

Moments of the Day

Lyrics by Denny Anthony

Well I take it that you took it wrong
A little miscommunication
I'll find you trying to find me
A little searching never hurt

So let me ask you this
Is it really worth it to you
To sit around and spend your time on
Trying to comprehend
Not getting anywhere
With what we're trying to say
    With a worried grunt
    Of a lonely sower
    Viewing moments of the day
    Of a loving son
    Of a lonely sower
    Viewing moments of the day
        Falling close against the grain
        Mesmerize the beast of stain
        Crawling high above distain
        Traumatize against refrain

You, even you don't know what I try to say
Encompassing my mind is your worth

-Chorus-

Home, lead me home
I'm sick and tired of never being known
I guess it makes sense
My soul mate would be lost
When even I am lost within my own soul