

Far Away

Lyrics by Denny Anthony

You say you're tired of living this masquerade
I say I'm sick of seeing you drown in your decay
Third down, you're gonna bow to the calling Reign
You see another light and it's got you in

There is a feeling reoccurring
A flame to numb your "Not"
A constant reassuring
Of what you know you're not
So press it to the Centre
You'll find along the smart
The wedding in the window

Dead are moving on
Far away
Sane will leave you on that Day
Dead are moving on
Far away
Gain will leave you for the Day

Isolation

Where do we go?

Farewell to pleasantries of foregone war

Top gun has come undone and engraved in pain

Your gain with another distain and a day with rain is engrained in stain

There is a steering reoccurring
Insane to stop your thought
A permanent vacation
From what you know you don't
So bring it to the Sire
Anxiety's demise

The freedom of the widow

(Chorus)

Spirit of morality
In need if truth be told
Conjured by deficiency
A breaking of the mold

Dead are moving on
Far away
Sane will leave you on that Day
Dead are moving on
Far away
Pain will leave you...
