HONOR YOUR ROOTS

Greenspace's first annual art auction was held in 1989, and commemorated with a poster celebrating two of Cambria's beloved native plants. Now, in our 30th year, the art auction has expanded to include more local artists than ever as well as exciting adventures across the globe. However, our mission has never changed, and as always, proceeds from the auction will continue to benefit Greenspace's efforts to protect and preserve the places you know and love.

GALAPAGOS EXPEDITION

In cooperation with Lindblad Expeditions, Greenspace will auction an amazing Galapagos adventure for two aboard the National Geographic Endeavor II which carries just 96 guests.

The Galapagos Islands straddle the equator 600 miles west of South America. They are the original UNESCO World Heritage locale and are known for their vast number of endemic species, including marine iguanas, giant tortoises, flightless cormorants, and a variety of finches. Charles Darwin's observations there on his second voyage on HMS Beagle contributed to the inception of his theory of evolution by means of natural selection.

Lindblad Expeditions is the gold standard for adventure travel and began offering expeditions in Galapagos 50 years ago. Because of their intimate size its ships are able to get up close to wildlife with kayaks and Zodiac landing craft. The atmosphere on board is casual and down to earth, with an emphasis on comfort and practicality. The expeditions are led by Lindblad's renowned team of naturalists, Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructors and an undersea specialist, whose knowledge and passion for the islands will amplify the once-in-a-lifetime experience.

Your 10 day/9 night expedition begins and ends in Guayaquil, Ecuador, which is accessible from the U.S. by major airlines. A popular extension of the Galapagos experience is to Machu Picchu and Cuzco, Peru for an additional cost. Trips are offered throughout the year and are subject to availability. Travel can be booked only within 60 days of travel. A category 1 cabin is offered for this adventure, but the winner can upgrade based on availability.

Airfare between Guayaquil and the U.S. is not included. Airfare between Guayaquil and Galapagos is separately charged by Lindblad.
