

AUTHOR'S NOTE AND LEGAL DISCLAIMER

1. Nature of the Work

This book is a work of fiction. All names, characters, organizations, places, events, incidents, subplots, operational incidents and dialogues are the product of the author's imagination. Any resemblance to actual persons, living or dead, actual events, historical incidents, or real entities is purely coincidental.

2. Personal Capacity and Separation of Views

The author is a retired civil servant who served with the Government of India. This work has been conceived, drafted, and published entirely in the author's private and personal capacity. The views, themes, narrative arcs, and opinions expressed in this book belong solely to the author as a private citizen and creative writer. They do not reflect, represent, or mirror the official policy, stance, opinions, or views of the Income Tax Department, the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT), the Ministry of Finance, the Government of India, or any State/Union Territory Government.

3. Use of Public Domain Information Only

While the narrative draws thematic inspiration from broad, globally discussed administrative and political issues in public domain, no part of this fiction novel relies upon, utilizes, or discloses any classified data, official files, internal communications, or non-public administrative information accessed during the author's official career. All structural concepts are derived exclusively from publicly available news reports, open-source media, and creative imagination.

4. No Intention to Malign

This work is intended solely for creative, literary, and entertainment purposes. It is not intended to defame, malign, undermine, or disparage any political party, statutory body, judicial institution, government office, public servant, or private citizen.