

Dying to Live

Lyrics by: Denny Anthony

One more taste of ecstasy
Is all I need
One more drink of hypocrisy
To stray away from me
 Dying to live, living to die
 We drown in pride
 Dying to live, living to die
Under political policy
The fallen seed
Building upon discrepancy
The foundation of greed
Face to face we compromise
Our morality
Forgetting that we can arise
To immortality
 Dying to live, living to die
 Our need is a lie
 Dying to live, living to die

I can taste the bitter sweet irony
That's left to "need"
Of tyranny in subtlety we cannot... perceive

Thrown a bone
Silent, alone
A compromising stain
Came up from the strain of grown
We're falling from the grain
Terror breeds before our eyes
We crumble in decay
Plotting schemes remove our sight
Sustained by disbelief
 Dying to live, living to die
 Decay in strife
 Dying to live, living to die
