

Dawn Boulton draws inspiration from the landscapes of San Antonio and the Texas Hill Country to blend the region's natural beauty and rich artistic culture into her work. A lifelong art lover, she is a multimedia artist currently focused on pen and ink drawings and ceramics. Her drawings are always freehand, no rulers or measuring tools, and range from simple to symmetrically surreal. Her ceramic works emphasize both form and function, featuring artfully crafted, useful pieces such as boxes and table fountains. Her work reveals a deep appreciation for natural and geometric forms, shaped by diverse influences including cymatics, mandalas, religious art, and science. The result is a visual language of harmony and movement that invites full sensory immersion.

A true people-person with a positive spirit, Dawn enjoys connecting with others through her art, whether through intricate compositions, handcrafted ceramics, or custom commissions. Her drawings and fountains blend aesthetic beauty with organic elements, transforming spaces with elegance and balance.
