

Unchained

Lyrics: Denny Anthony

Too many fallen, weaken
Those who grope after Faith
Severance in ties with undermines
Who've stolen the sheep's disguise
    And what is tragic
    Thousands of souls are bloodied
    Unfortunate awaits
    The epitomizing sullied
        Unchained
        From the flames
        No one to blame
        Unchained

Destiny calls to strengthen
Those who reach out to faith
Folly and terror leave unaware
At the hands of the One who's greater
    And what is tragic
    Thousands of souls are missing
    Salvation awaits
    All of those repenting
        Unchained
        From the flames
        Know one to blame
        Unchained

Destiny calls to strengthen
Those who believe in Faith
Feeding on One who understands
The folly that we are facing
    And what is magic
    Forever souls abiding
    In fortunate Love
    The Epitomizing Mercy

Unchained
From the flames
No one to blame
Unchained
