

INTRO to BRIAN COLKER

10/26/2025 (207 words)

Brian Colker is one of my very favorite people...

I met him after the orange fascist won the first time, 8 years ago....We were introduced by a good friend of mine from the Obama campaign. We've been Resistance friends and co-conspirators ever since.

Brian is FUN -- and he's a FEMINIST (He's married to my other favorite new friend, writer and activist Susan Sheu).

I been thinking about the best words to describe him and I think there are two words: INTEGRITY and LEADERSHIP.... His column and Facebook posts and rants are brilliant, even legendary — where he shares his rage at the destruction of democracy by our current regime.

He's a small business owner who actually incorporated a new anti-racist vision at his firm in 2020 after the George Floyd protests, in order to expand Diversity-Equity-Inclusion there – (I learned here - from Jon Davidson of the ACLU here at Making Waves -- to say the actual words these days, not just the initials DEI)

After this past election, he swung into organizing mode, and started a new men's group online....There's nobody else on earth I would TOTALLY trust to run a men's group – it's called DUDES for DEMOCRACY... and it's still going

I love this guy...Here's

BRIAN COLKER....
