleeping on a chair.

Q Where was Szyk?

A Szyk I think was on the floor of the other bedroom--not the bedroom I was sleeping in, but in the other bedroom.

Q He was dead?

A Yeah to the best of my--yeah, he had to be dead cause he was thrown in the crawlspace.
