

A close-up photograph of a human skull resting on a wooden surface. On the forehead of the skull, there is a hand-drawn illustration of a dragon with its mouth open, breathing fire. Above the dragon, the Latin phrase "Hic Dracones" is written in a cursive script. To the right of the dragon, there are several horizontal lines, possibly representing a scale or a decorative element. The skull is positioned on the left side of the frame, with the right side of the skull and the background being out of focus.
