K & R Rabbit Farms recommends that if you are buying a bunny for showing that you check with your leadership to see what they recommend you look for in a bunny. Although we are breeding with the intention to produce quality, showable bunnies, we will not state that any bunny in our herd is show quality or showable. The BUYER must make that determination before purchasing a bunny. We will make them available to you before purchase, at our location, for you to assess them for S.O.P., quality and to review the pedigrees. We also have a copy of the ARBA Standard of Perfection book pages for you to review and to learn about what is showable in the Holland Lop breed.
