

Irish Society
of the National Capital Region

Author's Day

Tuesday March 14, 2023

11:00am - 2:00pm

Danny Doyle is a published author, archaeologist, Irish language speaker, and all round Renaissance man.

Danny Doyle (Donall O Dubhghaill) holds a Masters in Art Conservation, specializing in archaeological objects and the conservation of human remains. He has worked in various institutions, including the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, the iron-age fort of Cathair Conaill in County Clare, Ireland, and the pharonic cemetery in Abydos in Egypt. He is employed as a conservator with the Government of Canada.

Mr. Doyle is also a fluent speaker of Irish, and teaches the Irish language in the Ottawa high school system.

His peer-reviewed book, Mile Mile i gCéin: The Irish Language in Canada, was published by Borealis Press in 2015.

Author is Danny Doyle/donall o
duogaill

sponsored by

Irish Society of the National Capital Region (ISNCR)

hosted by

Irish Seniors Social Group of Ottawa (ISSGO)