Boys Varsity

[]-Purple
[]-White

Purple midfielder attempted to play a ball into the attacking third. The ball struck the referee and possession was changed. Play was stopped and a drop ball restart occurred.

Prior to restart I advised both teams the initial drop would be uncontested and that white would need to give space to purple. I further advised the ball would be in play upon the ball hitting the ground.

Purple took possession at the drop and sent the ball deep into the goal forcing a save from white keeper.

White coach was instantly upset and assumed that I had instructed purple to play the ball to the keeper, which I had not.

I explained to white coach the correct laws of the game and he still did not agree and suggested the correct restart should have been a drop to their keeper...(?) It was apparent that white coach did not know the laws of the game and accused me of having given purple a significant advantage.

A few minutes later, a foul was called on white for tripping/kicking and white coach began to yell again. I advised him that I had heard him chirping at me continuously for several minutes and that if it continued he would be cautioned. He did not speak to me for the rest of the evening.
